A Merry and Bright Christmas to All!

Three-Year-Old Killed In Auto Mishap Saturday

A three-year-old Virginia youth was fatally injured in an automobile accident that occurred early Saturday morning along Rt. 48, according to Maryland State Police.

Eric R. Dahl, Virginia Beach, was pronounced dead on arrival following the 6:19 a.m. mishap that also resulted in two one-year-old youths being hospitalized at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Nicol Jones, Duluth, Minn., and Chantelle Dahl, Virginia Beach, have since been released.

Also treated for injuries and released at Memorial Hospital were Eugene R. Dahl, 27, operator of the vehicle and father of three-year-old Eric, and Jacqueline J. Dahl, 21, both of Virginia Beach; Donald McRae, 24, Amy Jones, 21, Teresa Jones, five, Jacob J. Jones, four, and Monica Jones, eight, all of Duluth.

The vehicle, a 1986 Dodge, reportedly traveled off the roadway at the 21-mile marker, west of Chestnut Ridge Road when the driver apparently fell asleep. The vehicle then struck a guardrail, re-entered the highway and struck an embankment on the other side of the road and overturned.

According to investigating officer Tfc. R. J. Resh, McHenry detachment, Eric Dahl was seated in the rear center of the vehicle when the accident occurred. None of the passengers were wearing safety equipment at the time, said Resh.

New Sonography Unit Now In Use At Garrett County Memorial

The purchase of an Acuson Computed Sonography Unit for the Radiology Department was recently announced by the administration of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. This unit replaces the ultrasound unit which has been in use since December, 1980.

This state-of-the-art system uses computer enhanced "sound waves" (or sonar) to produce detailed images of the internal organs and systems of the human body. In particular, sonography is helpful in visualizing babies while still in a mother's uterus. The computer enhanced image can be so de-

"GOD'S GREATEST GIFT TO MAN" was the title given to the live nativity presented recently by churches in the town of Kitzmiller. Churches participating included: Assembly of God, Catholic, United Methodist, Presbyterian and Full Gospel. The part of Mary was played by Brenda Paugh, Assembly of God, and Joseph was played by Eddie Friend, Assembly of God. Pastor Juris Reneslaci was the reader of the scripture. Other participants included: Wise Men — Junior Anderson, Full Gospel; Terry Garlitz, Assembly of God; and Glen Sharpless, Assembly of God; Shepherds — Ronnie Coleman, Full Gospel; Mark Paugh, Paul Shillingburg, Todd Hershberger and Terry Hershberger, all Assembly of God; Angels — Susan Paugh, Heather Evans and Diane Paugh, all Catholic; Brandy Burgess, Crystal Sharpless and Linda Garlitz, Assembly of God; Singers — Rev. Jeffrey Carney, Presbyterian; Rev. Reneslaci, Assembly of God; Father Martin Feild, Catholic, solo; Rev. Richard Ogden, United Methodist; Charley Paugh, Cindy Paugh, solo; and Nancy Rhine, all Full Gospel; Matthew Paugh, Dianne Paugh, Dianne Sharpless, Carol Paugh, Earlene Reneslaci and Muriel Mills, all Assembly of God. Those in charge of the set and lighting were Dick Paugh, Dale Hanlin, both Assembly of God; Bob Hanlin, United Methodist; and Junior Anderson, Full Gospel. Elmer Porter tended the public address system.

Delta Officials Guilty Of Dumping Waste; Plea Bargain Is Accepted

Two local companies, Delta Mining, Delta Coal Sales, along with the parent company Delta Industries and three of their corporate officers, David L. Jones, 44, of Grantsville; Robert P. Henry, 44, of Somerset, Pa.; and Douglas D. Kerin, 33, of Johnstown, Pa., have plea bargained with the state of Pennsylvania charges of dumping hazardous waste. Before Somerset County Common Pleas Court Judge Eugene E. Pike II the defendants pled guilty only to the dumping of residual waste including wood, scrap metal and debris, not to the charge of dumping hazardous waste.

Misdemeanor pleas resulted from the transporting of four trucks of residual waste, wood, scrap metal and debris from a Wampum, Pa., site to the Basehome mine in Somerset County on June 26, 1986.

The companies were fined a total of $72,500, and the individuals a total of $12,000. The companies were given 18 months in which to pay these fines and the individuals 23 months with unsupervised probation.

Jones is president of the Delta corporations and was chairman of Chemical Resources Re-

Two Local Families Left Homeless As Houses Are Leveled By Fire

Two Garrett County houses were destroyed by fire last week, leaving the occupants homeless this Christmas season.

The first blaze occurred last Wednesday night when Dorsey and Theresa Valentine awoke at about 11:30 p.m. to find their Accident area home filled with smoke. The couple and their three young children fled the house in their nightclothes and called for help at a neighbor's residence.

The log house, located along Everly Road off Bear Creek Road, was fully involved in flames when firefighters from Accident and Friendsville arrived on the scene.

Theresa Valentine was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Northern Rescue Squad, where she was treated and released for smoke inhalation. None of the other family members was injured.

Guy Carola, deputy fire marshal, is investigating the blaze and has not yet determined the cause, however it appears to be related to a coal furnace. Valentine told Carola he saw a fire above the furnace as the family was fleeing the structure.

The family lost all of their possessions. Carola said the house was owned by Paul Everly.

Firemen remained on the scene for about three hours and were then called back at about 6 a.m. Thursday when the remains rekindled.

The other house destroyed was owned by State Trooper Gary Berkebile, Accident, and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lipscomb.

Firemen from Grantsville and Bittering were called to the house, located along Fairview Mountain Road off New Germany Road south of Grantsville, at 3:42 p.m. and, once again, found the structure fully involved in flame upon their arrival.

According to Carola, no one was home at the time of the fire and the cause is still under investigation. A spokesman for the Bittering VFD stated that the major area of burn upon the arrival of firemen appeared to be around a wood stove.

Carola said Berkebile had insurance on the property. Damages were estimated at at least $45,000, as the entire structure and contents were destroyed.

Also responding to the scene was the Northern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported.

Firefighters remained on the scene until about 6 p.m. Oakland firefighters were called to a house on Poplar and Sixth Street at about 8:40 p.m. Sunday when an overheated wood stove flue set fire to the wall. The house is owned by the Garrett County Community Action.

NEW ULTRASOUND UNIT AT GCMH — A major addition to the Radiology Department of Garrett County Memorial Hospital is this Acuson Computed Sonography unit, a state-of-the-art piece of equipment which allows physicians to take a look inside the body without the use of x-rays. The hospital has had sonography equipment for several years; however, the former unit was obsolete and incapable of giving physicians the clear, concise images produced by the Acuson. Above, Joseph Dever, ultrasound sonographer, and Sue Savage, registered diagnostic medical sonographer, complete a test on an unidentified patient. Sonography utilizes harmless sound waves, or sonar, to produce the images. The new equipment was purchased in part by donations from members of the GCMH Medical Staff.

Needs Assessment Advisory Group Begins Study

The Garrett County Needs Assessment Advisory Committee kicked off what is expected to be a year-long study of county schools, Tuesday, December 8. The advisory committee was established by the Garrett County Board of Education to assess both present and future educational needs of Garrett County.

Chaired by Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent in curriculum and instruction, the committee is composed of approximately twenty educators, parents, and public officials including Garrett County Commissioner Elwood Groves.

William Goldsborough, president of the Garrett County Board of Education, and Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of Garrett County schools, began the meeting by reviewing the charge to the group. Specifically, the charge focuses on the student at both the elementary and middle school level. The two high schools will be exempted from the study because they are to be thoroughly studied as a result of the Middle States' evaluation process currently underway.

The task of the group will be to study both "what is" currently being done to meet student needs and "what ought to be" done to meet future needs. The outcomes envisioned will most probably take the form of recommendations to the Board of Education for their future consideration.

In that this was the initial meeting of the task force, Ringer spent a major part of the session organizing the group as well as discussing how to best collect and assemble data in terms of describing the present status of each of the eleven elementary and two middle schools. The manner in which the remainder of the study is to be completed will be left to the advisory committee.

It is anticipated that the work of the committee will involve the entire Garrett County community and, as a result, Ringer indicated that the committee is interested in meeting with various groups throughout the county. In addition, Ringer indicated that the committee plans to periodically report its progress to the Board of Education as well as to the media.

Enterprise Zone Designation Given To Area Surrounding Industrial Park

Garrett County now has an enterprise zone, according to a press secretary for Governor William Donald Schaefer.

The enterprise zone is located east of Oakland in Southern Garrett County in the area surrounding the Southern Garrett Industrial Park and Housch and Lomb, Inc.

The local Development Corporation sought that designation some months ago from the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development. Businesses within the zone will now qualify for property and income tax credits, access to state loan guarantees and employment training.

DEED is empowered to designate enterprise zones twice each year.

The state department also granted expansion to Cumberland-Allegany County's enterprise zone by 575 acres. They declined to expand, by eight acres, the 110-acre Frostburg zone because state law prohibits the department from establishing more than one zone in the same county.

during a six-month period. Frostburg officials will be encouraged to resubmit their request next April.

Enterprise zone legislation was passed by the 1982 General Assembly and 11 zones have been established since then.

DEED Secretary Randall Evans said of the designations, "We are confident that these two enterprise zone designations will add to the already attractive qualities of these areas, among which are a well-trained, productive workforce, existing infrastructure and cooperative local governments."

The designation of the enterprise zones was made by Secretary Evans following recommendations from DEED's Enterprise Zone Advisory Committee, made up of government officials and the private business sector.

Governor Schaefer commented, "Both local jurisdictions should be praised for their initiative in proposing these quality sites. The state is proud to be a partner in this endeavor."

Funds Being Accepted To Help Local Victim Of Hodgkin's Disease

A 25-year old Garrett County resident, Jim McBee, is a victim of Hodgkin's disease. Hodgkin's disease is a cancer of the lymph glands which occurs twice as often in adult males as females. Treatment includes chemotherapy and/or radiation. McBee received two series of chemotherapy and radiation therapy to treat the disease, the combination of which damaged his bone marrow to the extent that his body is no longer able to manufacture blood.

McBee, the son of Pat and Leo McBee of Crellin, has suffered from Hodgkin's disease for about four years and is scheduled to undergo a bone marrow transplant at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, Wash.

McBee has been making weekly trips to Bethesda's National Institute of Health for platelets and blood for approximately one year. The bone marrow transplant has been arranged by the institute. McBee and his wife, Tarita, are now in Seattle and must remain there for approximately four months.

A fund drive to assist McBee and his wife with living expenses and medical costs while in Seattle has been organized by Pastor Charles E. Teets and The Crellin United Brethren Church, where the family are members. The amount raised by the members, as of last Sunday, is $6,135. In addition, $4,000 has been donated by The Dennett Road School Social Committee, The Crellin Assembly of God, and other Garrett County Schools and individuals. Funds are still needed and a plea is out to civic groups, businesses and

"Lighthouse" Program Initiates Residential Rehabilitation Plan

The "Lighthouse" Community Rehabilitation Program, a component of the Garrett County Mental Health, Community Rehabilitation and Addictions Service of the Health Department, has announced the beginning of a six-bed residential rehabilitation program.

The new residential program will provide services for two people in each of three different apartment living units in Oakland and Mountain Lake Park.

The three apartments will be leased by the Health Department with reimbursement by the residents. Residents will, as much as possible, participate in looking for and choosing the location and apartment in which they will live.

Currently, the Western Maryland region is providing supportive apartment living situations for 136 people (Allegheny, Washington and Frederick counties).

"Garrett County is now beginning this program here specifically to provide persons from our area with this type of support," said Brenda Nischan, director.

Ms. Nischan said residential rehabilitation services include the development of a structured living situation that provides supervision and daily living skills training to people with ongoing emotional or mental difficulties. The program is designed to maximize an individual's ability to live independently in his or her community, she said.

"Nationally, it is found that many people do not need the long-term residential treatment provided by psychiatric hospitalizations. Individuals with mental illness are able to remain in their home communities with the help of a full range of structured activities and living situations. Individuals need various degrees and kinds of resources and support in order to develop and grow physically, intellectually and emotionally in their living, learning and working environments," Nischan said.

Individuals receive a functional assessment prior to their admission to the program. This comprehensive assessment identifies the person's independent living skill strengths and needs.

Results of the functional assessment are presented to the Garrett County Residential Review Committee, along with pertinent referral information. The committee decides the appropriate placement and degree of services required by the person. A person may require as little as one hour per week of contact by residential staff, or as much as 26 to 40 hours per week. "Again, the amount of services rendered depends on the person's needs and recommendations of the committee," Ms. Nischan said.

Residential staff will provide the following services to residents both in the home and in the community: functional assessment, rehabilitation planning and implementation, case management, crisis intervention, and task and skills training, with primary focus on:

A. Personal management (self-care), including: basic self-care, hygiene, dressing, grooming, personal health care, and safety.

B. Home management, including: clothing care, household cleaning, maintenance, food shopping and food preparation.

C. Community relations skills, including: money management, time management, use of telephone, initiating community activities, and use of community resources.

The staff will also provide community integrated social and recreation activities, plus transportation to and from community activities and resources.

For more information about the program, persons may write to "Lighthouse", 253 North Fourth Street, Oakland, MD 21550 or call Ms. Nischan at (301) 334-7126.

Several Injuries Reported In Area Vehicle Accidents

Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment, this past week investigated several accidents, one of which involved an Accident couple who were injured in a two-vehicle accident Friday evening.

Edward Margroff, 42, and Linda Margroff, 39, were taken by Northern Rescue Squad to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released following the 5:35 p.m. accident that occurred on Rt. 219 in Accident.

The Margroff vehicle was reportedly stopped in the southbound lane of Rt. 219 waiting to make a left-hand turn when it was struck in the rear by a pickup, also southbound, operated by Michael Doerr, 20, also of Accident.

Doerr and his passenger, Timothy Leasher, Grantsville, were reportedly not injured. Doerr was charged by Tfc. L. Rosage with failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

Thurman W. Whitacre, 52, Mtn. Lake Park, and Ronald E. Edwards, 20, Swanton, were both taken to Garrett Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad where they were treated for injuries and released following an accident Friday night.

Whitacre was the passenger in a 1970 Ford 250, operated by Melvin C. Ervin, 50, Kitzmiller, who was stopped at the intersection of Rts. 135 and 495 attempting to make a left-hand turn onto Rt. 135.

According to police reports, Ervin pulled his vehicle into the path of a 1986 Dodge Power Ram, operated by Edwards, traveling eastbound on Rt. 135. Edwards reportedly tried to avoid a collision by steering to the left. His vehicle then struck a guardrail. Ervin was reportedly not injured.

Investigating officer, Tfc. G.R. Chaney, charged Ervin with driving while intoxicated, consuming an alcoholic beverage while operating a motor vehicle, and failure to stop at a through highway entrance and yield the right of way.

Juanita Kitzmiller, 38, Mt. Storm, W.Va., was treated for injuries and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital after the van she was operating overturned near Gorman last Thursday.

According to police reports, Kitzmiller was southbound on Rt. 560 at 4:40 p.m. when she lost control of the van on the snow-covered highway. The vehicle then spun off the roadway, striking a ditch and overturning. Tfc. C.R. Smith investigated.

A Cumberland man was injured Monday in a two-vehicle accident and taken by Tri-Towns Rescue Squad to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where he was treated and released.

Randy S. Bishop, 19, was operating a 1982 Datsun truck eastbound on Rt. 135, west of Bloomington, when his vehicle struck the left rear of a 1978 Chevrolet C-65, operated by Steven W. McKenzie, 23, Grantsville, who was also traveling eastbound.

The accident occurred when Bishop failed to observe McKenzie, who was traveling at a slow rate of speed in front of him. After colliding with the McKenzie vehicle, the Bishop vehicle then traveled across the center line, striking an embankment on the left side of the road.

The Bishop vehicle then re-entered the roadway and traveled across the center line again, striking a guardrail on the opposite side of the road. He was charged with negligent driving by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger.

No injuries were reported when a tractor-trailer parked at the Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop drifted from its parking space and struck three unattended parked vehicles last Thursday morning.

While the three vehicles sustained heavy damages, the tractor-trailer suffered only minor damage. The tractor-trailer is owned by Warren Transport, Waterloo, Iowa.

According to investigating officer, Tfc. L. Rosage, the truck first struck a small pickup truck, which was pushed into a full-size pickup truck which was, in turn, pushed into a compact car. A total estimate of damages has not yet been made.

Correction Noted

It was incorrectly reported in a headline in last week's issue of The Republican that a Finzel man pleaded guilty to a charge of drug manufacturing during Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings held recently.

Elmer J. Yutzy, 32, was charged with the drug manufacturing charge but pleaded guilty to a second charge of drug (marijuana) possession. Judge Fred A. Thayer then ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The Republican regrets the error.

James M. Reed New Head Of GCMH Radiology

Larry M. Beck, president of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, recently announced the appointment of James Michael Reed as director of Radiology Services at the hospital.

Reed is a graduate of West Virginia University Hospital School of Radiology Technology. He most recently held the position of technical director of Radiology, Montgomery General Hospital, Montgomery, W. Va.

A native of Fairmont, Reed, his wife, Patricia, and two children, Jason, 10, and Jeremy, 7, currently reside in McHenry.

Commenting on his new position, Reed stated, "I am glad to have been appointed to the position of director of Radiology at GCMH. I am looking forward to working with the Hospital Administrative staff, Radiology staff, and other hospital personnel to improve and expand the Radiology Department. Our goal will be to provide our physicians and their patients with state-of-the-art imaging services."

When asked about his selection of Reed for the position, Beck said, "We are very pleased to have Mr. Reed on board. His significant managerial experience as director of radiology in situations comparable to our hospital will be a definite asset."

Applications For Additional Boat Dockage On DCL Filed By Penelec

Pennsylvania Electric Company (Penelec) has submitted a number of applications to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) for additional boat dockage on Deep Creek Lake. Penelec owns the lake and buffer strip surrounding the lake, but must work in cooperation with, and with permission from, FERC, the federal agency which oversees the lake since it is a hydroelectric generating facility.

Eric Schwaab, Deep Creek Lake manager, explains that the state of Maryland has a lease with Penelec and therefore regulates dockage permits. The state, however, may only grant permits for docks with up to 10 slips. Permits asking for more than 10 slips in addition to those already in existence, if over 10, must first apply to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The Department then sends the permit applications to Penelec, who must then send them on to FERC.

One of the most recent applications by Penelec was made on behalf of the Silver Tree Inn and Alpine Village. The application requests the number of boat slips at Alpine Village be expanded from 15 to 25, while the request was made that Silver Tree's boat slips be increased from 10 to 38.

Another application represents a request for Lakeforest Estates. The application seeks the issuance of dock permits to include four single-family three-slip docks, one common dock facility to hold up to six boats, and one common dock facility to hold up to five boats.

A period of time for which to comment on the applications is given to any persons wishing to express their comments on the proposed action. The comment deadline for both the above applications is January 22, 1988.

Another application in the process of being submitted to FERC by Penelec is for a small expansion at Millhouse Manor, to increase common dock slips from 14 to 18.

Penelec has instituted other applications for additional or new dockage on the lake, five of which have been approved and one pending. The five approvals have been for Arrowhead, Blakeslee, Cedarbrook, Sandybeach, and Penn Cove. Still pending because of significant negative comments which required FERC to ask for additional information is an application in behalf of Villages of Wisp.

An application for additional dockage space at Glenfield has also been sent to FERC, but Penelec has not been notified of approval as yet, said Schwaab.

Antlerless Deer Season Count Reported At 918

The official count in Garrett County of antlerless deer taken during the two-day season was 918, according to Al Bourgeois of the Department of Natural Resources. "I don't feel it was an over harvest," Bourgeois said, explaining that there were 3,500 doe licenses issued in the county — 2,000 in zone 2 and 1,500 in zone 1.

The unofficial count for the rest of Western Maryland is: Allegany County, 641; Washington County, 504; and Frederick County, 285.

The only hunting accident reported in the four western counties of Maryland during the recent antlerless hunt involved a 75-year-old man hunting on the Savage River State Forest.

Natural Resources Police spokesmen said that on December 11 the man was loading his rifle with the safety off when the firearm discharged and the bullet struck him in the left foot. He was treated and released at an area hospital, authorities said.

Muzzleloader season, which began December 19, will continue through December 26. Hunters who killed a deer during either rifle season (buck or antlerless) may still hunt during muzzleloader season and can take a deer of either sex without a doe permit, says Bourgeois. Archery season is also in session.

Task Force Named, Groves To Serve DNR's Non-Tidal Wetlands Policy

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources recently formed a task force to define a policy for the non-tidal wetlands of the state. Garrett County Commissioner Elwood Groves II has been appointed as the county's representative to serve on that task force.

John E. Nelson, Garrett County Planning and Zoning director, has been named alternate member.

The group consists of environmentalists, preservationists, private-sector groups and county officials. "The goal in selecting representatives from various factions was to get a good cross-section of input from across the state," said Groves last week after the initial meeting of the task force.

DNR officials defined non-tidal wetlands, "(they) are valuable areas for plant, fish and wildlife habitat, perform erosion, sediment and pollution control functions that are vital to the maintenance of the quality and productivity of adjacent and downstream waters, and provide flood control, cultural, aesthetic and recreational benefits."

"They are sensitive ecosystems occupying small portions of our landscape where standing water, periodic ponding, flooding or saturated soil conditions give rise to plant forms particularly adapted to this environment. Non-tidal wetlands include areas such as: swamps, freshwater marshes, bogs, parts of floodplains and some bottomland forests. These areas are often hazardous building sites due to flooding, inadequate soil support and limitations for on-site domestic waste disposal."

DNR noted that the most recent study of wetland losses was compiled by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in the fall of 1986 and covered the years from 1955 through 1978.

That study showed that Maryland has nearly 440,000 acres of wetland, representing approximately six percent of the state's land area.

That same study indicated that some 24,000 acres of the state's coastal and inland vegetated wetlands disappeared, which calculated to a five percent loss or an annual rate of 1,000 acres.

The task force will meet again January 29, 1988.

NEW YEAR WISH

Perhaps a bit wiser,
A bit kinder, too,
A little bit braver,
A heart that's more true,
A touch of believing
I've not known before,
In joys I'm receiving
A little bit more.

A little more anxious
To reach out my hand,
Despite hurt or problems
To still understand,
Accepting the heartache
That life often brings,
A little more beauty
In life's simple things.

A prayer when I'm weary
As onward I trod,
A little more trusting,
Believing in God,
'Tis this I would wish for Within moments dear,
Not a lot — just a little
This wondrous new year.

Same Old Stuff . . .

"Although details were sketchy at press time, there has been unofficial word out of the town of Bethlehem that a special child is about to be born in that city.

"Informed sources report that a young handmaiden arrived in that city with a man named Joseph and is expected to give birth to a child within the next few days. Exact information about their current whereabouts is not known, however some say that they are lodged in a stable behind an inn because there were no vacancies at the inn when they arrived.

"Sources claim that the child being carried by the young woman is the long-awaited Messiah, whose arrival has been prophesied by the Israelites for centuries. There have been numerous previous reports of the birth of such a child, all of which have apparently proven false. However, sources say there is a different feeling in the air this time, and that this baby just might be the real Messiah, the savior of mankind.

"Further details will be published as they are made available."

Further details of the above incident were indeed published and it was the greatest, most wonderful news of all time, with the exception of the account of the resurrection from death of this same child 33 years later.

One of our finest gifts is the written and published word, which allows us to pass on from generation to generation such vital information about events of the past. So much of our day to day news is bad news, which distresses and depresses us. But the goodness of the news of the Christmas season is so refreshing and uplifting, because we know that, no matter how ugly and tragic life can be, nothing can separate us from the unconditional love and forgiveness of this holy child.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: To the anonymous letter writer who complained that there are too many members of the Thayer family who have positions in the local judicial system, we wish to inform you that Lisa Thayer, the recently-appointed assistant state's attorney, is no relation to Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer. The only Thayers around the Thayer dinner table are Judge Thayer and his wife.

To the Editor:
I read the letter in The Republican about school busing for the Hamilton children. It makes me very angry to hear of all things. Why not run that bus 1/4 of a mile farther, before something happens?

It makes my blood boil to hear a statement like that. We are trying to save the children, not lose them. Why lock the barn door after the horse is stolen? There are good places at the Hamilton farm for that bus to turn around. I live close by and I know, as I have been living in the same place since 1946. My own children had to walk to Keyser's Ridge with other children, until we got a bus in here.

We want some action and we want it for all the children, not just some. That bus can go a little farther for those children's safety. One quarter mile won't break the school board, I am sure.

Sincerely,
Bertha Oester

To the Editor:
In 1985, we inquired at the Board of Education to have a bus stop at our driveway. No problem! Two years later, there's a problem.

We received a letter stating a proposed bus route change, only affecting two stops, if we opposed this we were to write and explain why. We did! (The bus driver also opposed it). Two days later it was changed anyway.

We tried to appeal in person. Mr. Sines told us he tells the bus driver where to stop. (policy: 1/4 mile). The new stops, aren't even 3/10 of a mile apart. If the stop would have been left at our driveway, it's exactly 1/4 mile. Mr. Sines changed the subject to the different hours NHS students were having to catch a bus. Sorry, that's not my concern.

We tried describing the hazardous winter roadways out here and that the kids had no place to walk to get to and from the new bus stop. Mr. Sines assured us he'd already viewed the area and could see no problems. He said, "There's a grassy area they can walk to and from the bus." Sure there is, if the kids cross the road and walk with their backs to oncoming traffic. Is that good safety?

Mr. Sines okayed our bus stop from November to March for two more years. I guess the road won't be as dangerous then I can't figure out the logic of that, but what do we know, we're just concerned parents, not BOE employees. If the bus can stop five months, why not 10 months?

Getting to the point, we tried it their way but just didn't feel it was safe enough. So we bus our kids to and from school almost every day. We feel sure there are others who need to speak up, if for nothing else, for their children. It took us five months to do it, but something has to be done. I hope and pray Mr. Sines will put safety first before making future decisions.

Sincerely,
Mike & Debbie Glatfelter
Route 1, Oakland

To the Editor:
It is not enough that the requests of parents are ignored, and that the safety of school children is completely disregarded.

It is not enough that one of our most experienced and respected bus drivers is suspended when he shows a little compassion for a child placed in his care.

Now, the same people who brought disaster to Northern High School and called it "renovation" are ready to inflict catastrophe on Southern High, and send us a bill for 5 1/2 million bucks.

If you really want a job, drive out to Northern High School and see for yourself what your tax dollars have wrought.

Anybody out there counted to five million lately? Let's see . . . one, two, three.

Jack M. Caruthers
Grantsville

To the Editor:
I have seen the future of America and what its history will be within 10 years.

1. A total collapse of the financial, political, and religious systems of America.

2. Drought and famine greater than can be seen in Ethiopia today.

3. Limited nuclear war resulting in the deaths of 70 million people.

4. America will have been reduced to a third-rate power; having little or no influence on the world community.

5. The only bright spot will be a group of believers who rise out of the ashes of this age, and who truly know the Lord as their Savior, will come to the front, showing love, and compassion to this lost and dying world. They will give life in the place of death. The life they give will be Eternal Life through Faith in Jesus Christ.

Sincerely,
Jack Nichols Jr.
Mt. Lake Park

To the Editor:
Is there a relationship between the insensitivity that the American people feel towards the death of 20 million unborn children, and the insensitivity they feel towards the death of more than one million innocent Afghan citizens at the hands of the Soviet Union? Does legalized abortion work in favor of the forces of tyranny, by making the people of our nation insensitive to the crimes of tyranny?

What is the similarity between the death of one million faceless Afghans and the death of 20 million faceless babies? They were once both alive. They were both killed for convenience sake. They are now equally faceless. They are now equally dead. And they are now equally abandoned by the

OUTLOOK on Aging

BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN THE GENERATIONS

Imagine, if you will, a group of senior citizens and a group of college students coming together on Saturday mornings for a variety of recreational and educational activities — a situation where each older person is matched with a younger person for an ongoing one-to-one relationship. This is actually occurring in a program started by Dr. Dan Levitan at the University of Maryland, College Park, called the Adults Health and Development Program, a program which encourages people from different generations to learn from each other.

All over Maryland, as well as all over the country and the world, young people and older people are involved in active relationships which allow them to grow as individuals, to learn from each other, and to work towards common goals. Often these relationships are formed within a family context, especially between grandparents and grandchildren. Family relationships between the generations allow the people involved to enrich each other's lives. Younger people and older people can learn from each other by virtue of the fact that, coming from different generations, they each have different experiences they can share.

For those people who do not have grandchildren or grandparents but want to know more people from another generation, there are programs all over the state where people can get involved with others from different generations for a variety of activities. Depending on an individual's interests and available time, there are many programs to choose from. These programs vary according to the individual community.

There are several intergenerational programs that operate locally. Most schools, for instance, welcome senior volunteers who can contribute a variety of services as tutoring, providing supervision for children in after-school programs, and providing attention for children with special needs. Contact your local school system for more information about becoming a school volunteer.

Young people can get involved to enrich the lives of older people by visiting lonely nursing home residents. This program is called Life Support or Life Enrichment and it recruits volunteers to visit in nursing homes. Many of these local programs are now recruiting students from local schools, as well as from the community at large. These programs are operated through local Offices on Aging (listed on page 2 of the "Community Services" section of each telephone book).

Many other programs provide similar opportunities. These may be conducted through public libraries, senior centers, adult day care centers, and community centers.

Some programs serve to give help and guidance to young people by older people, or provide company to older people by younger people. Other programs are more social in intent and are fun for all involved. These include intergenerational choruses, a program called Artful Grandparenting through the Baltimore Museum of Art, and the Ages on Stages Intergenerational Theater Troupe through the Baltimore City Commission on Aging and Retirement Education. In Montgomery County, there is a fairly new program called "Closing the Gap" which involves seniors from local senior centers in discussion groups with classes from area high schools. These types of programs allow young people and older people to gain an understanding of each other's needs and interests through shared experiences.

It is encouraging to see so many programs flourishing around the state where people are bridging the so-called "generation gap" to enrich the lives of others. Many older people have a wealth of expertise and experience they are eager to share, and there are young people who welcome the opportunity to have an older person as a friend and teacher. "Our communities are better places in which to live when people of all ages work and grow together," says Governor Schaefer. "We need to encourage these interrelationships as much as possible."

To focus on programs which attempt to bridge the gap between the generations, the Maryland Office on Aging, in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Education, the Maryland Office for Children and Youth, and Interages, the Montgomery County Intergenerational Resource Center, is planning a state-wide conference entitled "YOUNG AND OLD GROWING TOGETHER: An Intergenerational Conference". The conference will be held on December 15, 1987 at the Sheraton Inner Harbor Hotel in Baltimore. This conference will allow intergenerational programs already in place in communities around the state to "show and tell" what they are doing, how they got started, how others can build upon their experiences, and how individuals can get involved. The conference will highlight significant existing intergenerational programs in the areas of education, employment, health and wellness, and cultural and social enrichment. It will also identify resources for starting an intergenerational activity.

It was also stated that this was not an intentional act on the part of the individuals and that no environmental damage had been done. According to Delta's attorney, William Kimmel, state officials present at the hearing concurred with this opinion.

Our Turn

by Pam Ashby

Well, here it is — the eve of Christmas Eve and 75 percent of my Christmas shopping is incomplete. The one batch of cookies I baked have been scarfed up by the family. I don't have enough wrapping paper. The tree we finally erected has been sabotaged by the cat a dozen times. My Christmas cards should reach their final destinations by January. The kitchen floor hasn't been scrubbed and waxed and the bathrooms are threatening to leave home if I don't give them a little more care. But am I worried? You bet I am!

For you see, when the aforementioned tasks aren't completed it reflects badly on you know who and you know who has a guilt complex as big as the sea. I just don't handle well the funny looks I get from kids after they have snooped in the closets and under the beds and fail to see piles of gifts. I cringe when I set a plate of Oreos in front of guests who have stopped by and "can't wait to taste those yummy cherry nut drops and jumbo date cookies."

My face turns red as I hand a hurriedly-purchased gift, wrapped in newspaper with a facial tissue bow, to a cherished friend. I'm mortified when a friend looks at my tree and says, "There's something to be said for abstract art." I don't rest easily when I admire the lovely Christmas cards that have been sent to me, knowing that mine will probably arrive with the after-Christmas bills. And when I stammer excuses for the disarray of my house, people tend to look at me and think, "What does she do in her spare time?" It only takes a few minutes to scrub the floor and clean the bathrooms!"

With all that in mind, I have decided to feel good about the season, believe it or not. After all, the church Christmas pageant depicting the nativity was a smash hit. The Choral Society presented lovely music for the holidays. Many food items, clothing and toys were collected by various caring "Santas" and mom got out of the hospital before Christmas. And I can rest easily knowing that all those things were accomplished in the name of Christ, whose birth we Christians are supposed to be celebrating. Any of those other things are extras. Maybe, just maybe, I . . . we . . . did a few things this Christmas to please Christ. Now I can say "Merry Christmas" and really mean it.

The First Christmas Tree

The first Christmas tree in America was said to have been brought into custom by a young 26-year old German immigrant, August Imgard, at Wooster, Ohio.

Young Imgard missed the festivity that marked the day in his homeland so he decided to have a Bavarian Christmas. But it wasn't just for himself that he wanted a special Christmas; it was also for his nephew and niece that he was thinking. He wanted to make it a Christmas they wouldn't forget.

A spruce tree was cut from the woods and a twinkly tin star was obtained from the village tin-smith. Paper decorations were made by the family.

The tree was admired by the townsfolk and word spread far and wide about the beautiful tree in Wooster, Ohio.

August Imgard's tomb on Madison Hill will no doubt be honored this Christmas as in previous years by a lighted tree at his door as a tribute to the man who brought this symbol of love, joy and peace to America.

What Causes Heartburn? What Can I Do About It?

by Thomas G. Johnson, M.D., FAAP

The most common cause of heartburn is "gastroesophageal reflux" — the backup of stomach content into the lower esophagus, where gastric acids produce a burning sensation and discomfort. This can occur when there's too much pressure in your stomach — or sometimes a loosening of the muscle band (sphincter) separating the esophagus from the stomach — during the digestive process.

Nearly everyone experiences heartburn once in a while, so there's usually no need to be concerned. Repeated refluxes can, however, lead to injury of the esophageal lining. If you frequently have heartburn, the following steps can prevent or alleviate it:

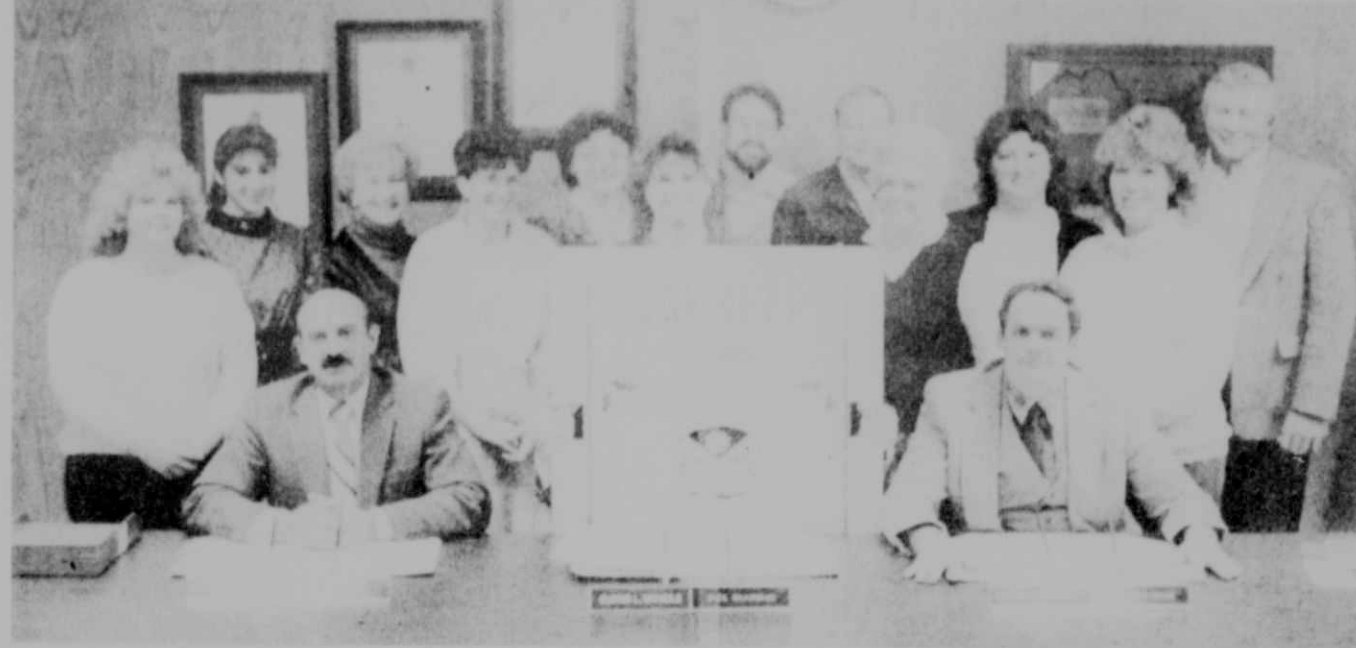

- Most obvious step: don't overeat.
- Avoid tight clothing, especially waist pinching belts.
- Try to avoid constipation, since straining at stool can increase abdominal pressure. Increasing your fluid and fiber intake will help.
- Don't eat just before retiring, or lie down for a nap right after a meal. It helps to stay upright for at least several hours after eating.
- Put the force of gravity to work — don't sleep flat. Try elevating the head of your bed by at least six inches. (Wood blocks or a couple of fat phone books under the bed frame legs should do the trick.) Dr. Barbara Bachman of the Mayo Clinic and Foundation thinks this "may be the single most important mechanical alteration" heartburn sufferers can make.
- Limit your fat intake, since fat slows the emptying of the stomach.
- If you're prone to heartburn or have eaten a heavy meal, avoid chocolate, alcohol, peppermint and spearmint. Highly flavored after dinner liqueurs, often thought of as aids to digestion, may make you feel worse. Caffeine may be an irritant, as may tomatoes and citrus fruits and juices.
- Birth control pills, antihistamines (often found in over the counter cold remedies), Valium and other drugs can promote heartburn. If you are taking prescription drugs, ask your doctor if they might be the cause of your heartburn.
- I don't want to sound repetitious, but don't smoke. Nicotine adversely affects the tone of your esophageal sphincter and thus can contribute directly to heartburn.

If discomfort continues or recurs frequently, see your doctor.

New Law To Affect Food Service Facilities As Of January 1, 1988

The Environmental Health Services of the Garrett County Health Department will begin implementation of a new food law on January 1, 1988. This new law, governing food service facilities and requiring an annual license in order to operate, was enacted by the 1987 Maryland General Assembly. Previously, food service facilities operated on a one-time can't compensate for poor communication. Before doing Christmas shopping it might be well to have a family discussion with each member of the family feeling free to express his feelings about gifts. The age-old idea of each family member making a list of what he'd like can simplify shopping. For holiday happiness do a bit of pondering before giving.

permitting system. As provided by law, a fee schedule will be instituted as follows: regular food service permit, $25; temporary food service permit (14 days or less per year), $10; bake sale, no fee.

Applications for the annual permits will be mailed to the food service facilities in Garrett County during January 1988. The license may be issued upon receipt of the completed application and payment of the fee. Regulations governing licensed facilities are similar to those used in the past. There will be no change in the frequency or method of the semi-annual inspections. Plans must be submitted for review before construction or remodeling begins on food service establishments.

The new law has the provision that excluded organizations need not have a license to operate a food establishment. An excluded organization is a volunteer fire company or a bona-fide nonprofit, fraternal, civil, war veterans', religious, or charitable organization or corporation which does not serve food to the public more often than four days per week. Separate regulations are being developed for these facilities that will establish minimum standards to ensure food integrity and safety, preserve public health, and control food-borne illnesses. Excluded organizations may choose to continue under the licensed food service program. There will be no fee if the operation is performed by a governmental agency or by an excluded organization.

With the cooperation of the food service facilities, the Garrett County Health Department hopes to achieve a smooth transition to the new program. Tina L. Buckel, sanitarian, is available to answer questions on this and other food service related matter. Environmental Health Services may be reached by calling 334-8980, 895-3188 or 359-9086.

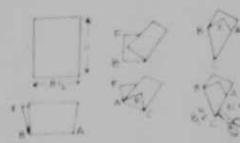

Pretty Packages

Much of the appeal of Christmas gifts is how they are wrapped. And the surprise comes with the fun of unwrapping the gifts. Besides the many beautiful types of wrapping we can buy in the stores, you can be original by wrapping gifts in fabric and wallpaper. Foils with a second wrap of cellophane lace wrap from the florist shop makes an exquisite wrapping.

You can create beautiful wrappings by adding fruit clusters, artificial flowers, jewels, holly, seals, etc.

Five-Pointed Star

It's not too hard to fold and cut a 6-pointed star but a 5-pointed one isn't quite as simple. Here's an easy way to make a 5-pointed star:

1. Fold a 11" x 8 1/2" piece of paper in half so that it's 5 1/2" x 4 1/4".
2. Now fold corner A to the middle of side BF.
3. Fold the "B" tip over line "AC".
4. Bring the "A" point (which is now at the left) to the right edge of the paper and fold.
5. Measure 8.5 cm from the bottom point along the left-hand side of the paper and mark it as point "E". Measure 4 cm from the bottom point along the right-hand side of the paper and mark it as point "D". Cut along the line from "D" to "E".

You made it—a 5-pointed star!

Christmas In Birdland

Wish the birds a merry Christmas this year. Decorate a living tree with strings of popcorn, apples, nuts, and suet. And as they receive, they will give a trill of "Thank you" not only in the cold winter, but songs of happiness in the spring, summer and fall. Save a bird this Christmas!

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Army Staff Sgt. Robert L. Glass, son of Olive R. Glass, Route 4, Deer Park, has arrived for duty with the 263rd Maintenance Company, West Germany.

Glass, a food service specialist, is a 1973 graduate of Southern High School.

True Gifts

Give a gift of courage to the discouraged, a gift of loyalty to those who depend on us. Give a gift of understanding to someone whose opinions may not be just like ours, to a person who's in trouble and needs our help, or to a person who's "blown it" for sure and needs an understanding hand rather than a pounding cure. These gifts will be true gifts from the heart.

Gift Pondering

In all innocence a husband gives a middle-aged wife a crockpot and the wife may think, "That's how he thinks of me—just a cook or maid! Why didn't he give me a lacy nightgown?" Or a beau's lady friend has been wanting him to get that fashionable, bulky turtle-neck sweater which he detests—so, this year, there it is under the tree.

Then there is the couple who uses Christmas gifts as ego boosters. Each year that goes by brings a more expensive gift for the other. They go on spending in a self-centered way and if either breaks the pattern the other will feel unloved.

All the budgets in the world

Well seasoned wishes for a holiday filled with joy. It has been our great privilege to know and serve you.

Christmas Eve Services Slated At St. Mark's

St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will hold its annual Christmas Eve worship services Thursday, the first being at 8 p.m. and the second at 11 p.m.

Presenting a vocal solo at the 8 p.m. service will be Marcette Danner.

At the later service, special music will include a solo by Kathryn Sincell, who will sing "I Wonder as I Wander," a trio presentation by Tom and Susan Peterson and Lowell Leitzel, and three Bach Chorales by St. Mark's choir.

Rev. Ray Ursin, pastor, invites all to these services.

Pa. Man Charged In Hit And Run Mishap Tuesday

A Bedford Pa. man was arrested Wednesday by Maryland State Police after he reportedly was involved in a hit and run accident Tuesday morning at 12:50.

James R. Way was traveling westbound on Rt. 39, east of Dilly Road, when he stated that he fell asleep and his vehicle traveled across the roadway, striking a utility pole on the left side. When Tfc. David W. Broadwater responded to the scene, it was discovered that the vehicle was abandoned.

According to police reports, Way came to the detachment at 10 o'clock the following morning to recover his vehicle and was charged by Tpr. J.K. Moore with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident, speeding and failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Way stated that he awoke after the collision and was given a ride by an unidentified driver to Oakland.

FRIENDSVILLE NEWS

Mercy Chapel Service
A Christmas service will be held at Mercy Chapel at Mill Run on Thursday evening, December 24, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Asher Glade Brethren
The prayer breakfast set for Saturday, December 26, at 8 a.m. for the Brethren congregation has been cancelled because of the Christmas holiday. They young adults of the church will have a covered dish get-together Christmas dinner at the home of Rick and Karen Meyers at 5 p.m. A gift exchange will be held. Christmas caroling after the dinner is planned.

Methodist News
Thursday December 24 at 7 p.m. the young people of Selbysport United Methodist Church will present a play, "Trimming the Christmas Tree." Following the play, Christmas carols will be sung and then the adults will present "The Old Lamp lighter." After the play Rev. Edd Meyers will lead a candlelight service. The collection for the evening will be given to Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh.

The Selbysport United Methodist Women met Tuesday at the church for a buffet luncheon. Mrs. Dorothy Lowdermilk, president opened the meeting with group singing Christmas carols, and then conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Dean Vitez read the Christmas story from Matthew and Luke with group singing of carols pertaining to the stories. She also read a poem "The Wonder of Christmas," with background music tape of the Gailther Trio. Secret sisters were revealed with a gift. Sixteen members and guests attended. There will be no meeting until March '88. Greeters for the Sunday Service at 10:30 a.m. at Selbysport United Methodist Church are Ralph and Faye Humberson.

SANTA VISITS NURSING HOME — Santa Claus visited Cuppet Weeks Nursing Home on Sunday to help bring cheer to the patients. He was assisted by American Legion Proctor Kildow Post 71 and its Ladies Auxiliary, Girl Scout Troops 5018 and 5063 and several other children. Gifts, candy and fruit were presented to all residents who were veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces. Those residents include: Ed Stakem, Fred House, Louis Stoner, Louis Pride, W. McDonald, Jim Hoey, Bert Nair, Raymond Brown, Dick Shaffer, Jimmie Worthy, James Adams, Albert Menon, Darwin Whitehair, William Lyles, William Johnston, Glenn Stouffer, Earl Miller, Howard Andrews, Leroy Griffith, Walter Brown, Leamon Rose and Walter Swauger. The scouts sang Christmas carols and served as Santa's elves. Leona Beckman, president of the Ladies Auxiliary gave gifts to Walter Brown and Earl Miller, the adopted veterans of the auxiliary. Those participating from the American Legion were: Ed Ingram, commander; Debi Dixon, Garrett County commander, Ron Friend, Randall Kahl, Guy Tuel, Bill Meyers, Joe Mechem and Doug (Red) Ford. Hazel Meyers also represented the auxiliary. Santa later visited Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home to give gifts to the veterans there. The group also delivered fruit baskets to World War II veterans in the area on Tuesday night. Pictured above, left to right, front row, are Debi Dixon, resident Dick Shaffer, 93, past commander of the American Legion; and Ed Ingram, present commander; second row, same order, Vicki Sukow, Jennifer Shillingburg, Diana Hefrick, Julie Dixon, Becky Clary, Bridget Nolan, Candy Sukow and Santa (Ron Friend); barely visible in the back are Joyce Dixon and Kim Shillingburg. Shown below, is Leona Beckman presenting gifts to residents and veterans, Earl Miller, left, and Walter Brown.

"You Can Afford College" Week Set For January

Maryland's colleges, universities, and other institutions of higher education are combining their efforts during the month of January 1988 to promote the availability and publicize the procedures for obtaining financial support for higher education. Focusing upon the January 17-23 period, which has been proclaimed "You Can Afford College '88" week, a wide variety of financial aid information and resources are being made available to the general public.

Maryland Public Television has scheduled a half-hour television program beginning at 10:30 p.m. on Monday, January 18, during which financial aid officers from various levels of higher education will provide information. Viewers may call in questions between the hours of 9 and 11 p.m. on that date. The program will be rebroadcast at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, January 23, and at noon on Thursday, January 28. A HELPING HAND — Funds to help Jim McBee, a local victim of Hodgkin's disease, while he undergoes a bone marrow transplant in Seattle, Wash., have been raised by The Dennett Road School Social Committee, The Crellin Assembly of God and other Garrett County schools and individuals. A check for the amount of $4,000 was presented to Pat McBee, Jim's mother, by Dennett Road Principal Clark Sharpless. Pictured behind Pat McBee and Sharpless is Frankye Martin, and also pictured, left to right, are Rev. Charles E. Teets, Crellin U.B. Church; Gwen McBee, Jim's sister; Rev. Ray Beahm, Crellin Assembly of God; and Cosette Harman. The fund drive is being coordinated by the Crellin U.B. Church (see separate story) and donations may be sent to the church in care of the Jim McBee Fund, P.O. Box 41, Oakland, Md. 21550.

include channels 22, 28, 31, 36 (Oakland) 62 and 67.

Organized by the Maryland Financial Aid Officers, the Student Advisory Assembly, the Maryland Higher Education Loan Corporation, the Maryland State Scholarship Board, and other concerned student advocates, "You Can Afford College '88" is attempting to provide information about how to secure financial assistance for all levels of higher education in Maryland. Resources being publicized include scholarships, grants, loans and work assistance programs that can be applied to institutions of higher education, such as proprietary schools, community colleges, public and private institutions, colleges and universities.

January is a critical time for those seeking financial aid for fall 1988 since many financial aid applications, including the Federal Financial Aid Form (FAF) upon which many sources of financial assistance are based, should be submitted between January 1 and March 1. Financial aid advisors and counselors at local colleges, universities and other institutions of higher education, including Garrett Community College, have information available now to assist those interested in exploring the many opportunities available to Maryland residents.

Christmas is a peaceful time.

May the joy of the season embrace you and yours.

Rams To Host Northern, Union And Waynesburg In Annual Classic

The Southern Rams will host their 12th annual Snowball Classic on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 28-29, an event that will feature teams from three states.

Slated to participate in the tourney besides the Rams will be the Northern Huskies, Waynesburg (Pa.) High School, and Union High School, of Mt. Storm. The Rams are the defending champions of the tournament.

According to Southern head coach, Oren Yoder, Union will be a strong contender for the Classic crown, as several starters are back from last season's 17-7 team. The two key losses to graduation were All-State selection Don Kessel and Tiger head coach, Paul Pacella, who left after compiling an amazing 80 wins in just five years as head coach. Pacella, now a teacher at Southern Middle School, is currently assisting with the Southern program after building Union to a Class A power in West Virginia.

New Union coach, Don Gardner, is off to an undefeated start this season. Although lacking in height, Yoder believes Union may be the quickest team in the Classic, with 5-8 Charlie Bow, 5-8 Jeff Kitzmiller, and 5-10 Steve Kitzmiller leading the way. This will be Union's first appearance in the Snowball Classic.

Waynesburg returns four starters from last season's disappointing 8-16 squad, and are currently 2-1. The Raiders upset Tri-Valley in their opener and may be fielding their strongest team in years.

Coach Glen Kyle is relying heavily on 6-3 Kerry Marisa, who is averaging 22 points and 10 rebounds per game. Ron Bailey, a 5-10 senior, is netting 15 points per contest, with many of his buckets coming from the three-point range.

The Raiders play an aggressive, up-tempo style and have a lot of strength on the bench, according to Yoder.

This will be the Raiders' third appearance in the Snowball Classic.

The Northern Huskies return for a second straight year after a six-year absence from the tournament. The Huskies have shown improvement in each game of the young season under new coach, Dave Bender. After losing to Beall, Valley, and Mt. Savage, the Huskies rebounded with a 65-59 win over Salisbury Monday night and those last night.

Coach Bender is no stranger to Southern, having coached the jayvee squad the past four seasons before returning to his high school alma mater. The Huskies' scoring leader is Aaron Zumpano, who is averaging 22 points per game, while 6-4 transfer John Harmke is also providing much of their scoring and rebounding.

The 2-3 Rams have been somewhat inconsistent so far this season, having defeated Beall and Valley and losing to Allegany, Bishop Walsh and Mount Savage.

Junior Zack Gibson is leading the Rams in scoring with just under 13 points per game, while seniors J.R. Bosley and Bobby Bernard are netting 12 points per contest. Other key performers have been Richard Evick, Mike Ruff, Sean Hershman, Jeff King, Rusty Otto and Scott Finch.

The Snowball Classic has been considered by many fans to be the area's best tournament, as many talented players have showcased their collegiate potential over the years in this event. Among the top former Classic players who went on to play college ball are:

Southern's Ken Niner (1976), Steve Liller (1977), Jeff Ryseavage (1980), Dave Harsh (1981), Scott Stern (1984), and Eric Rice (1986); and Northern's Bill Bender (1979).

READY TO HOST CLASSIC — The Southern Rams will host their annual Snowball Classic on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 28-29, an event that will include the Northern Huskies, Waynesburg, Pa., and Union high schools. The Rams are currently 2-3 on the season. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are Randy Evick, Scott Watson, Kreig Dilgard, J.R. Bosley, Chris include Dick Mumma (1978), who played for Penn State and the Golden State Warriors of the NBA, plus Rodney Monroe (1983), who played for North Carolina State.

Northern will face Waynesburg in Monday's 6:30 p.m. game, followed by Southern vs. Union in the 8:15 p.m. contest. The consolation game will be played at 6:30 on Tuesday, with the championship game slated for 8:15.

Huskies Record First Win For Bender, 65-57

It took four tries, but the Northern Huskies recorded their first win for new head coach, Dave Bender, Monday night in whipping Salisbury, 65-57, in the Cove.

Aaron Zumpano, who is currently one of the area's leading scorers, netted half of his team's points, hitting 11 buckets and 10 of 14 free throws for 32 points.

The Elks held a two-point advantage after the first quarter, 17-15, and stretched that lead to 38-30 by halftime. But Zumpano led his team back in the third stanza to knot the score at 44 apiece going into the final period. Five of Zumpano's successful foul shots were in the final moments of the game.

Glenn Seaman also reached double figures for the Huskies, finishing with 11 points.

Leading the Elks' scoring were Duane Brown, who sunk five three-point goals and

HUSKY GRAPPLERS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP — The Northern High School varsity wrestling team traveled to Morgantown, W.Va., Saturday to participate in the University High School Wrestling Tournament and, out of the seven teams competing, the Huskies flattened their opponents and came home with the championship trophy. Coach Lynn Brenneman's squad dominated the event, amassing a total of 173 points, with University High finishing a distant second with 148 and one-half points. The other teams and their scores were: Uniontown, 136; Lewis County, 131; Grafton, 64; Central Preston, 61; Mapletown, 42; and Morgantown, 24. Pictured left to right, front row, are:

finished with 23 points, and Richard Galley, who netted 17 points.

Bender commented on the three-point shooting of Brown, saying, "We should have given him five points on some of those shots!"

Bender said Zumpano "did everything" and made the difference in the Northern rally.

The Northern jayvee team also won the preliminary game, outscoring Salisbury 47-43. Kirby King and Jimmy Stephens led the junior Huskies with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

The 1-3 Huskies were slated to play at Meyersdale last night, however results of the game were unavailable at press time and will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

Savage Places Fifth In State NASTAR Ranks

Gordon Savage, Swanton, was recently notified he achieved honors in the nationwide Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR racing program by placing fifth in Maryland in the 16-18 year-old category.

"Gordon can take great pride in being ranked fifth in Maryland in his age class. It's no small achievement for a young recreational racer," said NASTAR commissioner and former U.S. Ski Team Coach Bob Beattie. "Especially in this Olympic year, it's important to recognize and encourage the efforts of our promising athletes."

Savage, who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. William G. Savage, Turkey Neck, earned his season-best while racing at Seven Springs, Pa.

The Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program ranks the top 10 boys and girls in six age categories in each of 43 states. Racers are ranked according to their single best NASTAR handicap earned last season.

For the first time this winter, U.S. Ski Team members will be setting NASTAR's national standards, so young skiers can now compare their handicaps to their favorite U.S. Olympic racer.

Last season, more than 100,000 youths raced in Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR at 150 ski areas nationwide. Racers compete in six age categories.

Ranked racers in each state receive a certificate of accomplishment, a patch and are listed on the Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR State Rankings Poster. First place winners also receive a pair of I-Ski sunglasses.

In addition to national and state rankings honors, skiers can win gold, silver and bronze NASTAR medals each time they race, based on their performance in their age group.

Coca-Cola Junior NASTAR is America's largest youth recreational ski racing program and is open to youth of all abilities.

A balanced scoring attack and a pesky defense led the Southern Rams to a 58-44 victory over Valley Friday night in Oakland; however, the Rams lost their momentum last night and were defeated by unbeaten Mount Savage, 64-58, also on the Rams' floor. The split left Coach Oren Yoder's team with a 3-3 record as they prepare for their annual Snowball Classic, set for Monday and Tuesday.

Richard Evick led four Rams in double figures against 2-3 Valley, netting 15 points. J.R. Bosley and Bobby Bernard were close behind with 13 points each and Zack Gibson finished with 12. Bernard also grabbed eight rebounds.

Southern held a 13-11 edge after one quarter, but a three-pointer by Evick at the intermission buzzer gave the Rams a 30-24 halftime advantage. The Rams stretched the lead to 41-33 by the end of the third period and were never threatened the rest of the way.

Yoder said he was pleased with the defensive efforts of his team, noting that Valley hit only one three-point shot, which was by Jeff Metz.

Metz led the Black Knights with 13 points, while Fred Sloan netted 12 and Chris Wilson, 10. Bosley netted a pair of three-pointers and Evick connected for one.

The Southern jayvee squad, under Coach Bill Ewing, won the jayvee contest, 48-42, behind a 19-point performance by John Stern.

Although the Rams were in the game all the way last night against visiting Mount Savage, they could not quite manage to take it away from the Indians in the final minutes.

Southern played evenly with the visitors in the first quarter and held a one-point edge, 19-18, at the conclusion of that period, but the 6-0 Indians came back to win the second stanza and take a 33-29 lead into the locker room at halftime.

After falling behind by seven points early in the third quarter, 41-34, the Rams began to chip away at the Indians' lead, and a shot by Jeff King with less than a minute remaining in the period gave Southern a brief 44-43 advantage, their only lead of the second half.

A final third-quarter shot by Scott DeHaven gave the Indians a 45-44 edge and they never trailed again.

Mount Savage led from one to seven points until the 2:30 mark of the fourth period when two free throws and a bucket by Bernard closed the gap to two points, 57-55. However, the Indians responded with seven unanswered points, five of them on free throws, to take a 64-55 lead with just seven seconds remaining. A three-point shot by Bosley at the buzzer concluded the scoring.

Bosley and Bernard led the Rams' scoring with 20 and 18 points, respectively.

Pacing the Indians was Chris Wisler, who netted 21 points, DeHaven, who finished with 14, and sophomore Rocky Reed, who hit 13 points.

The Southern jayvee team won the preliminary contest, 61-47, as Marshall Pike led the Rams' scoring with 11 points.

Edwards Paces Northern Girls Over Flintstone

A 20-point performance by Kristen Edwards highlighted a 49-32 victory by the Northern girls varsity last night over visiting Flintstone. The win was the third in six starts for the Huskies, who will now be off the court until January 7 when they meet the Aggies again.

Edwards recorded her points on seven buckets and six of eight free throws, while teammate Melissa Beeman finished with 14 points. Tina Lashbaugh led the Huskies' defense with a dozen rebounds and seven steals.

Leading the Aggies' scoring were Dawn Singleton and Lisa Burnett, who each netted eight points.

The loss dropped Flintstone to 1-3 on the season.

The Huskies dominated the contest from the beginning, holding leads of 16-5, 26-14, and 41-22 at the quarters.

Volleyball League To Hold McBee Benefit Tourney

The Mountaintop Volleyball League will hold a benefit tournament for Jimmy McBee on January 16, 1988 at Southern Middle School.

The tournament will be a mix-and-match, round-robin event. All league members from all leagues are urged to participate. "This is an excellent opportunity for non-league members interested in volleyball to come out and have fun," said a league official.

Cost will be $6 per person. To enter, persons should contact Rob Heilig at 387-4827 or Bill Roszell at 387-9174.

Jimmy McBee, a resident of Crellin, is currently under

Lakers Conclude First Semester By Winning Christmas Classic Title

The Garrett Community College Lakers wrapped up the 1987 portion of their season this past weekend by winning their own annual Coca-Cola Christmas Classic in McHenry, giving them a 9-3 record.

The Lakers rolled over Beaver Community College in their semi-final game on Friday, 102-46, and then stopped Penn State-McKeesport in Saturday's championship contest, 86-70. McKeesport earned a spot in the finals by defeating Mt. Aloysius, 88-66, in the other opening round.

Assistant Coach Dave Martin, a player on Garrett's first team along with head coach, Dennis Gibson, called the game Friday night for Coach Gibson, whose wife was in the hospital having a baby girl.

The Lakers were never threatened in the contest with Beaver, as they jumped out to a 14-2 lead in the first five minutes and went on to assume a 26-4 advantage at the 7:18 mark. The halftime score was 39-13.

Eric Downs led the Lakers with 18 points and 20 rebounds, while Joe Schmide netted 17, Kerwin Thompson, 14, and Aaron Davis, 13. Dell Youngblood, who had missed six games because of an injury, came off the bench to score 10 points, block nine shots, and pull nine rebounds. Davis was also credited with five steals and five assists.

Leading all scorers was Beaver's Ray Pransky, who finished with 23 points, while teammate William Deeley hit 21.

Martin, who joked that he now has the best coaching record at GCC (1-0), said, "It's easy to coach when you are ahead by 40 points."

Against McKeesport for the tournament title, Schmide led the Lakers with 20 points and 10 rebounds, while Downs connected for 15 points, a tournament-high 21 rebounds and nine assists, to be named the Classic's Most Valuable Player.

Once again the Lakers led from the beginning, holding a halftime advantage of 45-32 and building their biggest lead of 20 points early in the second half. The closest McKeesport (4-5)

Southern Girls Successfully Defend Classic Title; Huskies Whip Valley

The Southern High girls varsity basketball team upped its record to 5-1 for the season by winning the annual Snowflake Classic at Southern Monday night, while the Northern girls won the consolation game over Valley, 47-46, and improved their record to 2-3.

Coach Don Stemple's Rams earned the title by defeating the Huskies in a semi-final contest Saturday night, 62-53, and then mashing Fort Hill in the finals, 51-30. The Sentinels gained their final berth by topping Valley in the other semi-final Saturday night, 60-47.

Courtney Smith and Marcie Stemple each netted 12 points for the Rams against Northern, while Kristen Edwards sunk a game-high 23 points for the Huskies and teammate Melissa Beeman added 19.

Southern held an 8-3 advantage at the end of the first quarter, but high-percentage shooting by Edwards and Beeman cut the Rams' lead to just one point, 21-20, by halftime.

The two teams played evenly in the third period, with the Rams holding a 38-36 advantage going into the final stanza. Key foul shooting midway through the period put Southern on top by six with three minutes remaining.

The Rams hit only one more field goal than Northern, 19-18, but connected on 24 of 34 free throw opportunities, compared to a 16-for-24 effort by the Huskies.

Smith again paced the Rams' scoring against Fort Hill in Monday's final, finishing with 17 points and seven assists, while Tricia Heatherman net-

Mt. Top League Results Announced

Durst Exxon dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten last week, in Mt. Top Basketball League Standing, falling to Old Mill 80-70. Old Mill was led by the outside shooting of Brian "Fro" Selders, who had 32 points, and the inside game of Tom Panther with 26 points. Old Mill was never behind during the contest, although Durst was able to cut the lead at the end of the third quarter to 34-51.

In other action around the league, Martin's kept its perfect record intact with a 94-67 thrashing of Video Connection. Video was able to cut the deficit to 10 points midway in the third quarter, but a 13-point run by Martin's put the game out of reach. Tom Stern had 27 points for Martin's and John Culp and Bill Mayle had 17 points each for Video Connection.

A&A Realty got back on the winning track by downing Bausch & Lomb, 59-40. Steve Liller had game high 20 points for the Realtors and Steve Lyons pumped in 14 for B&L.

Fairfax Stone won its first game of the year 66-41 over The 76'ers. Tom Sanders had 24 points to lead Fairfax, while Mike Gregory had 10 points for the 76'ers.

The National Guard rose above the 500 mark with a 84-74 victory over Ferrell's Mart. Gary Paugh, of The Guard, led all scorers with 28 points and Pat McCleod of Ferrell's netted 26 points.

"FUNNY THING WITH CHECKBOOKS, ONCE I'VE STARTED ONE I JUST CAN'T PUT IT DOWN UNTIL I'VE FINISHED."

The Byron Report

By U.S. Congresswoman Beverly Byron

U.S. TEXTILE MANUFACTURERS MUST BE ALLOWED A "LEVEL PLAYING FIELD"

Washington, D.C. — The good news last week was that the U.S. trade deficit declined to the rate of $14.1 billion per year.

The bad news was that U.S. consumers will still be buying a staggering $14.1 billion more than they will export abroad.

There are few areas where the trade imbalance is more apparent than in the textile industry. This industry, which employs thousands of workers in the western part of Maryland, has been in dire straits due to unfair trade practices by a number of foreign countries — particularly those in the Pacific Basin.

Over the past decade we have seen a flood of cheap imports move into the U.S. textile market. At the same time, some of the very same countries that have taken advantage of our open market, have closed their doors to American made clothing products.

As a result of this double standard, over 1,000 U.S. textile and apparel plants have had to close their doors since 1977.

Unemployment in the textile industry has skyrocketed as a full 350,000 jobs have been lost to foreign competitors.

Consequently, I recently cosponsored, and the Congress passed, the Textile and Apparel Trade Act of 1987. This bill will address the serious trade imbalance by limiting the increases in foreign textile imports to one percent per year from 1986 levels.

We are hopeful that Congress will be able to withstand a presidential veto if the president again decides to do so.

Free trade is a long and established principle that has provided many benefits to the world economic community. But for free trade to operate, it must take place on a level playing field. It must be fair trade.

and that's what this bill seeks to establish in the important area of textile production.

Black Knights

Northern held a 12-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and then outscored the Knights in the second stanza, 13-5, to make it 25-14 at intermission. However, the Knights began to whittle away the Huskies' lead in the third period and Northern was on top 38-32 going into the fourth quarter.

A bucket by Lisa Green with just 35 seconds remaining gave the Knights their first lead of the game, 46-45, but the Huskies broke Valley's full-court man-to-man press to set up Edwards' winning bucket. A final shot by Valley was no good.

Edwards again paced the Huskies with 21 points, while Tina Rodeheaver finished with 12. Kelly Phillips and Missy Hobel led Valley with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

Edwards, who scored a total of 44 points in the tournament, was named the Most Outstanding Player, while Courtney Smith was named Most Valuable Player. Smith netted 29 points in the two games.

Joining Edwards and Smith on the All-Tournament team were Phillips of Valley, Bonner and Leith of Fort Hill, and Heatherman and Stemple of Southern.

Fort Hill and Valley are both now 4-3 on the season.

Southern will play again on January 9 at home against Beall. The Huskies hosted Flintstone yesterday (see separate story).

vascular work, take less than an hour to perform. Purchase of the Acuson Sonography Unit was made possible in part by donations of staff physicians and the general public.

Dr. Robert Goralski, Chief of Staff, will interpret the cardiac procedures. The Centre Radiology Groups — Drs. Cox, Graves, Jackson, Light and Miller — will interpret all other procedures.

The sonography unit will be operated by Sue Savage, registered diagnostic medical sonographer, and Joseph Dever, ultra sonographer technologist.

Savage, a 1982 graduate of the Florida Institute of Ultrasound, became registered in OB/GYN, abdominal and physics in 1983. She had additional vascular training this year at the Thomas Jefferson University and was graduated from the Owen Brown Cardiac Two-Dimensional and Doppler Course. She also attended a three-day course in Chicago on training for vascular procedures of the neck, abdomen, and legs sponsored by Acuson.

Dever has been on staff in the Radiology Department at the hospital for 15 years. In addition to on-site training, he attended the M-Mode Echocardiogram Training Course in Philadelphia.

Ski Clothing Theft Reported To State Police

Several thefts are being investigated by the Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment, one of which resulted in a loss of $645 worth of ski clothing to an area resident.

Curtis A. Miske, Swanton, reported that the clothes, contained in a bag, were removed from his vehicle sometime between 1 and 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

The vehicle was parked across the road from The Rendezvous Inn, McHenry, at the time of the incident. Tpr. Paul R. Brown is investigating.

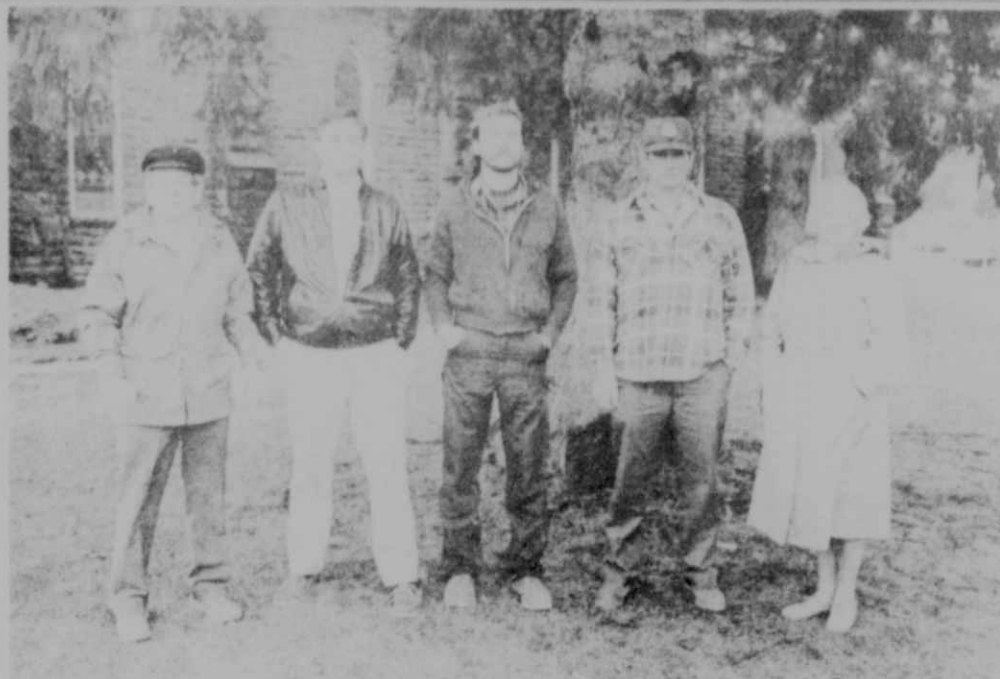

Various tools were reported stolen from the bed of a truck belonging to PN Construction, Inc., Richmond, Va., sometime Friday. The loss was estimated at $587.

According to investigating officer, Tpr. R.T. Wilson, the truck was parked at the Meshach Browning Club, located one and one-half miles north of Grantsville, when someone removed assorted tools including a Milwaukee industrial cordless screwdriver, a Milwaukee industrial charger and battery pack, a Quick Drive screw gun, a Black & Decker one-half inch variable speed drill and assorted other tools.

Escapee Captured, Vehicle Recovered By D.C. Police

A juvenile who escaped from the Savage Mountain Youth Center, near Lonaconing, December 14 was apprehended Tuesday by Washington, D.C. Metropolitan police. He was driving the car he allegedly stole from the youth center at the time of his capture.

The 17-year-old Hillcrest Heights youth left the center after he found the key to the vehicle, property of one of the counselors at the center, and drove the vehicle away. The 1982 Subaru was reportedly undamaged at the time of its recovery.

Tpr. J.K. Moore of the Maryland State Police investigated the escape. The juvenile was turned over to the custody of Juvenile Services Administration.

The Christmas program at St. John's Lutheran Church, LCA, will be presented on Wednesday, December 23, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

A carry-in lunch was served at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church on Sunday, where guests included the boys from Meadow Mountain Boys' Camp, who also attended the morning worship service. Members of the church participating in the Christmas program remained for the afternoon practice. Among those attending from this community were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bender and daughter, Jencene, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Bender and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bender and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bender and family. The program will be presented on Christmas Eve, December 24, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The Christmas program at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will be presented on Christmas Day, December 25, at 10 a.m., there will be a service of readings and carols. A worship service with Communion will be held on New Year's Eve, December 31, at 8 p.m. The annual congregational Christmas covered dish dinner

THE ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TREAT, sponsored by the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, was well-attended by scores of kiddies and their parents (who were doing their last-minute Christmas shopping) this past Saturday. The children not only received a treat but were also afforded the opportunity to sit upon Santa's lap and recite their Christmas lists. The annual treat is a long-standing tradition in the town of Oakland as many parents and grandparents recount memories of standing in line waiting for Santa and the cherished candy canes and oranges. Times may have changed, but the sweet mystery of the fabled St. Nicholas remains in the hearts of many.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Christmas Eve services in the Bittering Parish will be: St. John's, 7 p.m.; Zion, 8:30 p.m.; and Emmanuel, 10 p.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated at each service.

Pastor Louise Knotts will be away on vacation from December 25 through January 2. This Sunday's loose offering will go to the World Hunger Appeal.

Lowell Leitzel, St. Mark's, Oakland, will conduct worship services in all three churches of the Bittering parish on Sunday, December 27, during the absence of the pastor. A special children's program will be presented at Emmanuel on Sunday morning.

Cherry Glade Mennonite Church will have a Christmas service December 24 at 7:30 p.m. The children will have parts in the program, and Christmas scenes will be shown on film. The young people of the church had a Christmas banquet on Tuesday evening at the Church's Fellowship Hall.

A joint Parish Service will be held at Emmanuel on January 3 to celebrate the formation of the ELCA.

Parish members are once again being asked to save their cancelled postage stamps with the envelope for the LCW project at St. John's and Zion. These will be forwarded to the National Lutheran Home in Rockville.

Nelson Ross, Martinsburg, Pa., was the visiting pastor at the Glade Mennonite Church on Sunday.

Attends Concert

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buckel and Lottie Brenneman attended the Garrett Choral Society's "Sounds of Christmas" program on Saturday evening at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland.

Boys Attend Church

Thirty boys and their sponsors from the Meadow Mountain Forestry Camp attended church on Sunday at Cherry Glade. The church entertained them with a covered dish dinner and had a time of carol singing with them.

Choirs Presented Crosses
On Sunday morning, Pastor Louise Knotts presented members of the children's and adult choirs with Greek crosses to wear with their choir gowns.

Councils Elect Members
Elected to the church council at Emmanuel were: Joseph W. Buckel, Kenneth Buckel and Leora Yaste. Other members were held over. At Zion, Michael and Lisa Broadwater were elected, with hold-over members still to serve. At St. John's, those elected were Robert Harkins, Marvin Beckman and Tom O'Brien.

Emmanuel's LCW Meets
The LCW of Emmanuel met on Friday, December 11, at the church with 15 members, Pastor Knotts and Sheila Southerly in attendance. The meeting opened with the December LCW response.

Gift offerings were received from Bertha Rodamer in memory of Effie Georg and from Mabel Engle as a "thank-you." These were sent to Specific Ministries, LCW Bible Study and Missionary Support. Beulah Moon asked for volunteers to sew comforter tops together.

The LCW Christmas Gift will be sent to the family of Randy Fink this year. This donation will be held until the Lutheran Brotherhood Appeal for this purpose begins.

Poinsettias will be sent to Elita Buckel and Lawrence Buckel. Lottie Brenneman and Leora Yaste will be asked to prepare Christmas baskets for Lyman Schrock and Cecil Kellison. Officers elected for two-year terms were: president, Jennie Hady; vice president, Margie Brenneman; secretary, Sharon Lowery; and treasurer, Margaret Hershberger.

On Sunday morning, December 27, Doris Knox and Pastor Louise will give an explanation of each new Christmas decoration that was made by LCW members.

The executive committee will meet at 6:30 p.m. on January 8 before the regular meeting.

The program for the evening, "The Good News of Christmas" was led by Phyllis Buckel. This program was a worship celebration that focused on the Birth of Christ. Small groups were formed and reflection questions were asked concerning Mary, Joseph, the Angel and the Christ Child. Symbols or words used to describe these were made. Individuals then explained their newspaper articles showing God active in the world, and hung them on the tree. The symbols from the small group discussions were explained and members added these to the tree. The singing of Christmas carols followed. The offering, a hymn and the sharing of the peace closed the program. Refreshments and fellowship followed in the basement.

The next meeting will be held January 8. Audrey Brenneman will lead the program.

St. John's LCW Meets

St. John's LCW met at the church on November 23, with eight members present.

A motion was approved to send $35 to the Synodical Unit to help meet the 1987 budget and the monthly contribution to the Cuppett-Weeks Activity Department.

Barbara Herbert read a thank-you card from Lutheran World Relief for the health kits sent in September.

"Guidelines" were distributed to members, and Ida Reckner gave a report of the Task Force meeting held at Emmanuel and distributed literature concerning this.

Cards were sent to Mae Cooper and Mrs. Heming in sympathy and a "Thinking often of you" card to Gerald Eddy. The meeting adjourned with the missionary benediction and the Christmas meeting will be led by Opal Fazenbaker.

Personal Items

Sunday dinner guests of Amelia Brenneman and Miriam were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brenneman and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ross. Sunday afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Beitzel and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Miller. Lyman Schrock was a Monday visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Beitzel, Allensville, Pa., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brenneman.

Attending the Eastern Star Christmas party from the area on Tuesday evening were Richard and Sharon Perando, Charee Reckner and Martha Glatfely.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Glatfely and son, Craig, were Saturday evening callers of Martha Glatfely. Charleen Evans-Thomas was a Sunday evening caller.

Sunday visitors of Ida Reckner were Lillian, Charee and Michelle Reckner, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glatfely and Donna Glatfely.

DEER PARK

The Christmas program at the United Methodist Church will be held Thursday, December 24, at 7:30 p.m.

A Christmas dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney King December 20, with 19 family members attending. Airman Chad W. King of Laughlin AFB, Texas, was among them.

Medical Fund Established For Patsy DeWitt

Patsy DeWitt has been hospitalized many times in 1987. A Bill and Patsy DeWitt Medical Fund has been set up at the First United National Bank and Trust and the public is being asked to help.

Patsy is now hospitalized in Hagerstown and will be there for an indefinite period. Because of the many times Mrs. DeWitt has been hospitalized, the couple's insurance now covers only 80 percent of the cost, leaving a large amount each month for them to pay.

The couple grew up in Garrett County. Mr. DeWitt has worked 20 years in the General Stores Department of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt are members of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland.

TERRA ALTA

Honor Society Visits Home

The National Junior Honor Society of East Preston High School visited residents of the East View Care Home recently. The group sang Christmas carols and distributed refreshments to the residents.

Delicious Desserts

Easy desserts are welcome in a busy holiday kitchen. A simple Caramel Cream Topping adds a delicious finishing touch to winter's fresh fruits, plain pound cake or ice cream. Since genuine, old-fashioned flavor is difficult to find on grocery shelves, Caramel Cream Topping is a real taste treat and so easy to prepare. Only three ingredients — granulated sugar, water and heavy cream — are needed for this stove-top recipe. Sugar is essential for caramel's smooth texture, pure sweetness and unique taste. Remember to add cream only when the sugar caramelizes to a golden, honey color. Caramel Cream Topping can be made in advance and stored in the refrigerator until ready to serve. Leftover topping makes a handy dip for fresh apple wedges.

CARAMEL CREAM TOPPING

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup water
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup heavy cream

In a three-quart heavy saucepan, combine sugar and water. Over high heat, bring to a rapid boil, stirring to dissolve sugar. Continue boiling, without stirring, until syrup is light caramel or honey-colored (swirling pan near end of cooking period), about 10 to 12 minutes. Remove pan and place on a damp cloth to prevent slipping. Slowly whisk in cream (mixture will foam up). Return to medium heat. Cook, whisking constantly, until caramel dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about two minutes. Cool to room temperature. Serve over ice cream, cake or fresh fruit. Store, covered, in refrigerator for several weeks. Yield: Approximately 1 cup.

APPLE ALASKA PIE

Prepare your favorite one-crust apple pie. When completely cool, cover the entire top with butter pecan ice cream, then with stiffly beaten meringue (egg white and sugar). Bake in a 500 degree oven for 2 minutes and serve immediately.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE

- 2 lbs. white raisins
- 2 lbs. candied cherries
- 2 lbs. candied pineapple
- 1 cup English walnuts, chopped
- 4 cups pecans, chopped
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sherry
- 2 Tablespoons black walnut extract
- 1 lb. butter
- 1 lb. sugar
- 1 lb. cake flour
- 9 large eggs

Flour fruit and nutmeats in half of flour. Use remaining amount in batter. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs slowly, one at a time. Sift dry ingredients together. Add flour and sherry alternately. Add flavoring and fruit. Bake in a very slow oven $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 3 hours (about 200°). Cake should be made at least a week before serving.

FRENCH APPLE TART

Crust:

- $2\frac{1}{4}$ cups flour
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- 1 cup sweet butter at room temperature
- 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
- 2 tablespoons water

Mix together the flour and sugar. Cut in the softened butter with a fork or pastry blender, incorporating it evenly. Mix together the vinegar and water in a measuring cup (should total $\frac{1}{4}$ cup). Sprinkle this liquid mixture over the butter and flour, stirring well until a soft dough is formed. Press dough into an 8-inch fluted tart pan with your hands, making it as even as possible on all sides. Preheat oven to 350°F.

Apple filling:

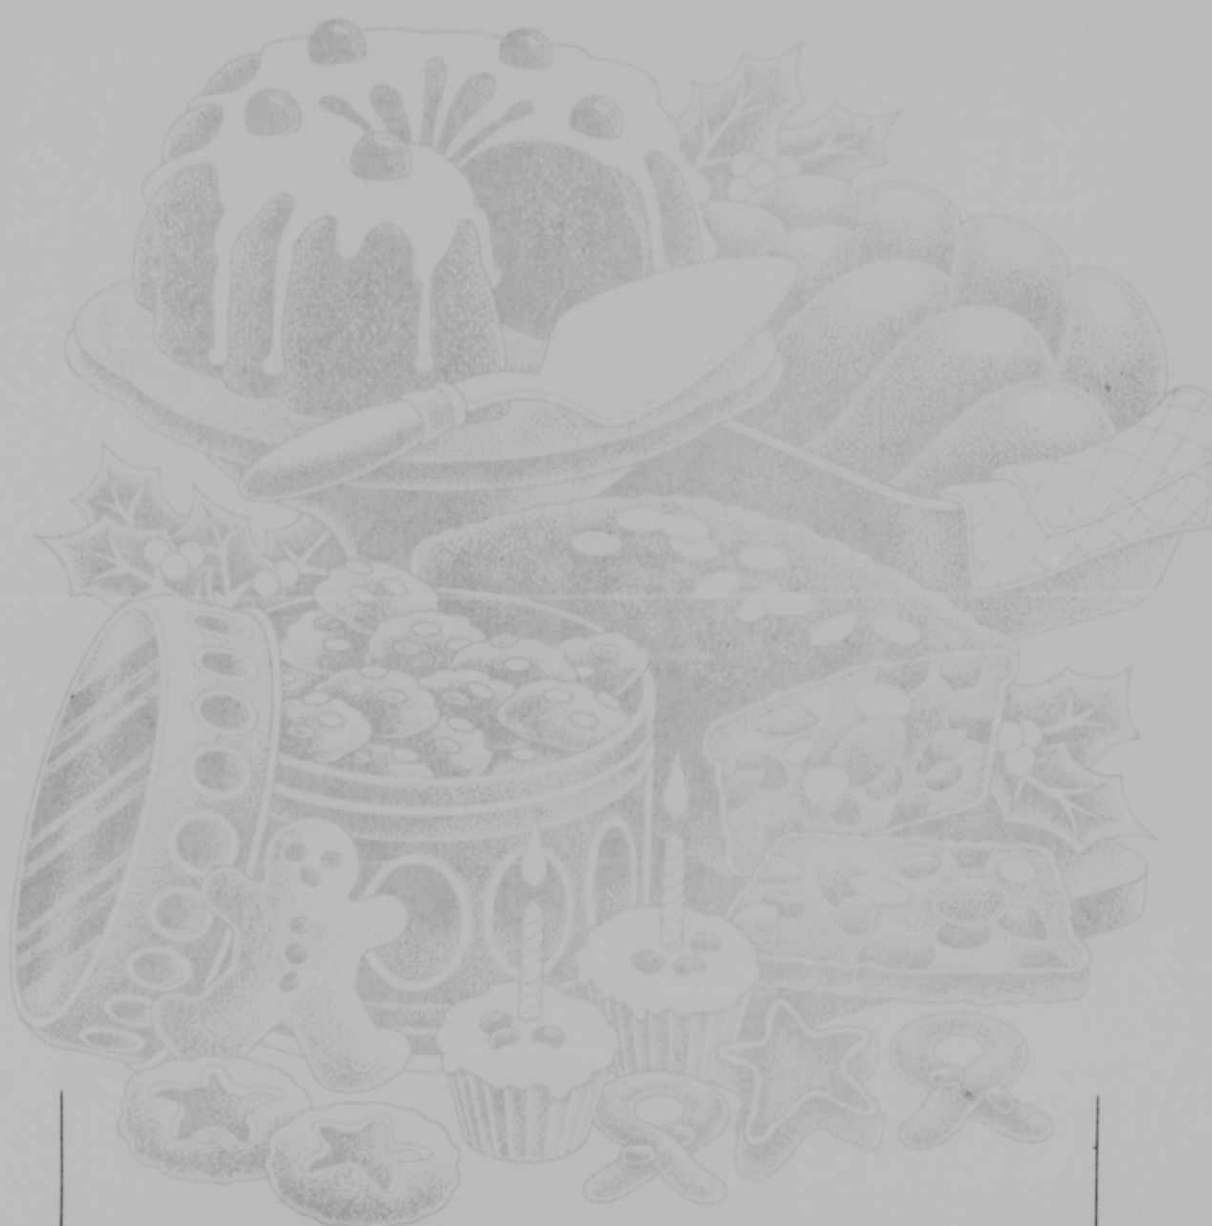

- 3 large Granny Smith apples
- 1 tablespoon flour mixed with 4 tablespoons sugar

Peel and thinly slice 3 apples. Arrange apples over crust, slightly overlapping the slices as you work around the outside circle. Similarly, form an inner circle of overlapping slices. Repeat, forming two layers of thin-sliced apples in a circular pattern. Mix together 1 tablespoon flour with 4 tablespoons sugar and sprinkle this over the top layer of apples. Bake at 350° for about 25-30 minutes. Apples should be tender and slightly brown at the edges.

Lemon-Cinnamon Glaze:

- 4 teaspoons cornstarch
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix cornstarch with cold water, then add sugar, lemon juice and cinnamon. Heat over medium flame, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat. Brush warm glaze onto warm tart, giving it an even, shiny brown topping. Let cool before serving. Should there be any leftovers, refrigerate overnight. A flavorful dessert that features a delightful combination of tastes and textures. Yield: One 8-inch tart.

SPICED FRUIT

- 1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sauterne wine
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cider vinegar
- 15 whole cloves
- 2 sticks cinnamon
- $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon curry powder
- 8 canned peach halves, drained
- 8 canned pear halves, drained
- 16 or more honeydew melon balls, fresh or frozen, or 2 kiwi fruit, pared and sliced
- 8 fresh pineapple spears or 1 can (20 ounces) pineapple chunks, drained

In a saucepan, combine brown sugar, wine, vinegar, cloves, cinnamon and curry powder. Heat through. Combine fruits in a bowl. Pour hot spiced syrup over fruits. Cool, then chill overnight. Remove cloves and cinnamon sticks. Serve alone or with ice milk or whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

ALMOND FRUITCAKE

- 6 tablespoons ($\frac{3}{4}$ stick) butter or margarine, at room temperature
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 3 large eggs, at room temperature
- 1 tablespoon plus $\frac{1}{4}$ cup brandy
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 2 cups all purpose flour
- 1 cup (about 8 ounces) chopped mixed canned fruits and peels
- 1 cup currants
- 8 ounces almond paste

Preheat the oven 350 degrees. Butter an 8x4x2-inch loaf pan. In a large mixing bowl with an electric mixer on high speed cream the butter and sugar until light and creamy. Add the eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Mix in 1 tablespoon brandy, the lemon peel, flour, fruits and currants on low speed until well combined. Spread 1 cup batter into the prepared pan. Divide the almond paste in half. Roll half on lightly floured board into an 8x4-inch rectangle. Repeat with the second half. Place one rectangle over the batter in the pan. Top with another cup of batter, the second almond rectangle, and the remaining batter, spreading the top smooth. Bake for 50 to 60 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. The top will be cracked. Cool the cake in the pan for 15 minutes, then invert onto a rack. Turn right side up and cool completely. Dip a piece of cheesecloth in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup brandy, squeeze lightly. Brush the remaining brandy over the top and sides of the cake. Wrap the cake in the cheesecloth and then in foil, store in a cool place. Moisten the cloth every couple of weeks or as necessary. Makes 1 cake.

PASTRY DECORATIONS

Roll out leftover pie dough trimmings to approximately $\frac{3}{8}$ " thick. Cut out shapes using holiday cookie cutters. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Brush tops lightly with milk and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in preheated 350°F oven for approximately 10 minutes or until golden brown. Allow to cool completely. Use to decorate the tops of cooled pies.

ALMOND BAVARIAN CREAM

- 3 tablespoons plain cocoa powder
- 2 teaspoons instant coffee
- 1 envelope plain gelatin
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups fresh non-fat milk
- 1 teaspoon almond flavoring
- 3 packets low-calorie sweetener
- Pinch of salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 2 egg whites
- 1 cup pressurized light whipped cream
- 6 teaspoons sliced toasted almonds (see note)

Note: To toast almonds, spread them on a non-stick skillet over medium heat just until they begin to darken, remove immediately and set aside to cool.

Combine cocoa, coffee, gelatin and milk in a non-stick saucepan. Wait 1 minute for gelatin to soften, then cook and stir over low heat until gelatin dissolves and ingredients are mixed. Remove from heat and stir in almond flavoring and sweetener. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add salt and cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until stiff. Gently fold beaten egg whites into slightly thickened gelatin mixture. Spray light whipped cream into a 1-cup measure, then add to gelatin mixture, gently folding together with a wire whisk. Spoon into 6 stemmed glasses and chill until set. Garnish with toasted almonds (and a squiggle of light whipped cream, if desired). Makes 6 servings, 75 calories each. More fruit and less cake reforms this devilishly delicious contender for calorie saving. The batter is made with fat-reduced diet margarine (half the calories of shortening) and less sugar. Because this is baked, don't attempt to replace the sugar in the batter with low-calorie sweetener.

BUTTERNUT CHEESECAKE

Crust:

- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups graham cracker crumbs
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped pecans
- 6 tablespoons butter, melted
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cinnamon

Mix all ingredients. Press mixture evenly on bottom and sides of a springform pan. Bake 10 minutes in a preheated 300°F oven. Cool.

Filling:

- 16 oz. cream cottage cheese (small curd)
- 4 eggs
- 3 8oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon nutmeg
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- 1 large butternut squash, cooked and mashed (about one pound)

Mix cottage cheese and eggs in a blender until very smooth. Beat cream cheese, sugar, flour, grated orange rind, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt in a large mixing bowl. Add the cottage cheese mixture and continue to beat until very smooth. Fold in the squash. Pour into the baked graham cracker crust. Bake in a 300°F oven for $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours. Turn oven off. Open door slightly and let the cake cool in the oven for 1 hour. Remove from oven.

Topping:

- 16 oz. dairy sour cream
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup orange marmalade
- 1 orange for decorating

Mix the sour cream and orange marmalade. Spread over the cake and bake for 10 minutes in a 350°F preheated oven. Cool the cake slightly and refrigerate. May be decorated with orange rinds before serving. Yield: 20 servings.

MICROWAVE BASICS

Dessert Cooks While the Cook Dines

There are plenty of occasions during the holidays when crowds gather and spending hours in the kitchen seems like the thing to do.

There also are plenty of occasions when there are only one or two people home for dinner, when time is limited and so is the energy level.

That doesn't mean you should settle for anything less than a complete delicious dinner including dessert.

Individual Jam-Topped Cheesecakes

- | | |
|---|--|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted | $\frac{1}{3}$ cup sugar |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup graham cracker crumbs | 1 egg |
| 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened | 1 teaspoon lemon juice |
| | Dash nutmeg |
| | 2 tablespoons jam or preserves, any flavor |

In small bowl, combine butter and graham cracker crumbs. Press crumb mixture into bottom and up sides of each of two 6-ounce microwave-safe custard cups. In small bowl, combine cream cheese, sugar, egg, lemon juice and nutmeg. Pour cream cheese mixture into prepared custard cups. Heat, uncovered, on HIGH 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 minutes or until the center of each cheesecake is almost set, rotating cups once. Cover loosely with plastic wrap and refrigerate 30 minutes. Top cheesecakes with jam or preserves. Makes 2 servings.

Eating Eskimo Style Features An Easy, Healthful Food: Fish

Want to impress your friends with the exotic dishes you serve your family? Just tell them you're eating Eskimo-style tonight.

Don't tell your friends, but Eskimo-style is really just a diet based on one of the easiest and most healthful foods: fish.

The health benefits of fish came to light in the 1970s when researchers noticed that Eskimos with a diet high in fish consumption had a low incidence of heart disease.

Dietary fat is one of the enemies of the human cardiovascular system. Reducing fat and cholesterol in the diet is one of the best ways to fight heart disease.

"Even the fattiest fish has less total fat and cholesterol than most meats," says Mark A. Kantor, a food and nutrition specialist at the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

sion Service.

"At first it might seem strange that certain types of fish which are higher in fat should be good for human arteries," Dr. Kantor says. "The key is the omega-3 fatty acids contained in the fish."

Omega-3 fatty acids are polyunsaturated substances found in fish. They actually work to lower the levels of cholesterol in the blood. Lower blood cholesterol means lower risk of heart disease, something the Eskimos take for granted.

"Darker fleshed fish — mackerel, salmon, tuna, or bluefish — have the highest levels of omega-3," says Delores L. Dixon, a home economist with the Dorchester County Cooperative Extension Service.

The chart below shows those fish with the top levels of omega-3 fatty acids.

FISH (3.5 oz.)	OMEGA-3	FAT	CHOLESTEROL
Atlantic mackerel	2.6 g	13.9 g	80 mg
Spiny dogfish	2.0 g	10.2 g	52 mg
Pacific herring	1.8 g	13.9 g	77 mg
Atlantic herring	1.7 g	9.0 g	60 mg
Sablefish	1.5 g	15.3 g	49 mg
Chinook salmon	1.5 g	10.4 g	Not avail.
Albacore tuna	1.5 g	4.9 g	54 mg
Atlantic salmon	1.4 g	5.4 g	Not avail.
Bluefish	1.2 g	6.5 g	59 mg
Pink salmon	1.0 g	3.4 g	Not avail.

White-fleshed fish or shellfish have a low level of omega-3 fatty acids in comparison, Dixon notes. Northern shrimp has 5 g of this substance, for example, and blue crab and oysters have just 4 g.

There's fish oil in all fish, Dixon says, but not all fish have the high amounts found in, say, herring or salmon.

"A good rule is that the darker the flesh of the fish the more fish oil it contains," she says.

Don't be fooled by canned tuna packed in oil. That fish is really swimming in soybean oil, not fish oil, says nutritionist Kantor. You're better off buying tuna packed in water, unless you can afford the extra calories in soybean oil.

Cardiovascular experts usually suggest that Americans serve fish or seafood at least once or twice a week.

"There's no one food that is going to do all the magic," says home economist Dixon.

Combined with all the other

"heart-healthy" changes to your diet and lifestyle, though, serving more fish meals can be an easy way to supplement all the other good things you're doing for your health.

Remember, though, that fish can't be a low-calorie, low-fat food when it's floating in heavy cream sauces or melted butter, or when it's breaded and fried in grease. Broil or bake your seafood instead, and try these light but tasty alternatives to heavy condiments that Dixon suggests:

*lemon with paprika, Cajun spices or garlic
*plain, low-fat yogurt with horseradish *clear consommé with a touch of mustard powder

*tomato juice with dried onion or Worcestershire sauce

Besides being a good "heart-healthy" food, says Dixon, fish and seafood also are wonderful sources of protein. Consider these nutritional comparisons of fish with chicken and beef:

BEEF (3.5 oz.)	CHICKEN (3.5 oz.)	Bluefish (dark), broiled
Tenderloin, broiled	Drumstick, no skin, roasted
196 calories	191 calories	117 calories
28.3 g protein	27.0 g protein	20.5 protein
8.4 g total fat	8.4 g total fat	6.5 g total fat
84 mg cholesterol	94 mg cholesterol	59 mg cholesterol
FISH (3.5 oz.)		Cod (light), broiled
Round, lean, broiled	Salmon, broiled
184 calories	139 calories	78 calories
26.5 g protein	21.5 g protein	17.6 g protein
7.0 g total fat	6.6 g total fat	0.7 g total fat
82 mg cholesterol	74 mg cholesterol	43 mg cholesterol

LAYERED SEAFOOD SALAD

Ingredients:
2 cups cooked white-fleshed fish, flaked (cod, flounder, tuna, crab)
4 cups shredded lettuce (any kind or a combination)
2 green onions, finely chopped
1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
1/2 cup cucumber, sliced
1/2 cup frozen green peas
1/4 tsp. garlic powder
1/4 cup part-skim mozzarella cheese, grated

Tomato wedges

Dressing:
1 cup plain, low-fat yogurt
2 tabs. mayonnaise
1/2 tsp. dill weed
1/2 tsp. black pepper
1/2 tsp. horseradish
Combine, set aside

In a 9x9-inch dish, layer lettuce, peas, peppers, cucumber, and onion. Toss with garlic powder. Pour dressing. Layer flaked fish. Add tomato and cheese on top. Cover and chill. 4 servings: 265 calories, 245 mg sodium, 9.7 g fat, 43 mg cholesterol. Serve with cornbread. Add fruit for dessert, and you'll have a complete, balanced meal.

SEAFOOD STIR-FRY

Ingredients:
1 lb. white-fleshed fish
1/2 cup white wine

1 tsp. ginger (fresh or ground)
1 tsp. garlic powder or 2 cloves, minced
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. onion powder
1 tsp. sugar
2 Tabs. polyunsaturated oil
2 cups sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup celery, sliced
1/2 cup green onion, chopped
1 cup broccoli, sliced

Cut fish into 1-inch chunks. Marinate for at least 15 minutes in wine, garlic, onion powder, ginger, pepper, sugar and 1 Tabs. of the oil. Pour rest of oil in heated wok or frying pan. Cook vegetables until tender-crisp. Add fish, and cook until it is flaky. 4 servings: 200 calories, 143 mg sodium, 8 g fat. Serve over brown rice. Add fruit for dessert, and you'll have a complete, balanced meal.

Goldstein Reports Tax Revenue Jump In November

"Strong consumer spending helped retail sales tax revenue for November, 1987, post a 13.1% gain over the same month last year," according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. "And Maryland sales tax revenue continues to outperform retail sales figures reported for the nation as a whole."

November sales tax receipts, which reflect October sales, totalled $121,867,921. Sales tax revenue for the first four months of fiscal year 1987 amounted to $472,707,000, up almost 10.6% over the same period last year.

The furniture, taxable food and beverage, apparel, and general merchandise categories increased in November by 18.6%, 12.5%, 11.8%, and 10.9%, respectively, over the same month last year.

The comptroller noted that the consumer category figures reflected continued consumer confidence in the pre-holiday buying period.

"The construction-related categories also showed continued strength," Goldstein said, "with November receipts from the hardware, machinery and equipment categories and the building and contractors group up 13.5% and 10.7% respectively over November, 1986."

The original St. Nicholas was a fourth century Turkish bishop. According to legend, he dropped a bag of gold coins down a chimney into a stocking a poor girl had hung by the fireplace to dry.

"LOST BOOKS"

There are many old practices teachers want school systems to get rid of because they're not good for children, but there is one "old" practice that schools are doing away with that has teachers upset: books seem to be disappearing. Schools are so anxious to raise reading scores that test drills and skills worksheets are replacing textbooks. Students can decode words, but can't understand, discuss, or write about ideas in a book.

Edmund Janko, a New York City English teacher wrote an article called "Diminished Literacy." In the article, Janko stated that reading ability has deteriorated so badly that most high school students couldn't do the reading assignments if they wanted to, which means class discussions almost no longer exist.

Because of this problem, Janko says, teachers are changing their teaching methods. Teachers are assuming that less and less can and will be read by the student on his own, so more reading must be done in class. Consequently, whole works are not studied, but just certain passages. Instead of discussing the meaning of a story, poem, or essay, definitions of words and phrases are discussed.

the American Federation of Teachers, agrees with Mr. Janko. Shanker says we must develop higher intellectual skills so the students will be informed and thoughtful citizens who can evaluate ideas and express their own ideas clearly.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW *****

Pvt. David P. Gilbert, son of Joretta M. Gilbert of Gorman, W.Va., has completed basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

Gilbert is a 1987 graduate of Southern High School.

NHS Students Of The Month Named

Heather Golden is the daughter of Ed and Sonya Golden, Grantsville. Her school activities include Cheerleading Club, Ski Club, Band, and she is a J.V. Cheerleader. Outside school, Heather is a member of the Grantsville 4-H Club, and she attends St. Ann's Catholic Church, Grantsville. Her hobbies include skiing, cheering, and swimming. Her plans for the future include attending college after high school.

Olila McElroy resides in Friendsville with her mother, Nancy Savage. At school, she plays volleyball and is a member of the Girls' Varsity Club. Her community activities include babysitting and cutting the grass at her church. Her plans for the future include going to Frostburg State University and becoming a professional photographer.

Robert Merkel resides in Accident with his parents, Ted and Karen Merkel. He is the treasurer of the Ski Club. His plans after high school graduation include getting a job in the electronics field.

Debra Rounds is the daughter of Wilmer and Janet Rounds, Grantsville. She is currently the Junior Class treasurer and the Girls' Varsity secretary. She plays volleyball and softball, and was the 11th grade Homecoming Princess. Debbie's hobbies include reading, writing, crocheting, listening to music and sports. Her plans for the future include continuing her studies in the art field.

IT'S NOT HARD — That seems to be what the expression on Kristy Goodwin's face says as she rinses her mouth with a fluoride solution in her class at Bloomington Elementary School. The students at Bloomington do this each Wednesday morning for one minute. The solution is not swallowed. The mouth rinse program is offered as one method of helping children prevent dental decay. It does not replace regular brushing and flossing — but rather complements proper dental care. Below, Elaine Marple, left, dental hygienist, and Tonya Brandlem, parent volunteer, prepare the two-percent neutral sodium fluoride solution at Bloomington Elementary School.

NEW PROGRAM BEGINS — A pilot project of fluoride mouth rinse began in two Garrett County schools on November 11. Bloomington and Kitzmiller Elementary Schools were the sites chosen for this program which the Garrett County Health Department feels will greatly benefit children ages six through 17. Children in grades one through five, with parental consent, rinse their mouths at school once each week with a two percent neutral sodium fluoride solution for one minute. The solution is not swallowed. Research has shown that those children rinsing can reduce new tooth decay by 20 to 50 percent. Thirty seven percent of all school children age five through 17 now have no tooth decay. It is believed that fluoride is the main reason for this improvement. Above, parent volunteers, Nancy Rhine, left, and Crystal Shaffer, prepare the fluoride solution for the children to use before school on Wednesday morning, while Shaffer's son, Keenan, looks on. Shaffer is the regular parent volunteer, while Rhine and Theresa Durst (not pictured) are the alternates at Kitzmiller. Below, a class at Kitzmiller Elementary rinses. The program is funded through the P.T.A.s of the individual schools and is supervised by Elaine Marple, dental hygienist, and Lois Ford, child health coordinator, Garrett County Health Department. It is endorsed by the Garrett-Allegany Dental Society and the Garrett County Board of Education.

agents useful for children who have unusual levels of dental decay even though they drink fluoridated water and use a fluoride toothpaste.

"Children should begin receiving fluoride as soon as possible after they are born, because the crowns of primary teeth are still forming," Fenton advised.

Permanent enamel begins to form shortly after birth and continues until all permanent tooth crowns are completed, which is not until the child is 12 to 16 years of age. If present in young teeth, fluoride can result in enamel that is more acid resistant. Even if a child does not begin receiving fluoride until age 10, there is still a significant reduction in decay by age 16.

WVU Researcher Says Fluoride Can Reverse Tooth Decay Process

MORGANTOWN, W. VA. —

Since the 1960s, when many communities began adding fluoride to their water supplies, cavities among school-age children have been reduced by as much as 60 percent.

During the 1970s, it was discovered that topical applications of fluoride, such as in toothpaste, are even more beneficial.

Today, if decay is caught early enough, topical applications of fluoride can actually reverse the decay process and re-mineralize the tooth, according to a West Virginia University professor of dentistry.

"If the surface of the tooth is still intact and the decay is below, the decay is reversible," said Sanford J. Fenton, who is acting chair of pediatric dentistry at WVU Medical Center.

Cavities form when certain foods (fermentable carbohydrates) turn into acid in the presence of dental plaque, causing destruction of tooth enamel.

"Young, immature enamel is very susceptible to acid dissolution, but fluoride can make it less reactive," Dr. Fenton said.

"The activity of the acid lasts about 20 minutes following each meal, or about 60 minutes per day. This is offset by at least three hours of re-mineralization after each meal."

"The problem is with snacking. Some children have destructive acid at work for as long as five hours because they are constantly snacking, and this counteracts the ability of the fluoride to mend the decay."

Fenton said changes in patterns of dental disease since the 1960s have influenced the way dentists use fluoride therapy.

"Today, more than half of tooth decay among school-age children occurs in only 20 percent of the students, those who either are not getting fluoride or need additional protection."

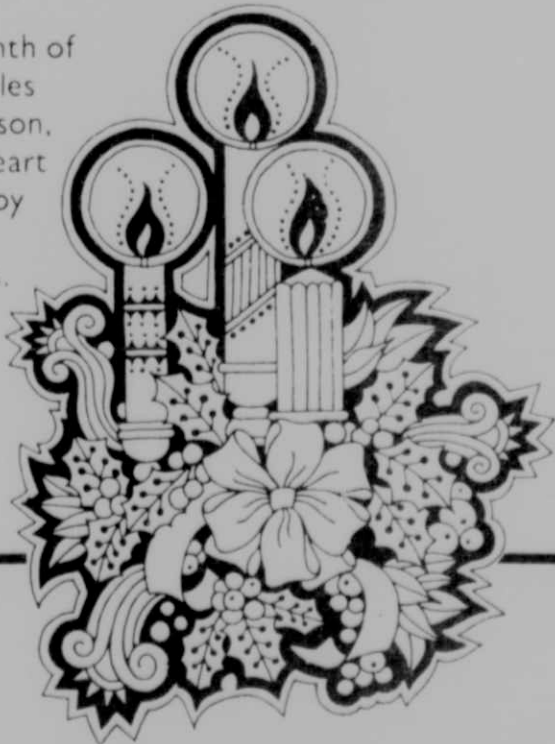

"Water fluoridation," he said, "has been very beneficial and costs only about 25 cents per year for each member of a community."

Fluoride in the communal water supply reduces decay with both a systemic and topical effect. In non-fluoridated areas, fluoride drops or tablets can provide up to 80 percent decay resistance if used from infancy. Gels or liquids, usually prescribed by dentists, are topical

In the front row, left to right, are: Dave Tichnell, Terri Roth, Pam Sines and Joy McCain. In the back row, same order, are: Steve O'Brien, John McCartney, and Kenny Giotfelly. Serving as judges for Saturday's VICA competition were David Mayfield, Bernice Keppie, Job Skill Demonstration; Gene Flinn, Joyce Flinn, Suzanne Giotfelly, Job Interview; and Pat Bowser, Alice Hevner, and Robin Spiker, Extemporaneous Speaking, Prepared Speech and Opening and Closing.

APPRECIATION AWARD — An appreciation award was presented to Pat Bowser for the work she has done and the support she has given VICA over the years. The award was presented by Southern VICA Advisor Steve Cosner following the second annual Southern High School VICA Job Skills Competitions on December 12.

Hospice Holds Holiday Luncheon For Volunteers

Hospice volunteers from Hospice of Garrett County, Inc. were honored with a Christmas luncheon by the Board of Directors and officers on Saturday, December 12, at Will O' the Wisp.

Over 35 volunteer caregivers and auxiliary members attended the buffet which was sponsored by donations from Mettiki Coal Corporation and the Four Seasons Restaurant.

Speakers included: Clinton Englander, president of Hospice; Dr. Margaret Kaiser, medical director; Dr. William Pope, Garrett County Health Officer; and Wayne R. Johnson, executive director. Father Martin Feld asked the blessing prior to the meal.

The speakers stressed the importance of volunteers and auxiliary members in their roles of the implementation of the hospice concept in Garrett County.

"Without these volunteers, we have no hospice," said Johnson. "Their volunteer time is invaluable. A monetary cost cannot be placed on the services rendered by our volunteers."

Door prizes were donated by Grandmother's House, Flowers by Webers and Clipper Ship Salon. Gifts were won by Father Feld, Betty Vitez and Eva Miller.

DNR Recruiting For Summer '88

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service in Garrett County announced it will hire over 50 persons for summer jobs at New Germany, Big Run, Deep Creek Lake, Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls State Parks. The jobs include building and grounds maintenance, small construction projects, fee collections, office duties, interpretive programming and seasonal rangers.

To qualify, applicants must be able to read and write, provide their own transportation to work, be physically able to perform the required tasks and be available to work a variety of shift schedules including weekends, holidays, evenings and nights.

Applications will be accepted from persons who are at least 16 years of age as of May 1, 1988. However, first consideration will be given to applicants who are at least 18 years of age. Applications will be accepted until January 31, 1988, for first consideration. Late applications may be considered to meet future needs. Complete information, job descriptions and job applications are available only through Job Service, 216 East Alder Street, Oakland, MD 21550, telephone, 334-3972.

Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Merry Christmas Around The World

The glad tidings the angels sang on that eve long ago truly brought joy to the world. In whatever language "Merry Christmas" is spoken, the words bring special joy today. "Merry Christmas is spoken as:

"A Christmas Carol" Was Born

It was in 1843 that Charles Dickens' famous story of Scrooge and Tiny Tim first gladdened the hearts of its readers.

The novelist had been so engrossed in another long story he was writing that he stopped for a "breather" and started "A Christmas Carol." Just as he had fallen so completely under the spell of the longer story, he now concentrated on this new little classic.

All the people who've laughed at Mr. and Mrs. Fezziwig and cried over Tiny Tim have done just as Charles Dickens did as he put these folks into his story.

Many nights after other households were sound asleep, Charles walked the black streets of London putting his story together.

On the day it hit the stands, just a few days before that Christmas, 6,000 copies of this classic were completely sold out. Most of all, the story seems to point out that Christmas is just another day without the warmth from within shining out.

DNR EMPLOYEE RETIRES — Ward Ashby, Deep Creek Lake, was honored December 10 at a retirement dinner by the Department of Natural Resources at the Will O' the Wisp. Some 90 people came out to honor the retiree. The dinner was coordinated by Susan Friend and Jim Wilburn of the Deep Creek Lake office. Mr. Ashby's retirement will become effective January 1, 1988. He began service with the Maryland Forest and Park Service in 1948 and later served in the military during the Korean Conflict before becoming park manager in 1956, three years before the park opened to the public. As park manager, he has seen many changes in a once-primitive area and has always been a strong supporter of new park programs. Pictured, left to right, are Nellie and Ward Ashby, Officer Rich Towers, DNR Police, who served as master of ceremonies; and Jim Wilburn, assistant park manager. Also present was Mr. Ashby's mother, Bessie Ashby. Gifts presented to Mr. Ashby included a clock with a DNR insignia, a lifetime pass to any Maryland State Park, a 35mm camera, a plaque from the Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 77, and a plaque from the Western Region DNR Police, presented by Capt. Jack Taylor. He was also given a scrapbook of his years with the department. "I have mixed emotions about my retirement," said Mr. Ashby. "This work will always be in my blood."

The Origins Of Christmas Carols

Ever wonder the origins of those old familiar carols during the Christmas season? Some of them even date back before the 1300's. All of them were inspired by the blessed birth of the Christ child.

"Adestes Fideles" ("Oh Come All Ye Faithful") is not strictly a carol, but a Latin hymn of praise. It was composed by John Reading in the 1700's. The tune first appeared in the collection known as Cantus Diversi in 1751. The translation by Frederick Oakeley is the most familiar.

The words of "Silent Night, Holy Night" are known throughout the world. Joseph Mohr, a pastor in Oberndorf, Germany, wrote the words on Christmas Eve in 1818. Franz Gruber, the schoolmaster and organist, composed the tune at the same time.

"Good Christian Men Rejoice" was originally a very old Latin Christmas song called "In dulci jubilo." John Mason Neale translated it about the middle of the 1800's. The melody is probably German, and dates from the 1300's or earlier.

"God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," a familiar carol, is an old English song. It dates at least as far back as the 1500's.

Edmund H. Sears wrote the words to the Christmas hymn, "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear," in 1849. He was a pastor in Wayland, Mass., at the time. The music was supplied by Richard S. Willis, then editor of "Musical World," in his "Study No. 23." Uzziah Burnap arranged this to go with the words in 1850.

Issac Watts, the great English hymn writer, based "Joy To The World" on the Ninety-Eighth Psalm. Its words indicate the missionary spirit of the 1700's. Lowell Mason arranged the words to the music of several choruses from the "Messiah" by Handel.

The words to "O Little Town of Bethlehem" are by Phillips Brooks, a great Boston minister. He wrote them in 1867 for his Sunday school in Philadelphia, where he was then preaching. Lewis Redner, organist of the church, wrote the tune.

It is not known who wrote the words or music to "The First Noel," a carol from the west of England. It first appeared in 1833 in "Christmas Carols Ancient and Modern," collected by W.D. Sandys.

Only the Psalms of David were sung in the Anglican Church before 1700. Among the first compositions produced after this time was "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks By Night," written by Nahum Tate in 1703. The familiar melody used for this carol was taken from "Siroe," an opera by Handel.

Charles Wesley, brother of John, wrote the words to "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing!" in 1739. The tune is from "Festgesang" by Mendelssohn.

PSC Recommends Deregulation Of RCC Industry

The Maryland Public Service Commission has recommended to the Governor that the General Assembly appeal and eliminate the PSC's jurisdiction and authority to regulate the Radio Common Carrier (RCC) Industry in Maryland. The Commission's action was taken in response to increasing consumer demand for RCC service and increasing competition within the RCC industry.

Presently there are 23 RCC's, including paging "Beeper" systems and cellular "Mobile" telephone companies providing service in various parts of the state. In a recently issued order, the PSC stated that increasing competition within the industry is providing necessary incentives for the effective delivery of a broad range of RCC services at competitive prices. With the emergence of com-

Prescription Drug Assistance Income Standards Changed

The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene has announced an across-the-board increase of approximately $300 in maximum income standards for the Maryland Pharmacy Assistance Program enabling more people to take advantage of the program.

If a single person has a gross annual income of $6,400 or less, assets less than $3,750, and is not receiving Medical Assistance (Medicaid), that person may be eligible to obtain prescription drugs and certain other covered prescription items at a cost of one dollar, with the State paying the remaining cost.

For each additional eligible person in the family, the income limit increases by approximately $600, and the assets increase by $150.

Approximately 15,000 Marylanders are receiving support from the Pharmacy Assistance Program.

More information about the program and an application form can be obtained by calling (toll-free) 1-800-492-1974. For the hearing-impaired, call TTY 1-800-451-2045.

Accident Mail Carrier Places In Slogan Contest

Lisa C. Bonar, a rural carrier associate at the Accident Post Office, was recently awarded third place in the U.S. Postal Service Fall Safety Slogan Contest, according to James A. McDougald, field division general manager and postmaster of Baltimore.

Ms. Bonar's slogan read:

"Autumn leaves look nice; but when wet, beware! Like ice!" She received an embossed folder with a congratulatory letter from McDougald and a $25 gift certificate.

"Employee participation in this contest displayed the genuine interest and commitment to safety that is so essential to our Positive Safety Program and in keeping with our safety theme: 'Safety and Health for All Seasons,'" McDougald said.

Ms. Bonar resides in Accident with her husband, Gary, and daughter, Lauren.

Mountaineers Hear Harrison
 "Christmas Joy" was the theme for the opening devotions at the December 14 meeting of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club in the Eglon Memorial Building. Program committee Debra and Donald Rinehart, Billy Moore and Becky Snyder presented them.

Freddie Harrison, Terra Alta, town policeman and school bus driver, was present to tell of substance abuse. He ended his talk by informing the group of the penalties and fines related to arrests of persons found with controlled substances, for DUI, DWI, and other alcohol offenses.

The music committee led the group in singing "Jingle Bells" and "Three Little Angels" before the business meeting.

Amy Mathes received her new-member pin. A thank-you note from the Caring Council was read. The three top sellers of tickets for the beef, hog, lamb raffle were announced. They have been awarded monetary prizes. Top sellers in the club were Mark Utterback, Regina Shaffer and Jeremiah Feather. The club is planning an after-Christmas party for December 28 from 7 until 9 p.m. at the Eglon Memorial Building. Games will be prepared by the recreation committee. All members are to bring pizza or other snacks for refreshments and a gift to exchange. Elizabeth Whitehair, former president, will be recognized at this time.

Talks were given by Kevin Teets who told "How to Choose a Subject for a Photo Story," by Dannie Rinehart on "The Proper Fuel Mixture for a Two-stroke Engine," and by Becky Snyder on "What Is 4432?"

The Feather and Utterback families served refreshments to the following: Kevin and Brian Corbin, Shane Dixon, Melissa Evans, Jeremiah and Nathan Feather, Carroll Joe Hartsell, Emily and Julie Lewis, Amy Mathes, Danny and Billy Moore, Donna and Patty Mullenax, Donald and Debra Rinehart, Regina Shaffer, Tammy

Slaubaugh, Natalie Snyder, Becky Snyder, Aaron and Kevin Teets, John, Matt and Katie Utterback and Elizabeth Wotring. Mothers present were Diane Evans and Beth, Jean Rinehart, Judy Shaffer, Linda Snyder, Cheryl Dixon, Robin Feather, Carolyn Mullenax, Sue

To Observe 95th

Mrs. Hazel Hughes, formerly of Aurora, attended her 95th birthday on January 5. Her address is: Colonial Gardens Care Center, 563 Colony Park Drive, Tallmadge, Ohio 44278.

Of Personal Interest

Mrs. Nina Layman of Aurora, was admitted December 15 to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she is undergoing tests.

Her neighbor, Mrs. Lydia Harsh of Aurora, is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital in ICU where she was admitted also on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Bolyard of Eglon, attended a meeting at State College, Pa., on December 10 sponsored by the Pioneer Company for their dealers of which Mr. Bolyard is one. They were weekend guests of Pete Walker in the eastern panhandle.

Mrs. Norma McCombs last week returned her mother, Mrs. Ellen Osborne, to her home at Columbus, Ohio.

Present Christmas Program

A short concert by the 6th, 7th and 8th grade members of the Aurora School Band preceded the Christmas program presented December 15 by the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of Aurora Elementary School. The band is directed by Kent Pomeroy.

The program opened with the reading of "The Night Before Christmas" by Katie Utterback. "What, No Santa was a short play as was "The Trouble With Christmas." Both concerned the modern role of women in the Christmas tradition and whether the spirit of Christmas "Santa Claus" is a myth or reality. "A New Angle on Christmas" showed the difference in attitude between adults who are busy with the preparation of Christmas and the children with their anticipation of the season.

The 4th, 5th and 6th grade choruses then sang "Christmas Isn't Christmas" featuring a solo by Elizabeth Wotring; "Nuttin' for Christmas," "Old Kris Kringle" and "Sweet Angel, the Christmas Tree Angel," which featured solos by Darla Ball, Klarissa Wiles, Amy Moats and Katie Utterback.

The evening concluded with several selections sung by members of the faculty and staff. Accompanist for the evening was Wilma Mae Teets and the chorus was directed by J. Michael Fike. The program will be presented again on December 23 at the school for those of the student body and any adults who may wish to attend.

East Preston Concert
 Opening with "The Star Spangled Banner" arranged by Kenyon, the East Preston High Band concert was held December 17 at the school. Moving through several modern pieces, such as "La Bamba" and "Gonna Fly Now," they arrived at the Christmas segment of the concert with another in the modern vein, "Ridin' on Santa's Sleigh," continued with "The Christmas Song" and two medleys of Christmas tunes, "An Old English Christmas" and "Happy Christmas Holiday." The band is under the direction of Kenneth Garlow.

Musical Drama

On Sunday evening, December 20, a musical drama, "Hark, the Herald Angel" was presented at the Maple Spring Church by a choir and members of the Sunday School Youth and elementary classes. The setting was in Heaven, with plans being made for announcing the Good News to the shepherds and to the world.

The program was followed by the singing of carols by the congregation and refreshments were served in the church basement.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Nina Layman returned Friday to her home near Aurora after undergoing tests in Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Guests on Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Mildred Wilt, Eglon, were Mr. and Mrs. John Melinger and Mrs. Amelia Wolf of Pleasant Valley and Wilda Wilt of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Frantz and their children, Donnie, Melvin and Melissa, of North Chicago, are visiting in Eglon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harsh, Stan and Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frantz Sr. Beulah Hardesty of Aurora entered Garrett County Memorial Hospital Friday. She is a patient there along with her husband, Dave.

Local Residents Among Police Academy Grads

The Maryland Natural Resources Police Academy graduated and commissioned 20 new police officers, including two from Oakland, on Friday, December 11, in ceremonies held at Queen Anne's County High School in Centerville. Natural Resources police are vested with full police powers throughout the state; however, the bulk of their duties involve conservation law enforcement and the protection of Maryland's many natural resources. Maryland's Natural Resources Police Force has been recognized nationwide for its professionalism and leadership in the field of conservation law enforcement.

Dr. Torrey C. Brown, Natural Resources Secretary, noted that he was "very proud" of the Force and expressed his pleasure with the number of minorities in the class. Graduating in the 37th Recruiting Class were four blacks, four females, one Hispanic and one Asian, making this class more than 50 percent minority.

"These numbers reflect DNR's commitment to affirmative action and we are building a solid program for the future through targeted recruitment efforts," said Brown. He also noted that the Department of Natural Resources has a strong affirmative action program in place throughout the department.

Instruction focused on law enforcement, conservation, communications, investigations, maintenance, logistics, boat and vehicle operations.

The Oakland graduates are David M. Marple, II and Kimberly D. Trickett.

The Force now totals 225. The 38th NRP Academy Class is scheduled to begin on January 11, 1988, and has 18 recruits enrolled.

THE BONE CONDUCTION AID

Otosclerosis is an abnormal growth of spongy bone that can occur at the entrance to the inner ear. This immobilizes the base of the stirrup, a tiny bone through which sound waves pass into the inner ear. As a result, the stirrup cannot transmit some or all of the sound waves that enter the ear. This causes conductive hearing loss in that ear. In such cases of marked conductive hearing loss, a bone-conduction hearing aid may be used. With it, sound is transmitted from the apparatus not through an earphone but through a vibrating pad that touches the bony mastoid process behind the ear. Vibrations are then able to pass through the bone to the inner ear.

The nature of one's hearing impairment will dictate the particular type of hearing assist device that will provide the most benefit. With this knowledge ALLEGANY HEARING & SPEECH ASSOCIATES will show you the devices available and help you choose the instrument that will provide the maximum benefit for you. Come in soon and "hear" what we mean. We'd like to extend our best wishes for the holiday season and the coming New Year to all our readers of this column.

In approximately 80 percent of all cases of otosclerosis, both of the ears are affected.

VISIT GREATER OAKLAND — The Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA), in its continuing effort to strengthen and support the business community in Garrett County, has successfully completed its second major project after nearly two years of research and planning. The billboard project originated when members of the association became aware of the large number of visitors in the county who were unaware of the services available less than 15 minutes south of the lake area. The billboard is located on the west side of U.S. Route 219, just south of the Route 42 junction. The group pictured above represents the 85 members of GOBA, a widespread organization with members in Swanton, McHenry, Oakland, Loch Lynn, Mtn. Lake Park and Deer Park. Pictured, left to right, are: Roger Glotfelty, representing Glotfelty Enterprises; Lois Beckman, Beckman

IN MEMORY

Of our Beloved Son, Husband and Brother
Rick Reckner

Whom God took away from us two years ago on December 20, 1985.

A million times we've thought of you, a million tears we've cried.
If love could have saved you, you would never have died.
It is so lonesome here without you, and we miss you every day.

Life is not the same without you since you went away.
Our hearts ache so with sadness and secret tears still flow.

We think of you in silence, but make no outward show.
What it meant to lose you, no one will ever know.
You wished no one farewell or even said goodbye.
You were gone before we knew it, and only God knows why.

To some, you may be forgotten, to others, part of the past.
But to those of us who loved you so, your memories will always last.

And you've never gone away.
Loving you always and missing you so very much.

MDHM Issues Guidelines For Holiday Safety

'Tis the season to be jolly, but the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) reminds us that the holiday season should be safe as well. Last year 113,000 people nationwide were treated in hospitals for toy-related injuries. Approximately 95,000 of those injuries involved children under 15 and 61,000 of those injured were children under 5 years old.

"There are some very important things to keep in mind when buying toys for children," said David L. Resh Jr., director of the DHMH Office of Food and Product Health. "These guidelines will help ensure a safe and happy holiday for everyone."

1. Follow the manufacturers' age recommendations as labeled on the toys. Instruct older children to store certain toys (chemistry sets, electrically operated toys) away from younger brothers and sisters.
2. Before buying, make sure toys don't have sharp parts and edges or small pieces that could be inhaled or swallowed.
3. Teach children the correct way to use and play with toys.
4. Children can play rough —

NO CHRISTMAS BONUS AT ALL."

make sure toys are made of durable materials. It is VERY important to emphasize to children that they should NEVER shoot or throw objects at anyone's eyes.

If your home will be decorated with a live Christmas tree, remember a fresh tree will stay green longer and be less of a fire hazard than a dry tree. To check for freshness:

- Needles should be hard to pull from branches;
- Fresh needles should not break when bent between the fingers;
- The cut end of a fresh tree should be sticky with resin;
- Bounce the trunk of the tree on the ground — if a shower of needles falls, the tree is too dry.

Once inside, keep the tree's base holder filled with water, just as you would fresh flowers. A heated room can dry a tree out very quickly creating a fire hazard.

Many artificial trees are fire resistant. If you decide to purchase an artificial tree, check for a label specifying the duration of this protection. Use only non-combustible or flame-resistant materials to trim the tree. Wear gloves if decorating with spun-glass "angel hair" — it can irritate eyes and skin. Choose tinsel or artificial icicles of plastic or non-leaded metals. Leaded materials are hazardous if ingested by children and pets.

In homes with small children:

- Don't use decorations that are sharp or breakable;

- Keep trimmings with small removable parts out of the reach of children;

- Avoid trimmings that look like candy or food — a child could mistake them for the real thing and eat them.

- Artificial snow sprays can irritate lungs if inhaled and may also be flammable. Read container labels and follow directions carefully to avoid injury.

- Poisonous plants such as mistletoe and poinsettias should be kept out of the reach of children.

Parents Should Continue Using Car Safety Seats

Winter, spring, summer or fall, children must be properly buckled in a safety seat during every car ride, for their protection, according to Project KISS (Kids In Safety Seats) of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

"During the winter months many parents become lax about properly buckling their children into car seats when they are wearing bulky snowsuits and jackets," said Janie Gordon, Project KISS coordinator. "Take the few extra minutes to protect your child, it's worth it."

"When your baby is bundled up you may need to readjust the car seat's harness straps to keep the child both safe and comfortable."

"If your infant-only seat can't accommodate a baby dressed for winter it may be time to switch to a larger convertible seat which allows more room for your child. Be sure to use this seat in the rear-facing position until your infant has been sitting unsupported for about a month," she said.

Maryland law requires that any child under 3 years old must ride in a federally approved safety seat. Any 3 or 4-year-old must be in an approved safety seat or safety belt.

Motor vehicle accidents are the number one killer andcrippler of young children, claiming more lives than all other diseases and accidents combined. These accidents are also the number one traumatic cause of epilepsy and are a major cause of mental retardation and spinal cord injury in children.

"The solution to this major public health problem is for children to use car safety seats and seats belts," Gordon concluded.

The average 18-month-old little girl will be just about twice as tall and five times as heavy at the age of 18.

Applications For Summer Centers Being Accepted

The Maryland State Department of Education is now accepting student applications for 1988 residential and non-residential summer centers offering a variety of programs for gifted and talented students. Maryland students currently enrolled in grades 3-11 are eligible to apply to the Maryland Summer Centers for Gifted and Talented Students. Brochures containing applications and course information are available in every public and private school across the state.

Students must return completed applications to their schools by January 29, 1988.

The Maryland Summer Centers offer an opportunity to engage in intensive, advanced-level learning at 15 sites for 2,600 students who demonstrate outstanding academic, intellectual, or leadership ability or who are talented in the visual or performing arts.

The program offers studies in mathematics and computers, writing and the humanities, visual and performing arts, critical and creative thinking, space science technology, environmental studies, science and social sciences, leadership development, economics and government, international studies as well as internships in business, industry, government and public service.

In addition, this year Baltimore County will offer both residential and non-residential state-approved local programs in archaeological research at Oregon Ridge. Jefferson Patterson Park and Museum in Southern Maryland will also offer a residential course in archaeology through the network of summer centers. Expanded course offerings aboard the Lady Maryland, the floating classroom on the Chesapeake Bay, for senior high students, will also explore the social and environmental factors which affect urban and rural living near the bay. Students will learn essential nautical skills as they sail from various ports on the eastern shore.

Capitalizing on the success of parent and child astronomy as well as light and photography coursework last summer, the Center for Science Studies is providing several courses for entering sixth grade students and their parents through the Maryland Science Center in Baltimore.

Students are selected based on a comprehensive application which includes teacher recommendations, a student essay, test scores (for applicants to academic centers) and auditions or interviews (for music, dance theatre, and visual arts applicants). Selection committees try to achieve representation for each of Maryland's 24 school systems based on a proportional distribution system.

Twelve of the 15 sites are residential. Each center charges an instructional fee of $50. Room and board fees for residential centers range from $165 to $275 for two weeks. Financial aid is available to qualified applicants.

For information, including financial aid opportunities, students should contact their school principal, guidance counselor, or gifted and talented program coordinator, or call the Maryland State Department of Education in Baltimore at 333-1910 or 333-2359.

HOYES

The United Methodist Women had their annual Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harvey on Friday with nine members and the hostess, plus one child present. A Christmas program was presented by the group, consisting of Scripture, prayer and poems and singing of several Christmas songs. Secret sisters were revealed and new names drawn. A lunch was served by the hostess, Mary June Harvey. It was decided to cancel the meetings for January and February. Week of Prayer and Self-Denial will be observed in March with a regular meeting in April at the home of Lori Schmuck, Accident.

Mrs. Vera Dunithan was a Thursday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Sanner Sr. Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Sanner Sr. were Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Friend, Friendsville.

Visitors of Mrs. Evelyn George last week were Mrs. Connie George, Stacy and Tony, Rev. and Mrs. H.B. Rittenhouse, Rev. and Mrs. Wilfred Karsten and daughter, Anna.

David Raney, Upper Falls, Mass., was a Saturday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Border, Penny, Lynda and Brenda, Mt. Airy, and Bobby Messick Jr., Felton, Del., and Hazel Haentfling and Elva See of Ridgeley, W. Va., were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haentfling. The above and Mr. and Mrs. James Fike, Allen, Gary and Linda were Sunday dinner guests for Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. George Haentfling, Earl Meyers of Addison, Pa., and Candi Friend were also dinner guests.

The Christmas covered dish dinner that was held at the local Church Social Room on Sunday afternoon, was well-attended (around 60). It was also a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Wilburn on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Christmas Eve Service Slated At St. Paul's

What has become an annual tradition at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland will continue this year with a Christmas Eve Service at 8 p.m. on December 24. The service will be highlighted by three special musical offerings, plus the baptism of a baby.

Ed Bittinger will sing "O Holy Night," Mary Beth Johnson will sing "Heirloom," and Tom and Susan Peterson will present a piece by John Michael Talbot entitled "Wonderful Counselor." It will be a service of carols and hymns, with the pastor, Rev. Dr. Allen C. Ridenour, preaching on "God's Word Breaks the Silence."

All are welcome to attend and participate in the service. A nursery will be provided.

Legal Aid Bureau Announces Jan. Outreach Schedule

Staff members of the Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., will be available to discuss legal problems with persons during January in Oakland on January 5 and January 19, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Community Action Center in Oakland.

The Bureau has discontinued its monthly outreach in Grantsville. Residents of the Grantsville area are requested to call the Cumberland office at 777-7474 and an appointment will be scheduled.

The Bureau provides legal assistance in civil matters to eligible persons. Services are available at no cost to those whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The Western Maryland office of the Bureau is located at 110 Greene St. in Cumberland. The office can be reached in Garrett County by calling 334-8832.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call in advance to schedule an appointment for the outreach location or for an appointment at the Cumberland office, according to Bureau officials.

There will not be a representative available in Oakland if Garrett County schools are cancelled because of bad weather. On days when the weather is bad persons should always call the Cumberland office at 334-8832 by 10 a.m. each scheduled outreach day to confirm whether the representative will be available in Oakland.

JUSTICE ACADEMY GRADUATES — Pictured are members of the 18th entrance-level graduating class of the Eastern Shore Criminal Justice Academy, operated by Wor-Wic Tech Community College in Salisbury. Two Garrett County residents were among the graduates, both of whom are with the Maryland Forest, Parks and Wildlife Service. They are Jeffrey H. Herndon and John H. Frank, pictured in the fifth row, third and fourth from left, respectively. The commencement was held in the auditorium of Wicomico Senior High School, with Robert E. Almon, recently-retired head of Wor-Wic Tech's criminal justice department.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigating Theft Of ATV

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is currently investigating a theft that occurred last week, resulting in an $800 to $1,000 loss for a Mtn. Lake Park resident.

According to Edward L. Garland, sometime between last Tuesday and Friday, a 1984 Honda three-wheeler 200X Honda was removed from his garage behind his residence on I Street. The recreational vehicle is red and white in color. Deputy P.J. Pratt is investigating the theft.

The theft of snap-on multiplier wrench, stolen last October, was recently reported to the Sheriff's Department.

The theft occurred when someone reportedly entered a storage building at the Harvey Brothers Farm on Sand Flat Road and removed the wrench, valued at $495.10. Deputy Denver Welch is investigating.

Ronald E. Harvey, Swanton, reported a breaking and entering and theft that occurred between December 15 and 16 at the Deer Park Sportsman Club. Harvey stated that 14 cartons of cigarettes and $90 in cash were removed from the establishment.

According to investigating officer, Deputy J. Murphy, damage to the front door jamb and a juke box was also reported. The loss in damage and merchandise was estimated at $420. A pry bar was reportedly used to gain entry.

GRANTSVILLE

WOW News

The Woodmen of the World Lodge No. 41 met at the Woodmen Hall on Monday evening for an elk dinner, along with covered dishes.

Rev. Connell Chaney gave the invocation. There were 30 members in attendance. After the dinner, Phyllis Bender, president, called the regular meeting to order.

Six applications were submitted. Janet Wable introduced the guests. A report was given on the sick and two cards were sent.

Plans were finalized to go to the Goodwill Nursing Home on Thursday evening.

An installation of officers was conducted by Walter Younkin. They are: president, Harold Butler; vice president, Lillian Guthrie; treasurer, Charles Bender; secretary, Thomas Bender; escort, Janice Pope; watchman, Alice Younkin; sentry, Janet Wable; musician, Rose Lee Folk; and trustees, Scott Pope, James Guthrie and Walter Younkin.

Harold Butler was then handed the gavel, and he adjourned the meeting.

The next meeting will be January 11 at 8 p.m.

After the meeting, many stayed to practice singing

Christmas carols and a program to take to the Goodwill Nursing Home on December 17. There were 12 persons who participated. Treats were prepared for the residents. Santa Claus arrived to present the treats to the residents.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

The Underwood Bible study group which was to be in the home of Mildred Peterson on Thursday afternoon was cancelled because of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Canan, Marylyn, Carolina, Clarissa, Autumn Canan and David, Scott and Jarrod Canan, Accident, and Eric Paugh, Regina and Stephen Sandberg, of Nicholasville, Ky., spent a few hours on Sunday afternoon with Mr. Canan's mother, Bessie Canan, for an early Christmas.

Mildred Peterson spent Sunday visiting her sister and family, the Keith Cummings.

Gladys Espenson, Dallas, Texas, who had spent sometime visiting her mother, Mrs. Mildred Peterson, has returned home.

In Loving Memory Of My Husband Walter W. Richter

There's the cheery glow of light, holly is hanging on the door,
And the Christmas tree is standing where it always stood before Christmas seems as good as could be, cooking smells as tempting too.
But things aren't as they should be,
Something's missing and it's you, Dad.
There's a pleasant little flurry, as there was in years gone by Boxes opened in a hurry, gifts to please the heart and eye.
Christmas seems as good as could be, just as many things to do.
But things aren't as they should be,
Something's missing and it's you.
Everything just as it should be, if we were not missing you.
Loving memories of you still linger, as each season comes and goes.

HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH?

When you are ready to purchase your next home, how much will you offer as "earnest money" when you sign the agreement of sale? If you are a seller, how much earnest money should you require from buyers?

Before answering those questions, let's examine why an earnest money deposit is needed at all. An agreement to purchase real estate of any kind requires a written document detailing the terms of the purchase. This agreement becomes a legally binding contract once it is signed. One of the requirements is that "consideration" (money or other property) be paid in exchange for the property itself.

Since the seller is obligated to give good title to the property by signing the agreement, it becomes logical that the purchaser should show "good faith" or that they are in "earnest" by placing an advance on the purchase price, a "deposit", on the table. This is done upon signing the agreement of sale.

The actual amount is determined by the parties to the agreement. It is negotiated. It should be a substantial sum serving as a "good faith" guarantee that the purchaser intends to complete the sale. At the same time, it need not be a prohibitive amount resulting in no agreement at all. It is also a wise move, for a purchaser to offer more than expected if an offer to purchase is being made at a low price. This action indicates serious intent to the seller.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303 or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

Maryland Citizens For The Arts To Host Conference

Maryland Citizens for the Arts, the advocacy organization for friends of the arts in Maryland, is hosting a free conference titled "Maryland Arts Day in Annapolis," Wednesday, January 27, at the Annapolis Hotel. Arts supporters are recruiting 600 citizens statewide to travel to Annapolis and meet with their district representatives in the General Assembly. According to Sue Hess, chairman of the Maryland Citizens for the Arts, all conference attendees will have scheduled appointments with their legislators to explain the importance of the arts to their constituencies and to request support of a budget increase to the Maryland State Arts Council for fiscal year 1989.

"Maryland Arts Day in Annapolis" will also include workshops, a cocktail reception, and the presentation of the Maryland Citizens for the Arts "Award of the Year." Workshop subjects include "Successful Advocacy: the 'Do's & Don'ts' of Lobbying," "Why Businesses Support the Arts," and "How To Involve Local Governments in Supporting the Arts." The program is supported through the giving of Cardinal Industries, Inc., Maryland Region.

Each of the 24 County Arts Councils throughout Maryland are participating in the conference. Free buses will be available from all areas of the state. Parking will be provided for those who prefer to drive. Citizens interested in attending should contact their local County Arts Council for more information and for bus reservations. The contact persons for the Garrett County Arts Council are Dorothy Leighton, president, 334-3315, and Ruth Smouse, coordinator, 826-8746.

Maryland Citizens for the Arts is a volunteer, non-profit, statewide advocacy organization of 4,500 members who lobby in Annapolis for adequate state funding for the Maryland State Arts Council (MSAC). The MSAC, in turn, allocates funds to many small professional and amateur groups, major arts institutions, and individual artists throughout Maryland, and to all County Arts Councils which then redistribute these funds to their own unique and distinctive cultural activities.

Maryland Citizens for the Arts has been instrumental in stimulating the growth of the Maryland State Arts Council's budget from $400,000 in 1976 to $5.6 million in the current fiscal year.

Stricter Regs. Set For Drug Screening Labs

Adele Wilzack, R.N.M.S., secretary of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, has approved changes to existing guidelines regulating laboratories in Maryland that do drug testing. The changes will take effect December 28, 1987.

Under the new regulations all labs must obtain a permit to perform urine drug testing to screen for illegal drug abuse, and must meet additional quality assurance standards. "The amendments were approved in response to the increase in the number of companies establishing employee drug testing policies and in response to the controversy surrounding the issues," said Dr. Jack DeBoy, Chief of the DHMH Laboratories Licensure Division.

Maryland's new guidelines will force laboratories to meet legal and forensic requirements as well as establish uniform standards of testing. Drug testing labs will now be required to implement and maintain stricter handling procedures, including the acceptance of only sealed specimens, maintaining locked specimen storage areas, and keeping an access log for each secure area. "These steps will help to ensure the legal integrity of the test results," said Dr. DeBoy.

The new standards will also require the laboratory director, or at least one member of the drug screening laboratory's staff, to be certified in toxicological chemistry by the American Board of Clinical Chemistry or in forensic toxicology by the American Board of Forensic Toxicology.

SANTA CLAUS CAME TO TOWN — Santa came to Oakland a few days early this year (he may have been checking his list, finding out who's naughty or nice). While he was downtown Monday, Thursday and Friday nights, he distributed treats to children who were finishing up their Christmas shopping. It's reported that Santa was delighted with the new town decorations and the community tree, and to help the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) collect enough money to pay the final third of the bill for the decorations, he rushed to The Small Pedlar and was given a lovely brass bucket by Kathy Gibson, which he used to collect the donations. Funds are still needed and donations are being accepted by any GOBA member.

First United Branch To Have Limited Service

The Board of Directors of First United National Bank & Trust has announced that its Thayer Center Office, north of Oakland, will become a "limited service facility" effective Monday, January 11. A limited service facility, in this instance, means that only drive-up and night depository services for routine banking transactions will be available. No lobby services will be offered there as of the above date.

"A gradual decline in lobby traffic at that office due mainly to the growing popularity of automatic teller machines, Direct Deposit services and other electronic funds transfer systems, has prompted us to take this action," stated Richard G. Stanton, president of First United.

New drive-up hours, to be adopted January 11, will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday.

No jobs will be lost as a result of the closing of Thayer Center's lobby, Stanton said, as the extra staff members there will be re-assigned to the two high-traffic locations in Oakland: Mid-Towns and the Main Office.

In considering the decision to close the lobby at Thayer Center, Stanton said, "Strong, high-performing banks throughout the state and nation are making similar adjustments in the way they deliver services to their customers. This action is an attempt to respond effectively to the changing needs of our customers, while maintaining an acceptable level of profitability for our shareholders."

The decision to close Thayer Center's lobby comes at a time when the bank is reporting record earnings and strong growth in loans, deposits and stock prices, Stanton said.

First United National Bank & Trust operates full-service banking facilities throughout Garrett and Allegany counties. It published assets totaling $261 million as of September 30, 1987. The bank employs 251 people in the two-county area.

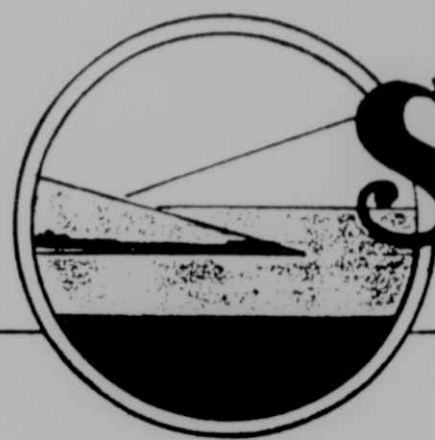

License Renewal Deadline For Nurses Reported

The Board of Nursing is currently in the process of renewing the licenses of those registered nurses and licensed practical nurses whose current registration expires on January 31, 1988.

Any licensee who has not received their renewal application should contact the Boards office at 225-5880. Any licensee who has not yet submitted the renewal application and fee to the Board is urged to do so immediately.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS AND WELCOME SKIERS

To Deep Creek Lake And

SKI HARBOR

A Luxury Lakefront Condominium Community

DEEP CREEK DRIVE, McHENRY, MD

Look what we have to offer:

Ski Harbor's Great Location

Ski Harbor is a unique new lakefront condominium community, located on its own peninsula on the shores of beautiful Deep Creek Lake. Country Magazine has identified Deep Creek Lake as one of the ten best recreational property investments. Ski Harbor is your opportunity to invest in one of the area's premier sites.

Ski Harbor, with over 1,300 feet of shoreline, will be your haven for the excellent swimming, boating, fishing, and water skiing on the lake—not to mention the panoramic view!

Ski Harbor was designed with you in mind and will include adequate docking facilities, an indoor swimming pool and tennis facilities.

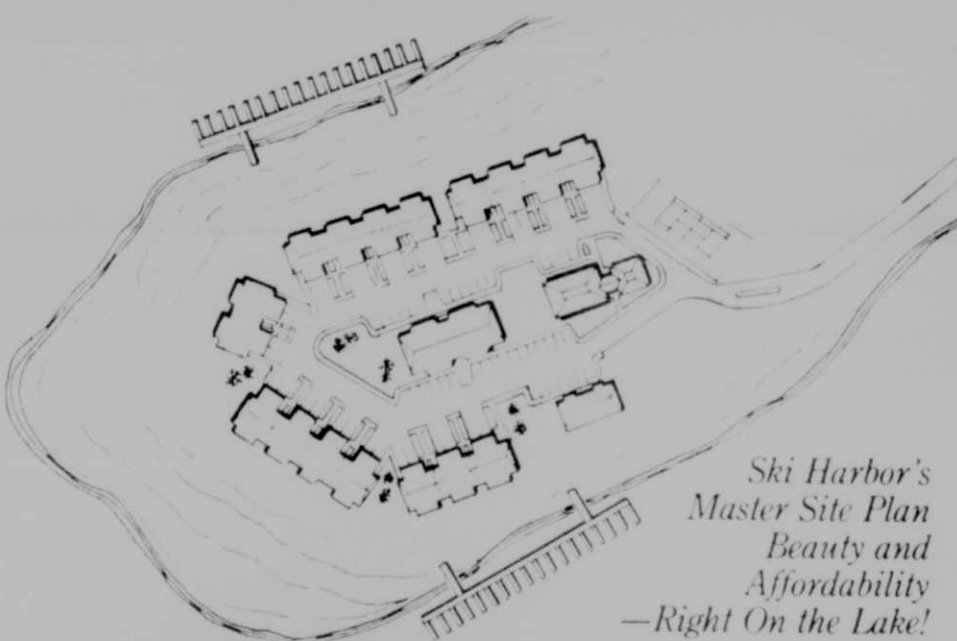

Quality Design and Affordable Pricing

This is definitely the most exciting aspect of Ski Harbor. No other project provides the combination of location, amenities, quality, convenience, and affordable pricing.

You have your choice of floor plans; anything from two or three level townhouses with three or four bedrooms to garden-type apartments with two bedrooms. And all are of quality, energy-efficient construction—practically maintenance free. Fireplaces, appliances, cable TV and wall-to-wall carpeting all are included.

Ski Harbor is unequalled in terms of value and pleasant living.

The Area's Best Facilities— Within Walking Distance

We're speaking of the Wisp, which is so very close to Ski Harbor. Summertime enjoyment at the Wisp includes an 18-hole golf course. And, of course, the Wisp is noted for its downhill skiing in winter. Other nearby facilities include the McHenry Plaza for shopping, an airport just outside McHenry and many dining and recreational facilities in the Deep Creek Lake and McHenry areas.

ATTENTION: SKI SEASON SPECIAL — Until January 15, 1988, Unit No. 2 of the Ski Harbor Community will be offered for sale with full appliance package (range, refrigerator, disposal, washer/dryer and dishwasher) plus carpet. Compare this unit's value at $116,000 with other lakefront condominium units and we know you'll be pleasantly surprised. Call us today for a personal inspection of this exceptional purchasing opportunity.

"DO A GOOD TURN DAILY," the Girl Scout motto, was certainly practiced by a number of local scouts recently when they dressed dolls and donated other toys and food to the Oakland Rotary Club's "Operation Santa Claus" project. Leaders Betty Wolford and Roxanne McCloud from Loch Lynn Junior Troop 5537 and Cadette Troop 5027 said that their junior scouts dressed 10 dolls, many in handmade outfits and that cadette and senior scouts made 50 ornaments for the 50 needy families that will be helped by Rotary this year. They also helped Rotary members assemble the Christmas baskets this past weekend for distribution. Brownie Troop 5019 and Troop 5026 have helped with two community projects this season. First, they did odd jobs to raise money for the new Oakland Christmas lights. Then they donated toys to the Rotary project. They also selected an angel from the Rotary tree at Heck's and bought a new gift with troop funds. One leader said, "We want our girls to develop into caring and responsible citizens. We feel this is a good start for them." Leaders are Glenda Newcomb, Crystal Loudon, Susan Murray and Doris Skipper. Pictured above, left, are scouts from Troops 5537 and 5027, front row, Stephanie McCloud, Bobbi Mattingly, Kathy Friend, Mandy

Finally, USFA, a part of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, urged citizens to increase their awareness of the fire problem, to identify potential fire hazards and to take preventative action before a fire starts.

Oakland Station To Air Program On Drug Abuse

Television personality Ken Howard, will host a powerful one-hour documentary focusing on family situations involving children and drugs on "Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" January 7 at 7 p.m. on Maryland Public Television's six station network, 22, 28, 31, 36, (Oakland) and 62 and 67.

Produced by the Scott Newman Foundation, a non-profit organization devoted to drug education and prevention, "Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" features some of America's best known actors and foremost experts in the field of substance abuse. The workshop environment of this production allows for the portrayal of mistakes parents frequently make when confronted with a child's drug involvement and it allows for the demonstration of communication skills parents must learn to help their children out of a drug problem. Jane Alexander, Ned Beatty, Susan Sullivan, Elliot Gould and Bonnie Franklin guide viewers through the various family situations. In addition, leading medical authorities help parents deal with their own inevitable feelings of rage, disappointment and fear when confronted with a drug abusing child.

"Drug Free Kids: A Parent's Guide" is underwritten by Allstate Insurance.

U.S. Fire Admin. Offers Holiday Fire Safety Tips

The holiday season brings joy to most Americans, but others will be victims of fires in the home, according to the U.S. Fire Administration.

Federal fire officials say the risks of having a fatal fire increase significantly during the Christmas season. Residential fires are 40 percent more likely to occur then and 80 percent more likely to kill than at other times of the year.

Data collected through USFA's National Fire Incident Reporting System show that fires resulting from heating sources increase by 40 percent. Fires caused by careless smoking increase only six percent, but they are 45 percent more likely to kill.

"The risk can be greatly reduced by taking a few minutes to check for fire hazards before going to bed," according to USFA Administrator Clyde Bragdon Jr. "It means making sure no cigarettes are still smoldering, unplugging lights and other electrical decorations, and moving wrapping paper, boxes and other combustible materials away from fireplaces and other heating sources."

Bragdon said the most important fire protection a family can have comes from having several functioning smoke detectors.

"Smoke detectors should be on every level of a residence," he said. "They should be tested monthly and the batteries changed every year."

He also pointed out that detectors make great Christmas gifts. Bragdon also recommends that families practice home fire escape drills — how to safely get out of the house if a smoke detector goes off in the middle of the night. "Special attention must be given during these drills to the very old and the very young, as well as anyone who is physically disadvantaged or under the influence of alcohol or medication," he said.

Good Cheer: A Christmas Wish To You

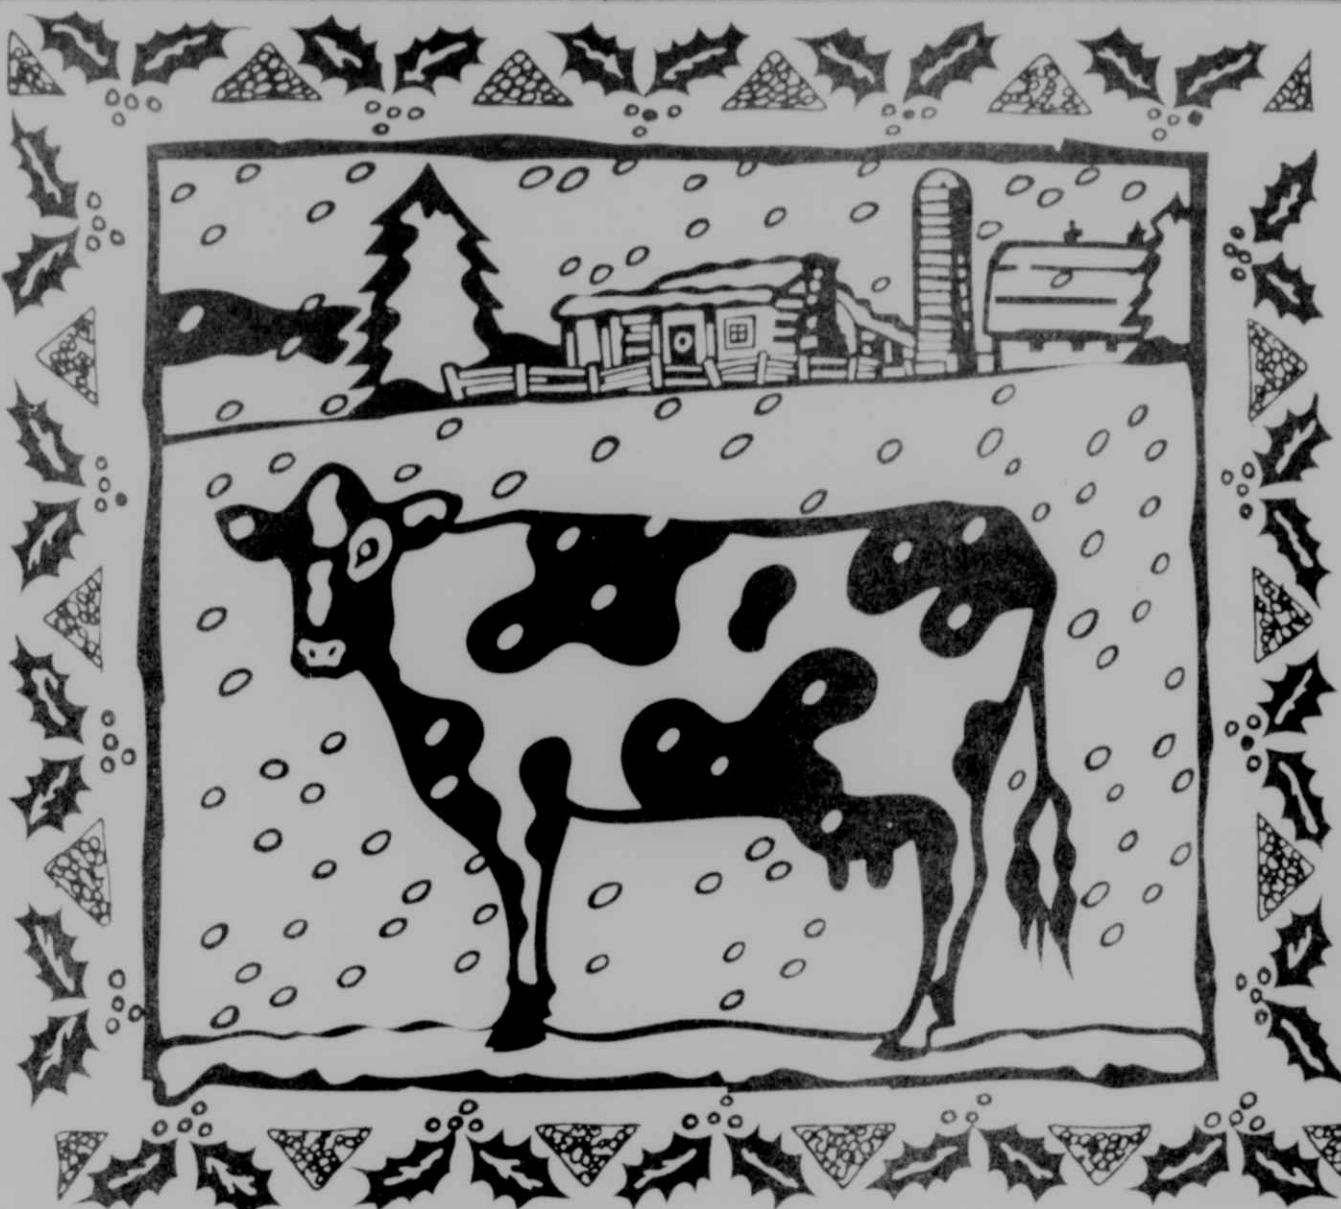

by Bernice Kepple, farm editor

In 1557 a popular "farm magazine" circulating in England was "A Hundred Good Points of Husbandry; The Farmers' Daily Diet," published by Thomas Tusser. Tusser's Christmas wish and advice to his readers that year was: "At Christmas play and make good cheer, For Christmas comes but once a year."

Some might say that it's hard to be of good cheer; that farming these days has few benefits. But it's the nature of farmers to look for something positive amongst the gloom.

Often, it's simply faith and hope that keeps farmers going. And at this time of year, that faith and hope magnifies the good feelings that come from working with the land and the animals. It's these feelings — these benefits — that make the farm the best place to spend Christmas.

So, I wish all of you, those who farm and those who are farmers at heart, a Christmas full of good cheer.

"We wish you a Dairy Christmas,
We wish you a Dairy Christmas,
We wish you a Dairy Christmas,
And a Happy M-o-o Year!"

EPA Allows Continued Use Of Alachlor

The Environmental Protection Agency announced last week that it will continue to permit farmers to use alachlor, the nation's most widely used herbicide.

About 84 million pounds of alachlor, sold by Monsanto Corporation under the trade name Lasso, are used each year, almost all on corn, soybeans and peanuts. The herbicide keeps weeds from emerging above ground.

The EPA said restrictions on use imposed 14 months ago would continue. These restrictions permit use only by applicators certified by the state, and then only in closed mixing systems, and require new warnings on container labels that the chemical causes tumors in experimental animals. The agency classifies alachlor as a probable cause of human cancer.

Higher Pesticide Bills Threaten Costs To Farmers

Farmers oppose federal efforts to impose pesticide registration and re-registration fees on pesticide manufacturers, the American Farm Bureau Federation recently told a House subcommittee.

Under proposed legislation, the fees would be used to fund the activities of the Environmental Protection Agency's Office of Pesticide Programs.

In a statement submitted to the House Small Business Committee's energy and agriculture subcommittee, AFBF said the fees that would be established by two bills (S. 1516 and H.R. 2463) would be passed on by chemical companies to farmers and ranchers in the form of higher-priced chemicals.

The two bills are proposed re-writes of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act, the nation's pesticide law. They are expected to receive active consideration next year. EPA also has proposed regulations that would establish user fees to fund its pesticide programs.

Such fees would also decrease the availability of farm chemicals necessary for the protection of crops, he asserted.

"The sales volume and subsequent profit margin of a particular chemical may not be sufficient to offset the fee. Many so-called 'minor' or specialty crops, such as fruits, vegetables, nuts, foliage and nursery products, would lose important pesticides because manufacturers would refrain from bearing the added initial costs," Maslyn explained.

To get Brazil nuts out of their shells unbroken, freeze them until the shell cracks.

Billy Egley, on December 9, 1842, designed and offered for sale in England what is now regarded as the first Christmas card created for mass circulation. It is preserved in the British Museum. Billy was only 16 at the time.

FFA Alumni Is Sponsoring Bus To Farm Show

The Oakland FFA Alumni is sponsoring a bus to the Pennsylvania Farm Show, Harrisburg, Pa., on Thursday, January 14. Everyone in the community is welcome and encouraged to attend the FFA show with the Alumni and members. The transportation cost will be $10 per person.

The Pennsylvania Farm Show, which runs from January 9 to 15, is the largest indoor show in the nation, featuring prize-winning animals, commercial displays, entertainment and good food. Reservations are recommended, and can be made by calling FFA Advisor Steve Kiser at 334-1380 during school hours.

Rocco Suspends Lamb Slaughter

Rocco Incorporated, the large Virginia poultry and lamb processor, has confirmed it will suspend lamb slaughtering operations just two years after the company expanded into lamb.

Instead of buying live lambs, slaughtering and processing them at their Timberville, Virginia, plant, the company plans to purchase fresh carcasses from other packers and break them down into the Rocco tray-pack product.

When the lamb kill facility opened two years ago, it was hailed as a new market for lambs produced up and down the East Coast, but never reached its potential. Although equipped to handle 10,000 lambs a week, the Rocco kill seldom exceeded 3,000 lambs, and in recent weeks had dropped back to 1,600 lambs.

Rocco spokesman Gail Price indicated the slaughtering will be discontinued due to a lack of lamb numbers in the Shenandoah Valley where the company is based. According to Virginia Cooperative Extension Service estimates, however, lamb production in the area has increased 25 to 30 percent since 1985.

Using Soap as a Deer Repellent

As we move into winter, food sources for deer will get more scarce. Consequently, deer will browse on many other food sources such as ornamental shrubs, young fruit trees, small pines, etc. During 1985 and 1986, Dr. Ross Byers of the Winchester, Va., Fruit Laboratory, conducted experiments to learn the value of soap as a repellent on fruit trees. Strands of barbed wire taped to some trees. Lifebuoy soap was placed on some and others were left as untreated, control trees. During a two-week period, 43% of the control trees were damaged, 30% of the barbed wire trees were damaged, and none of the trees with soap sustained any injury. Small bars of soap like those used in motels are ideal for deer control. A small hole should be drilled through each bar with a piece of string or twine through the hole and tied in a loop. The loop can easily be hung on a tree branch much like a Christmas ornament. One bar should be used per tree, and the soap will last longer if the wrappers are left on. For sometime, researchers have thought that deodorant or highly scented soaps repelled deer.

Handling Preproduction Expenses for 1987 Taxes

Preproduction expenses, or costs associated with livestock production prior to the start of income production, may be held out of ordinary farm operating expenses. Preproduction expenses may be accumulated until an animal is ready to perform its production function. The accumulated total is then depreciated under a process of capitalization.

As a livestock producer, under the 1986 Tax Act, you must decide whether to:

1) capitalize your preproduction expenses, or 2) use a slower depreciation method for your 1987 taxes. If you raise beef or dairy cows or horses, the decision you make will impact your taxes for potentially the next 8-10 years.

If the preproduction period exceeds 24 months, as is the case with dairy, beef and horse production where preproduction expenses are defined to begin at the time of breeding, a choice must be made between 1 and 2 above. Remember, the choice is whether to capitalize preproduction expenses or use the alternate depreciation system rules on all depreciable property bought in 1987 and after.

Slower depreciation with the alternate depreciation system uses a longer period of years. Machines will be depreciated over 10 instead of seven years. Cattle will be written off over seven instead of five years. The calculation will be straight-line instead of declining balance. The alternate rules will apply to all depreciable items bought for the whole farm.

Holiday Plant Tips

Flowering potted plants are popular holiday gifts. Given a little special care they can be kept in good condition all through the holidays.

Poinsettia is the most popular Christmas flower. Types grown now have brilliant colors and with care plants can be kept in good condition for several months. They require uniformly moist soil, a bright growing location, cool growing conditions and protection from blasts of either hot or cold air. To bring a poinsettia into bloom again is most difficult and not usually a satisfactory home effort.

Christmas Pepper is a true pepper. It is enjoyed for the bright red fruits and rich green foliage. Keep the plant lightly moist. Dairy misting may help keep foliage from drying. Once the leaves and red fruits begin to fall, the plant should be discarded. It will not rebloom.

The colorful Jerusalem Cherry should also be enjoyed for its beauty and discarded when no longer attractive. Keep the soil moist, give the plant plenty of light but cool temperature, about 50 to 60 degrees, are best. Caution—fruit of this plant are said to be poisonous.

Christmas Cactus are quite popular and not difficult to grow year round and bring into bloom each holiday season. While in bloom, keep the plant lightly moist. After the blooms fade, keep the plant on the dry side. Increase water applied during spring and summer months. Flower buds develop during short days of fall provided no lights are in the room where the plant is kept. Flower buds develop best if temperatures are in the 60 to 65 degree range during the fall bud development time. If temperatures go into the 70's during this time, no flower buds will develop regardless of the hours of light the plant receives from daylight or artificial sources.

aged 8.78 million head, one percent less than November 1986 but 1,000 head above October 1987.

Milk Production Up

Milk production in the 21 states selected by USDA for the National Agricultural Statistics Service reports totaled 9.65 billion pounds. This is three percent above production for November 1986 in these same states.

During the July through September period the 21 selected states produced 85.4 percent of the U.S. production. If the producers in the 29 states not surveyed for December 1 followed the trend shown by the reporting states, the U.S. production would be about 11.3 billion pounds for November.

Production per cow in the 21 selected states averaged 1,098 pounds during November, 42 pounds above November 1986. Milk cows in the 21 states aver-

HOLIDAY SAFETY — DO YOUR PART
You May Save Your Life

Could you be one of the 64 people causing or dying in an alcohol related car accident today? In 1986, 23,000 deaths were recorded nationally, which is sixty-four every day. Even though reasons have not yet been identified, traffic crashes, fatalities and injuries are on the increase. Authorities are trying to attack the drinking and driving problem where it too often begins: during the month of December — at private parties. The most dangerous times on highways and streets during the holidays are from 6 p.m. December 24, through midnight, Sunday, December 27, and from 6 p.m. December 31 through Midnight, Sunday, January 3.

Drunken driving doesn't just happen. If you know you will be at a party where alcohol beverages are served and consumed — plan ahead. If you drink and drive or your friend does, have you ever imagined a family's agony if one of its members is the cause or victim of this tragedy?

SAFETY ALERT - METHYLENE CHLORIDE

The Consumer Product Safety Commission has issued a Safety Alert for methylene chloride. This is a possible cancer hazard and is found in many of the following products:

Paint strippers	Adhesive removers
Spray shoe polish	Adhesives and glues
Paint thinners	Water repellents
Glass frosting and artificial snow	Wood stains and varnishes
Cleaning fluids and degreasers	Aerosol Spray paint for automobiles
Automobile spray primers	Spray paints

The danger is not with the product, per se, but with breathing the vapors while working with the product. If possible:

- *Work with these products outdoors.
- *If you must work indoors, open all windows and doors, and blow exhaust air and vapors outside with fans.
- *Wear a respirator with a vapor filter.

IN MEMORIAM

Mother

The happiest time of the year is near.
And we think "but mother, you're not here."
And then our hearts sadden, for we miss you so.
But we know in our hearts,
That where you are, you are happier still.
Thoughts of you being with us in our hearts linger still.
For mother, we love and miss you, and we always will.
The Children of Viola Knox,
Jane and Bud

Remember Christ our Savior, was born on Christmas Day.

It's our privilege to have you as our customers.
Thanks, friends.

Health Views

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO WHEN THE ALARM GOES OFF?

Society has developed certain signals which are used to convey danger. And we all seem to understand them. A siren or high pulsating sound often means a fire engine, ambulance, or police car is coming through. A flashing red light often signals danger on the street. A rotating or blinking red or blue light on a vehicle indicates an accident, a detour, or some other vehicular emergency. The clanging of a bell usually signals a fire or a burglary. And so on and so on, we have trained our senses to note, understand, and instantly act when hazard warnings appear.

Suppose you were awakened in the middle of the night by the clang of a fire alarm or the shrill whistle of your smoke detector. What would you do? Would you look around for the source of the problem? Would you try to protect yourself and your family, or would you merely pull the covers over your head to block out the sound so you could go back to sleep undisturbed?

The answer is obvious. And, yet, believe it or not, hundreds of thousands of people every year don't heed a most basic warning signal — pain.

Pain is to the body what a fire alarm is to a building. It is nature's way of saying, "Something is wrong. Help. Your body is not functioning properly."

So what do many misunderstanding owners of those alarms do? Rather than look for the problem that caused it, they seek ways to put out the alarm that warned them. They take a pain-killing drug, which does nothing to put out the fire; it merely dulls the senses and short-circuits the helpful alarm signal.

And so the most valuable warning signal the human body has — pain — is put out of commission, while the source of the problem is allowed to continue, and often get worse.

Dangerous? And how! A mistake? Absolutely! We must remember that pain of any type is an indication of a possible health problem, for it signals that the body is not functioning properly. And since the body contains a vast network of nerves which travel through the spine to all parts of the body, the source of the problem may not be at the point of the pain.

For example, a headache could point up any number of problems, mental stress, visual defects, sinus irritation, dental problems, improper functioning of one or more organs, and numerous other disturbances. But all have one common mechanism, tension of the muscles of the upper neck. Once muscle tension is produced, it interferes with the normal relationship and functioning of spinal segments of the area, adding to the distress.

Some headaches are produced by the pull of taut muscles on their attachments to the skull. Other forms of headaches result from interference to the blood supply and venous drainage of the membranes covering the brain.

Painful as they are, and as undesirable as they may be, it must be remembered that killing the pain is not enough. The reason for the pain must be established and corrected.

Doctors of Chiropractic use a procedure designed to release the muscular tension and normalize the spinal function. The doctor of chiropractic seeks to not only locate the problem and give relief from symptoms, but also to correct the fundamental cause.

Think of the body as an intricate machine. For it is the most perfect machine ever invented. Remember the importance of health maintenance. And don't forget the advantages of having nature's built-in alarm system. Follow its warnings with as much speed and common sense as you would if you heard a danger signal in the night.

On Dean's List At Bridgewater

The dean's list for the fall term at Bridgewater College has been announced by Dr. Dale V. Ulrich, acting dean for Academic Affairs.

Students on the dean's list have attained a 3.2 or better quality point average of a possible 4.0, and are included in The National Dean's List, a publication citing academic achievement of college students nationwide.

The following students from this area have excelled academically: Susan Rebecca Caruthers, a freshman majoring in business administration, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Caruthers, Oakland; Richard Lee Ridder, a sophomore majoring in physics, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Ridder, Oakland, and Elizabeth A. Whitehair, a freshman elementary education major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitehair, near Aurora, W. Va.

Mathias, Marcuzzi Will Dance At Petersburg High

The Grant County Arts Council will present on Sunday afternoon, January 3, the first full-length program of dance produced by Mathias and Marcuzzi, the duo of theatrical dancers and choreographers, Mary Marcuzzi and former Petersburg native, Richard Mathias.

Using a wide variety of music, these two performers create dances with modern, classical, jazz and acrobatic movements.

Since their first appearance together in 1986, Mathias and Marcuzzi have been asked to perform twice at the prestigious West Virginia Dance Festival in Charleston, have been commissioned to choreograph and perform a dance for the Huntington Pops Orchestra, and have presented their choreography numerous times with dance companies in Beckley and Huntington.

Mathias, son of Mr. and Mrs. V.M. Mathias, Petersburg, studied dance and acrobatics for 12 years with Emmett and Nina Oldfield of Romney.

He choreographed the musicals at Petersburg High School until his graduation in 1975 and then continued his movement training at Penn State University as a member of the varsity of gymnastics team coached by two former Olympians and also at West Virginia University as a dance student of M. Kathryn Wiedebusch.

In addition to performances with Orchestral student dance companies at both colleges, Mathias has danced in the outdoor dramas Honey in the Rock and Hatfields and McCoys.

He is the owner and director of the Charleston School of Gymnastics and holds degrees from Penn State University, West Virginia University, and West Virginia State College.

Mary Marcuzzi, the other member of the duo, is the director of Huntington Dance Theatre, a semi-professional, ballet, and modern dance company.

She studied dance in Beckley under Jerry and Sherry Rose and also at numerous studios in Cincinnati, New York and North Carolina before opening her own school, Huntington Dance Workshop School, in 1981.

Marcuzzi performed in the outdoor dramas Honey in the Rock and Hatfields and McCoys and has become the only three-time recipient of a scholarship given by the state's Department of Culture and History to study dance at the annual, two-week, choreography conferences sponsored by the National Association of Regional Ballet.

At Marshall University she earned a B.S. degree in medical technology and an M. Ed. degree in the scientific aspects of dance.

Mathias and Marcuzzi will teach an introductory dance class to pre-registered, elementary-school students on Saturday morning, January 2, in "A" Gym at Petersburg High School.

The Sunday afternoon performance will begin at 2 p.m. in "A" Gym.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. Arts Council members enter free.

This performance has been partially funded by Cardinal Foundation, Inc., of Charleston and by the Arts & Humanities Division of the West Virginia Department of Culture and History.

For more information, persons may call Grant County Arts Council member Jo Ann Harman in the evenings at 749-7322.

Happy New Year 1988

Local Woman "Fair" After Christmas Mishap

A Friendsville woman remains a patient at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, in "fair" condition after she sustained injuries in a Christmas day accident on Lower New Germany Road.

Laura B. Frantz, 78, was a passenger in a 1980 Oldsmobile Omega driven by her husband, James L. Frantz, also of Friendsville, when he failed to observe a vehicle stopped at the Avilton-Lonaconing Road at 4:40 p.m.

Frantz's vehicle struck the stopped vehicle, a Chevrolet S-10 pickup truck, which was operated by his son, Donald E. Frantz, Waldorf. A passenger in Donald Frantz's vehicle, Vina Patamaset, 46, also of Waldorf, was also injured and was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital where she was treated and released.

Frantz and his son were reportedly not injured. Mrs. Frantz is reported to have suffered leg and head injuries. Northern Rescue Squad transported the injured persons. Cpl. G.D. Broadwater was the investigating officer.

Ernest Umbel, 35, Friendsville, was admitted to Uniontown (Pa.) Hospital Saturday in fair condition following injuries he received in a pedestrian accident on Rt. 42 just south of the Pennsylvania line. He has since been released, according to a hospital spokesman.

According to State Police reports, Umbel was walking from a private driveway, carrying a table at around 9:35 a.m. when he walked in front of a car driven by Carol Wakefield, 47, also of Friendsville. Police reports indicated that the table Umbel was carrying apparently obstructed his view of the roadway.

Timothy J. Storey, 26, Swanton, was treated for injuries at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and released following a head-on collision that occurred Tuesday at 7:30 a.m.

Storey was operating a 1983 Ford F250 truck northbound on Sand Flat Road when he was struck by a 1981 Buick Century, operated by Cynthia D. Kitzmiller, 32, Deer Park.

The accident occurred, according to police reports, when Kitzmiller lost control on the ice and snow covered roadway and traveled across the center line. Kitzmiller and her two passengers, Clinton R. Kitzmiller, one, and Nathan R. Kitzmiller, two, were reportedly not injured.

Kitzmiller was charged by investigating officer, Tfc. D.G. Riggelman, with failure to drive on the right half of the roadway. Storey was transported by Southern Rescue Squad.

Judy L. Filsinger, 27, Deer Park, was also treated and released at Garrett Memorial Hospital after she sustained injuries in a one-car accident early Friday.

Filsinger was operating a

SKI SEASON IS UPON US — While conditions have not been the best at the Wisp Ski Area this week, at least there has been skiing, despite a lack of cooperation from Mother Nature. Thousands of holiday vacationers have been on the slopes of the Wisp this week and the New Year weekend looks even more promising, as colder temperatures are expected. Wisp, which includes several new trails and slopes this year, complete with new chairlifts, has one of the nation's largest snow-making capacities.

State Tax Forms Have New Look

"Most taxpayers know there are many changes waiting for them on their federal income tax returns this year," said Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. "Those same taxpayers will find that their Maryland income tax packet is new from cover to cover. Taxpayers will notice their Maryland tax packets are now black and gold instead of the old blue and white forms. The colors were changed to avoid confusion with federal forms. In addition, the instructions were completely rewritten to make state tax forms easier to complete than ever before."

Federal tax changes in itemized deductions and minimum filing requirements will automatically be reflected in the Maryland return. "But that's just the beginning of the story," Goldstein said.

Maryland now has a higher standard deduction (15% of Maryland adjusted gross income) with new minimum and maximum amounts, and a new $1,000 personal exemption as well. The state also has a unique treatment of capital gains and for the first time recognizes an earned income credit equal to one-half of the credit that may be claimed on the federal return.

Also for the first time, taxpayers may itemize deductions on their Maryland return only if they itemized on their federal return, and they must send in a copy of their federal Schedule A.

A new head of household filing status appears on the Maryland form for the first time this year and a new status for dependent taxpayers —

Local Man Given Year On Felony Theft Charge

During Garrett County District Court proceedings held last, a 19-year-old Oakland man was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail after having been found guilty, in a previous trial, of felony theft.

Judge Jack R. Turney then suspended six months of the sentence for Robert W. Sweitzer, who was then placed on 24 months supervised probation and fined $100. He was not prosecuted on a charge of breaking and entering shop because of a plea agreement.

The charges were filed by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater, Maryland State Police, following an August 4 incident when Sweitzer reportedly broke into Midlake Market, Deep Creek Lake, and stole cash and cigarettes, resulting in a loss of $1,950 for the establishment. John R. Toston, public defender, represented Sweitzer.

Pre-sentence investigations were ordered in the following cases.

Brian Knox, 19, Oakland, was found guilty of battery following a July 27 incident in which he reportedly assaulted and battered Roger Ashby, also of Oakland.

Larry E. Artice, 25, Accident, was found guilty of battery after he was charged by Robert A. Matthis, Grantsville, following an October incident at Keyser's Ridge.

Robert G. Ford, 32, Oakland, and Mark A. Ford, 29, Swanton, were each found guilty of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle after they were charged by Sheryl Ford, Swanton.

The charges stemmed from an October 8 incident at Top Of

Oakland Town Council Announces Shut Down Of Fluoridation System

Effective immediately, there will no fluoridation in the water supplies of Oakland plant and the Broadford plant, according to a spokesman from the Oakland Mayor and Town Council.

"We felt it was necessary to inform the public of this necessary measure so that parents could contact their dentists for fluoride supplements if they so desire," said the spokesman.

He explained that the outdated fluoridation equipment at the Oakland Water Plant was down and as a safety precaution the equipment would no longer be used.

He said that fluoridation through a town water supply is the most economical way to induce fluoride into the human diet. "The council is expected to meet soon to determine if the town will seek state grants to purchase new equipment," said the spokesman.

Studies have shown that fluoridated water supplies do reduce the percentage of cavities in children.

"Oakland has been the leader in the county, as far as fluoridation goes," said Garrett County Environmental Health Officer Rodney Glatfelter. "We hope the shut-down of that equipment is temporary. Students who attend Dennett Road and Broad Ford Elementary schools, where the water is fluoridated, have shown a lower instance of tooth decay and the need for tooth fillings — 60 to 70 percent less cavities."

Glatfelter said the Health Department is anxious to meet with the town council to discuss the possibilities of obtaining state grants to continue the fluoridation process in Oakland. The state is a strong proponent of water fluoridation.

Broadford Water Plant buys water from the Oakland Water Plant, which will mean there will no longer be fluoridation in that area's water supply until new equipment is obtained.

Election Board Removes Names, Registers Students

The Board of Supervisors of Elections for Garrett County have removed the names of 727 registered voters for not voting for five calendar years. Of this total there were 329 Democrats, 384 Republicans, and 14 declines.

Notice went out to these voters on December 14. A list of these people will be sent to the Democrat and Republican State Central Committees.

The registrars, accompanied by Jack W. Fridinger, representing the League of Women Voters, went to Northern and Southern high schools in November and registered 18-year-olds. The total registered was 266. A breakdown by party affiliation shows there were 46 Democrats, 213 Republicans, and 7 declines registered.

The Delegates to the Democrat National Convention can file January 4-11. The last day to register to vote for the March 8 Primary is February 8.

Fourteen File For Board Of Education Seats

As of the filing deadline at 9 p.m. Monday, 14 county residents had filed as candidates for the Garrett County Board of Education election. All of the candidates filed on the last two possible days, after an apparent lack of interest earlier.

Candidates who have filed for the two at-large positions being vacated by William Goldsborough and Anna Mary Frantz, are: Blaine Bowser, Star Route, Grantsville; Edith Butler, Star Route, Grantsville; Carol Clark, Route 2, Oakland; Jann Dehus, Star Route, Oakland; Rodney Durst, Route 1, Swanton; Richard Gibson, Center Street, Oakland; William Goldsborough, Broadford Road, Oakland; Gerard Herpel, Star Route, Oakland; Scott Hollingsworth, Route 1, Oakland; Catharine L. Hoyer, Pennington Street, Oakland; Edward F. MacNichol, Route 3, Oakland; Gail Miller, D Street, Mtn. Lake Park; Kenneth Sukow, Star Route 1, Accident; and Lisa Thayer, Pensinger Blvd., Mtn. Lake Park.

The above candidates names will appear on ballots in every county election district, with names of the three candidates who are top vote getters in the primary in March appearing on the November ballot. In the November election, the two candidates with the most votes will become Board of Education members.

Board Of Public Works Approves Funding Formula

The Maryland Board of Public Works Wednesday approved a funding formula for school construction projects that will force local jurisdictions to share a percentage of the expenses.

The plan, which was recommended by a task force appointed by Gov. William D. Schaefer, stipulates that the state will contribute $60 million each year for the next five years to school building projects while the local share will amount to $40 million. For the past 15 years, the state has paid all school construction costs.

The formula, which takes effect at the beginning of the 1989 fiscal year (July 1), calls for local jurisdictions to contribute anywhere from 25 to 50 percent of school construction costs. Garrett County is expected to share 25 percent of the burden of those costs.

The board approved the recommendation despite efforts of county officials throughout the state to persuade the board to budget $100 million for that purpose. The board consists of Gov. Schaefer, State Treasurer Lucille Maurer and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein.

Goldstein reportedly suggested the funding formula be made

County Commissioners File Suit Against Interstate Truck Equipment

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners filed suit last week in Washington County Circuit Court against Interstate Truck Equipment of Hagerstown for allegedly selling them 19 dump trucks which didn't meet county specifications.

Garrett County Roads Administrator Paul R. Shockey confirmed this morning that action has been taken after he and County Attorney W. Dwight Stover met with attorneys in Hagerstown recently.

The trucks in question were ordered by the Hagerstown Truck Company from Mack Truck Supply for the county and were to have 14,000 minimum front suspension systems and 28,000 minimum rear suspension systems.

"What we actually got were trucks with 14,000 maximum front end suspension and 27,900 maximum rear end suspension," said Shockey. "We've had trouble with them from the beginning causing us to carry only half loads, which results in a loss of time and money."

The administrator said that he had sent several of his mechanics to Mack School in Allentown, Pa., some time ago. "They were surprised to find that they were being taught to work on systems that differed from what we had in our county trucks," said Shockey. "Our men told the Mack people that they were the same rear ends in our trucks to which Mack people replied, 'They must be, because we haven't used what you say you have in your trucks for years.' What we have is called a spider gear. What we should have is called a peanut gear."

Shockey said that the county attempted to beef up the suspension systems on four of the trucks, but said that measure just caused other malfunctions. He said that Mack engineers had originally advised the county to take that measure, but now concur that it is not feasible.

Local MSP Report Highest Increase In DWI Arrests

Sgt. Dan Moore of the Maryland State Police, announced that the McHenry detachment has reported the highest increase in drunk driving arrests of any Maryland county.

According to Moore, the total for this year was 365 arrests as of Wednesday. The total for 1986 was 191. This represents an approximate 55 percent increase.

Moore stated that the primary reason for this increase was the stepped-up enforcement of the drunk driving laws and the response of personnel at the McHenry detachment to that effort.

He added that the detachment was working "full strength" this year, whereas last year they were two officers short.

AN OAKLAND MAN ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY when his 1984 Ford Escort overturned Tuesday at 1 p.m. Randy S. Weeks, 31, was westbound on Rt. 135 at the Leon White Road (just east of Ralph's Richford) when his vehicle reportedly lost traction on the snow-covered roadway. According to Tpr. R.T. Wilson, the vehicle then traveled off the right side of the road, striking a culvert and overturning onto its left side.

THE WORST FORM OF PRECIPITATION is undoubtedly freezing rain, which ruins good skiing conditions, breaks trees, makes people fall down and automobiles wreck. But none can deny its beauty, as every single ice-coated twig and blade of grass glistens brilliantly in the morning sun. Such was the scene

Monday in Garrett County before the rain turned to snow that evening. Some more rain is expected today, but much to skiers' delight, colder temperatures are to return tonight and remain for the next several days.

MSP Respond To First Snow Ski Theft Of Season

The first ski theft of the season has been reported to Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment, who are investigating the report by a Rockville youth of the Tuesday incident.

Stephen L. Hoffeditz reported that a set of Dynastar Course 200 cm downhill snow skis, white with red and gold letters, and a set of Marker M46 bindings, black and white in color, were stolen sometime between 3 and 4 p.m. at the Wisp Ski area, McHenry. Total loss was estimated at $350.

George H. Collins, McHenry, reported the loss of approximately $350 worth of quarters from the laundromat, located at the McHenry Plaza.

According to Collins, the theft occurred sometime between December 2 and 28 when the change drawers in the washing machines were unlocked by an unknown person. According to police records, there was no sign of forced entry.

The theft of a picnic table, eight feet in length with a tubular steel frame, is also under investigation by State Police. The table was reportedly stolen sometime between December 21 and 22 from a public rest area near Friendsville, and is the property of the Maryland State Highway Administration. Tpr. R.T. Wilson is the investigating officer.

Park Resident Arrested On Sex Offense Charge

A Mtn. Lake Park man was arrested recently and charged with third degree sexual offense by the Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment.

Marshall A. Broadwater, 39, was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail and, according to officials there, was later released on his own recognizance.

Sgt. R.E. Friend filed the charge following his investigation into the incidents that occurred between August of last year and February of this year when Broadwater allegedly had sexual contact with a then 13-year-old female. The crimes were reported to State Police September 4.

Two Friendsville youths, each 13 years of age, have been charged with alcohol violations after their alleged involvement in a breaking and entering and theft at a Friendsville residence.

According to police reports, the two broke into the residence of Maureen K. Barrett December 22 and stole $16.39 in cash, seven wine coolers, four beers and two cherry cokes. They also reportedly ransacked two bedrooms.

The matter has been turned over to juvenile authorities for possible further charges.

A criminal summons was served to Charles D. Fazenbaker, 35, McHenry, charging him with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and possession of drug paraphernalia following a December 5 incident.

According to investigating officer, Tpr. R.T. Wilson, Fazenbaker was charged after an incident on Pig's Ear Road at Rt. 48 when he was a passenger in a vehicle operated by Terry A. Spiker, Grantsville.

Spiker was arrested for his alleged illegal killing of a deer at that time. During the arrest, a pipe containing suspected marijuana was found.

A criminal summons was also served to Wilma L. Durst, 48, and Daniel D. Sarver, 19, both of Frostburg, charging each of them with assault and battery.

The charges were filed by Teresa A. Sarver, Somerset, Pa., who reported that she was assaulted and battered by the two December 16 in Finzel. Tpr. J.K. Moore served the summons.

Sheriff's Dept. Probes B&E's And D.O.P.'s

Several complaints of breaking and entering and destruction of property were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department this past week.

Det./Sgt. Donald W. Tucker is investigating a report of breaking and entering and auto theft filed by Ralph W. Schmidt, Baltimore.

The theft reportedly occurred at Schmidt's seasonal residence on Harvey's Peninsula. Taken was a red Honda four-wheeler (200 cc) valued at $1,000, which had been stored in an outbuilding.

Assistant Chief Deputy P.J. Pratt is continuing his investigation of a breaking and entering which occurred earlier this month at the Harold W. Bittinger residence on the Wilson-Corona Road. The breaking and entering was originally reported by the owner's brother, Carl L. Bittinger, Oakland, when he stated that someone had thrown rocks through two windows and had entered the residence.

Pratt was again contacted on December 23 and notified that a waterbed in the residence had been slashed. Total damage was set at $550.

A report of destruction of property was reported by Pete Nichols on December 22. Nichols, who had been away from his residence on the Cranesville Road for the past two years, told police that someone had broken 12 light fixtures and a glass on a meter box in a barn. Damage was set at $100.

Deputy Denver Welch is investigating the incident.

Deputy Charles P. Nolan is investigating jointly with the Maryland State Police a report of destruction of property and breaking and entering at the VFW in Deer Park. Reportedly a side window was broken but nothing was taken. The report was filed on December 29.

Two Arrested On DWI Charges

Two persons were recently arrested by the Maryland State Police, McHenry detachment, for driving while intoxicated.

Larry E. Smith, 22, Oakland, was arrested last Thursday, December 24 at 2:29 a.m. He was traveling on Rt. 219, north of Foster Road, at the time Tfc. D.W. Broadwater was the arresting officer.

Dorothy C. Kohlmeier, 32, Grantsville, was arrested Tuesday at 4:40 a.m. near Penn Alps Restaurant by Cpl. Richard Graham.

Gov. Schaefer Announces Day Care Initiatives

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced steps his administration is taking to increase the number of child care facilities in the state while preserving and strengthening the current supply of family day care homes, day care centers, and non-public nursery schools and kindergartens.

Governor Schaefer said, "In order to respond to an unprecedented need for subsidized day care, I am making an additional $1 million available for the rest of this fiscal year and will include a request for $2 million in the budget for next year. This will mean that 500 more children can receive safe care while their parents work or attend school or training."

He continued, "Parents who have stable, reliable child care are more productive workers. At the same time, their children receive a better start in life."

Recognizing the increased concern of Maryland's employers for adequate day care for their workers' children, the governor also said that he would appoint a coordinator of child day care who will oversee policy, planning, and development for child day care policy and operations among all state agencies. The coordinator will give technical assistance and support to businesses, local government, and prospective care providers regarding available child care services, regulations, and financing.

The governor also announced that Sanford I. Weill, chairman, president, and chief executive officer of Commercial Credit Company, will serve as chairman of the Maryland Employers Advisory Council on Child Care, a component of the Maryland Committee on Children Child Care Work/Family Initiatives Project. The council will analyze child care delivery in Maryland and propose a plan to improve delivery system statewide. The Work/Family Initiatives Project is supported by the Morris Goldseker Foundation of Maryland and the Aaron and Lily Strauss Foundation.

The joint effort of the Maryland Employers Council and the Governor's Child Care Coordinator will ensure that government and the private sector both focus on providing enough accessible, affordable child care for Maryland families.

The governor will include in the budget he will submit to the General Assembly a direct child care loan program which will provide assistance to those who wish to start child care businesses in Maryland. The loan program and an existing child care facilities guaranteed loan program will encourage employers to support child care programs on their premises or through expansion of conveniently located child care operations for use by their employees.

The governor also said he intends to streamline and consolidate the regulation of child day care facilities within the Department of Human Resources. Currently, three departments are involved in the regulation of the system.

Various Charges Brought Against County Residents

Various charges were brought against a number of county residents this past week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

An Oakland woman was charged with felony theft and passing a bad check on Tuesday, December 29 by Deputy Denver Welch.

Police reports indicate that Deborah A. Hazelwood, 34, was charged after a complaint was filed by Joseph Manchin III of the Manchin Carpet Company, Farmington, W. Va., who had allegedly attempted to recover losses on a $10,603.25 check for goods received by Mrs. Hazelwood. The check was dated December 4.

Hazelwood's bond has been set at $1,000 full cash bond.

Also on Tuesday, Deputy Welch arrested Roger L. Strawser, 21, Oakland, for violation of parole. A warrant had been issued by Garrett County District Court for felony theft.

Strawser is being held in the Garrett County Jail without bond, pending a trial.

Earlier this week, Deputy Welch served a criminal summons on a battery charge against a Deer Park man.

The charge against Francis G. Niner, 44, stemmed from a December 19 incident at the residence of Milton C. DeWitt, Rosedale.

The complainant alleged that Niner threatened him with a knife and demanded money. Deputy Denver Welch investigated and served the summons.

Deputy Randy Sines charged two 14-year-old youths, one from Grantsville and one from Frederick, on Saturday, December 26, with breaking and entering at the residence of Richard Twist, Grantsville.

The police report stated that a message had been written on one of the bedroom windows with lipstick.

Sines released the two youths to the custody of their parents and has turned the matter over to juvenile authorities.

In another Sheriff's Department matter, Deputy Sines arrested Walter A. Tasker, 23, Deer Park, for failure to obey a subpoena from the Garrett County Circuit Court.

That arrest occurred on December 26 at Anderson's Texaco in Friendsville. Police reports indicate that Tasker allegedly resisted arrest, was uncooperative and threatened Deputy Sines. Tasker was incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail on $600 bond.

An Oakland man was arrested on December 23 by Deputy Welch and charged with violation of parole.

Steve A. Burns, 20, Oakland, was arrested when he violated the terms of his parole that had been set down by the District Court of Garrett County. Burns was released on his own recognizance.

Every year, the United States gives out $18 billion in foreign aid.

Two Receive Year Sentences For Drunk Driving

Two men received one-year sentences during Garrett County District Court, traffic court proceedings, after they were found guilty on driving while intoxicated charges.

Judge Jack R. Turney then suspended 10 months of the sentence for Kevin Lee DeBerry, 25, and placed him on 18 months supervised probation. He was also fined $1,000. DeBerry was arrested July 8 on Broadford Road.

All but 20 days of the year sentence was suspended for George Peter Gross III, 37, who was then placed on 18 months supervised probation and fined $1,000. He was arrested July 4 at the intersection of Bumble Bee and Mosser Roads.

The following persons were found guilty of driving while intoxicated and were each given a $500 fine ($300 of which was suspended) and placed on 12 months supervised probation.

Charles Albert Overton, 34, was arrested February, 1985, on Rt. 50 east of Table Rock Road.

Richard Gordon, 35, was arrested October 24 on Rt. 219 at Lake Shore Drive.

Michael Joseph Miller, 23, was arrested October 23 on Oak Street in Mtn. Lake Park.

Pamela Millicent Walcott, 39, was arrested July 7 on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. She was also charged with consuming an alcoholic beverage while driving but was found not guilty of that charge.

Robert Thomas Storey, 23, was arrested October 3 on Rt. 219 at Mayhew Inn Road.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Douglas Edward Halterman, 24, who had been found guilty of driving while intoxicated in a previous trial. He was arrested July 23 on Rt. 135 at Mtn. Lake Park.

John Paul Carper, 19, was found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He then received a $500 fine ($300 of which was suspended) and was placed on 12 months supervised probation. He was arrested September 4 on Rt. 48.

Steven Charles Wheatley, 24, was also found guilty of driving under the influence and received the same fine and probation. He was arrested October 3 on Rt. 48.

Roger Lee Bittinger, 21, was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. He was arrested August 17 near Grantsville.

W. Va. Couple Sentenced On Bad Check Counts

During Garrett County District Court proceedings held during the week of December 14, a Bayard, W.Va. man and woman received a total of five years in the Garrett County Jail after they were found guilty of bad check charges.

Dennis A. Kosanic, 35, received a total of three years and Rita C. Kosanic, 33, received a total of two years. The sentences were then suspended for each of them.

Dennis Kosanic was then placed on a total of 54 months supervised probation and fined a total of $45 in three separate cases involving bad check charges. A fourth case was set.

Kosanic was charged after he reportedly wrote a total of approximately $550 worth of bad checks at various local establishments during 1986 and 1979.

Rita Kosanic was placed on a total of 36 months supervised probation and fined a total of $30 in two separate cases. Bad check charges from two additional cases were set. Charges were filed by several local business owners after she reportedly wrote a total of approximately $260 worth of bad checks during 1985.

A Mtn. Lake Park man received a one-year suspended sentence after he was found guilty, in two separate cases, of two counts of battery.

Mark E. Whitacre, 20, was given a one-year sentence for each of the counts, which are to be served concurrently. He was then placed on a total of 12 months supervised probation and fined a total of $50 for the two charges.

Concetta Burns, also of Mtn. Lake Park, filed the charges following incidents on June 27 and July 8, when Whitacre reportedly assaulted and battered her. John R. Toston, public defender, represented Whitacre in both cases.

An Accident man also received a one-year suspended sentence after he was found guilty of one count of battery. A second charge of battery and seven counts of alcohol beverage intoxication were not prosecuted because of plea agreements.

Curtis A. Patton Jr., 37, was then placed on 18 months supervised probation and fined $50. All charges were filed by Ruby B. Patton, also of Accident, following an August 15 incident at her residence when Mr. Patton reportedly assaulted and battered her and threatened her six children.

Ruby Patton reported that one of her small children received medical treatment after the child was dropped by another of her children who was attempting to flee the dwelling at the time. Bill Lee Smith was the defending attorney.

John V. Morosky, 24, Silver Spring, received a total of 120 days in the Garrett County Jail after he had been found guilty (in a previous trial) on charges of unlawful possession of a controlled dangerous substance and the illegal transporting of a handgun.

Morosky received 30 days for the CDS violation and 90 days for the handgun violation. The sentence was then suspended and he was placed on two years supervised probation and fined a total of $350.

Maryland State Police officer, Tpr. Paul R. Brown, filed the charges following an April 21 incident on Rt. 40 when he stopped Morosky near the Pennsylvania line for a speeding violation. It was then that Tpr. Brown discovered suspected marijuana and a .38 calibre handgun, fully loaded, in his vehicle. Daniel M. Kennedy III was the defending attorney.

Gary G. Giotfelty, 42, Deer Park, received a 30-day suspended sentence after he was found guilty of violating an order to vacate. He was then placed on six months unsupervised probation and fined $5.

The charge was filed by Deputy P.J. Pratt, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after he served Giotfelty with a domestic violence petition at his residence. Giotfelty was advised by Pratt not to return to the residence without being accompanied by a deputy. Giotfelty, however, reportedly returned to the residence later that day.

Pre-sentence investigations were ordered in the following cases.

Dale E. Thorp, 31, Middle River, was found guilty of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle after he reportedly stole a 1986 Buick Skylark, valued at $10,000, from a Baltimore woman, who reported the theft to Baltimore County Police Department.

The theft occurred May 30 and was recovered the following day by Tfc. R.J. Resh, Maryland State Police, on the Accident-Friendsville Road.

In another case, Thorp was not prosecuted on charges of malicious destruction of property and credit card offenses. This was the result of his plea of guilty to felony theft which was then reduced to unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

The destruction and credit card charges were filed after Thorp inflicted approximately $3,000 worth of damage to the vehicle and used the owner's credit card to purchase $81.05 worth of fuel and miscellaneous items from Friendsville Amoco.

Robert E. Johnson Jr., 22, Swanton, was found guilty on one count of unlawful possession of a controlled dangerous substance. An additional charge of CDS possession and a charge of disorderly conduct in a public place were not prosecuted because of plea agreements.

All three charges were filed by Sgt. Roger L. Lewis, Oakland City Police Department, following incidents on September 19 when Johnson reportedly was arrested by Sgt. Lewis at the Sheetz parking lot in Oakland where he was acting in a disorderly manner.

A search at the Garrett County Jail led to the discovery of a pipe containing suspected marijuana residue. John R. Toston, public defender, represented Johnson.

Walter R. Whittemore, 38, Annapolis, Va., was found guilty of battery after the charge was filed by Joseph M. Wolf, Oakland.

The charge stemmed from an August 14 incident in McHenry

County Sheriff's Department, responded to a complaint of disorderly conduct and public intoxication.

Weeks reportedly resisted arrest when Gnegy arrived on the scene. A charge of disturbance of the peace was not prosecuted because of a plea agreement.

A charge of selling alcohol to a minor, filed against Robert J. Welch, 36, Oakland, was placed on the Stet Docket, after Welch requested a new trial. He had previously been given six months unsupervised probation before judgment for the offense and ordered to pay a $100 fine.

The charge stemmed from a May 1 incident at The Board Room, Oakland, when an alcoholic beverage was purchased by a person under the age of 21. Cpl. G.D. Broadwater of the Maryland State Police filed the charge.

Also set were three charges filed against Rebecca S. Stone, 19, Swanton, who was charged with harassment, trespassing and battery following an October 24 incident. The charges were filed by Carla R. Ringer, Mtn. Lake Park.

The following persons were found not guilty after charges were filed against them in District Court.

Philson D. Hinebaugh, Oakland, was charged by Carolyn L. Russell, Mtn. Lake Park, with trespassing, in one case, and disorderly conduct and wanton trespassing in another.

The charges were filed following incidents on September 10 and October 10 when Russell reported that Hinebaugh trespassed on her property and acted in a disorderly manner.

Robert E. Watson was the defending attorney.

Henry A. Wiebking II, 44, Friendsville, was charged with theft by Tpr. Paul R. Brown, Maryland State Police, following a May 13 incident when he reportedly stole a 1987 Honda Accord, property of John P. Mehegan, Columbia.

Wiebking was apprehended on Rt. 48, east of Rt. 495, operating the allegedly stolen vehicle. Robert E. Watson represented Wiebking.

Jeffrey V. Corby, 19, Deer Park, was charged with malicious destruction of property following a September 18 incident at the Garrett County Jail when he allegedly damaged a toilet there. The charge was filed by Truman Paugh, correctional officer. Toston represented Corby.

Carol A. Sample, 26, Glen Burnie, and Dawn Snyder, Landowne, were charged in separate cases, by Patricia E. Friend, Oakland, following an August 30 incident.

Sample was charged with wanton trespassing and Snyder was charged with wanton trespassing and battery.

Friend, 38, was, in turn, charged with two counts of battery by Sample and Snyder following the same incident. Thomas B. Dabney Jr. was the defending attorney.

Seniors Honored With Reception In Annapolis

More than 500 "senior elves" who started working on Christ- mas tree ornaments in April, including several from Garrett County, were rewarded for their labors of love December 9, in Annapolis.

Mrs. Hilda Mae Snoops, of- ficial hostess for the State of Maryland, honored the volun- teers with a special reception at Government House. Thousands of ornaments, hand-made by seniors from every county in Maryland, decorated seven trees and transformed the pub- lic rooms of the governor's mansion into a "holiday wonderland," Mrs. Snoops said.

The guests, who arrived in buses and cars from every part of the state, were greeted at the front entrance by Mrs. Snoops and Ms. Rosalie S. Abrams, director of the Maryland Office on Aging. Mrs. Thelma Snader, chairperson of the Christmas Ornament Project, personally thanked the guests for their months of work to make decora- tions for the Governor's trees.

Garrett County senior citi- zens who attended the reception were: Agnes Carey, Lula Brown, Ruth Horning, Frannie Izzett, Dorothy and Edgar Lotz, Maxine and Charles Ross, Nora Crowe, Pearl Garlitz, and Rosella and Arthur Rounds.

Refreshments, on the state's historic silver service, were served in the formal dining room. Guests toured the rooms and photographed the trees where their ornaments were displayed. Governor William Donald Schaefer shook hands, hugged, and thanked the volun- teers for helping make Govern- ment House a "home for the holidays." He and Channel 2 reporter Tony Pagnotti led in an impromptu sing-a-long, "The New Beginning," an Upper Marlboro 4-H sponsored choral group, entertained with Christ- mas carols.

The governor gave a certi- ficate of appreciation to each per- son who participated in the project. Dave Williams, repre- senting the Maryland Associa- tion of Senior Centers, pre- sented Governor Schaefer with a commemorative book of the Christmas ornament project which was successfully cul- minated with the reception at Government House.

"I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT BE INTERESTED TO KNOW THAT SOMEBODY'S FOOT IS STICKING THROUGH OUR CEILING."

people relate to one another," she said. "Students need to understand these changes."

Students enrolled in the course, "Computers, Culture, and Literature," traveled to the National Radio Observatory in Greenbank, W. Va., to see how computers are helping sci- entists examine the stars. At this National Science Founda- tion facility, telescopes that respond to naturally occurring radio signals are used to gather information from space.

Without computers, however, scientists would find them- selves in a jumble of data, High noted. Not only does the com- puter help analyze radio signals, it also coordinates in- formation on factors that would influence the data's accuracy, such as temperature and wind velocity at the telescope site.

Another trip, this time to Pittsburgh's Carnegie-Mellon Mobile Robotics Laboratory, gave students a look at intelli- gent machines. Once thought of as mere fantasy, robots are now solidly enmeshed in manu- facturing and, said Hans Moravec, the lab's senior re- search scientist, they will con- tinue making further inroads into humans' lives.

At the Robotics Lab, re- searchers are developing ma- chines that can move about using senses that their de- signers have built for them. Teaching robots perception, however, is no small task, High commented. How people see and feel is still not fully un- derstood, and programming robots to do similar types of com- plicated "thinking" will take time.

Moravec and his colleagues seem undaunted, though. In fact, High had the impression that these pioneering scientists were somewhat paternal to- ward their inventions.

"The robots they are working on aren't like slaves for their human masters. It seemed to me that they were more like Moravec's children," High said.

"I think that some day, when robots are commonplace, stu- dents who visited the lab will look back and tell their children 'I was there when this tech- nology was first developed.'"

Moravec was recently quoted in Omni magazine as saying "We are on a threshold of a change in the universe com- parable to the transition from non-life to life."

What kinds of monumental changes does he have in mind? The possibilities are sweeping and intriguing, as well as controversial. Some computer researchers think that intelli- gent machines may one day make political decisions that could be too sensitive for the emotionally influenced minds of humans prone, as they are, to throwing armies into bloody conflict. Computers, say some scientists, could deter nuclear destruction by avoiding deci- sions faulty with human input.

Some believe immortality is possible with the help of artificial intelligence, and would involve "downloading" of a person's brain content into a computer capable of storing and processing data.

The future will tell whether these options are simply fantasies or whether they, like Ford's assembly line, are as- pects of a truly astounding change in society.

Knowing the possible di- rection that such technology can lead is important, said High, because the momentum of these changes is increasing.

"Computer technology can either hold us hostage," she commented, "or we can use it as a chance to transform our- selves. It gives us tremendous power to expand our perception and knowledge of the world, but if it's misused the terrible Orwellian vision could become reality."

What's important, she said, is for her students to understand the changes that artificial in- telligence and computers will make.

"I'm afraid that if more people aren't aware of this new technology's ramifications, by the time they are, it will be too late."

After all, she added, some of the children born in the 1980s may be, with computer help, colonists of outer space.

The only American author to win the Pulitzer Prize four times was poet Robert Frost.

Curiosity doesn't just kill cats.

Every child is curious. But being curious about matches and lighters can be deadly. Teach your child the dangers of playing with matches and lighters.

- Keep all matches, gasoline, lighters and other flammable materials out of the reach of young children.
- Teach your children that matches and lighters are dangers—not toys—and are safe only in the hands of an adult.
- Find out whether your child's school offers any education on fire safety. If nothing is provided, find out why not and contact your local fire department for assistance in developing fire safety programs.

Remember, the child who plays with matches and lighters may never grow up. Your local fire department.

Air Quality In Schools Topic Of MSDE Workshops

The State Department of Education will conduct two workshops in January as part of a new effort to assist local school systems to develop indoor air quality management programs. The workshops will be held on January 13 in Salisbury and January 14 in Columbia.

The workshops are aimed at an audience of school facility directors, maintenance supervisors, local health department personnel, and architects. Purpose of the workshops is to alert participants to potential health problems related to indoor air quality and to assist local school systems to prevent, assess, and solve indoor air quality problems in their schools.

State School Superintendent David Hornbeck said in announcing the state program that poor indoor air quality in the schools "can lead to a higher risk of health problems, an increase in student and teacher absenteeism, diminished learning, and, in extreme situations, a hazardous condition."

"We are especially interested in assisting local school systems with managing indoor air quality because younger people are at a greater risk than the adult population," the Superintendent said.

"Indoor Air Quality: Maryland Public Schools," a guide

just issued by the State Department of Education's School Facilities Office, will serve as the basis for the workshops. The guide contains extensive information on building planning and design, maintenance, investigating air quality problems, and specific contaminants ranging from formaldehyde to radon. Ten case studies summarized in the guide illustrate how indoor air quality affects students and staff.

Speakers at the workshops will include experts in air quality management and health problems from the U.S. Department of Energy, the Environmental Protection Agency, the University of Maryland School of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University Hospital, and private corporations.

Allen C. Abend, director of the State Department of Education's School Facilities Office, Office of Administration and Finance, will present a step-by-step program for indoor air quality management.

"We are in the early stages in our understanding of indoor air quality," Abend said. "But we know there are potential problems in school facilities as there are in all buildings and, most importantly, we know that the location of schools as well as their construction and maintenance can significantly reduce the occurrence of indoor air quality problems."

There are no federal funds to support school indoor air quality programs, Abend said, but the School Facilities Office

Students Caught In Dialing Fraud

Three Frostburg State College students were recently tried and convicted in separate instances of telephone fraud.

Two students received probation before judgment for felony theft of telephone service. Full restitution of $750 was made prior to the trials. Both were fined $5 in court costs and placed on unsupervised probation periods for one and three years, respectively.

In both cases, violation of probation will create an automatic conviction of the felony theft offenses, which could lead to a $1,000 fine and/or 15 years imprisonment.

A third student was found guilty of misdemeanor theft of telephone service and received a 60-day suspended jail sentence in Baltimore City District Court. The student was ordered to pay $85 restitution.

plus $20 court costs and was placed on four months supervised probation.

In Maryland, theft offenses of $300 and above are felonies punishable by up to a $1,000 fine and 15 years imprisonment or both. Theft offenses under $300 are misdemeanors punishable by up to a $500 fine and 15 months imprisonment or both.

John C. Webb Seeks Maryland Senatorial Seat

John C. Webb Jr., a cultural engineer from Gaithersburg, has filed as candidate for United States Senate from Maryland, for the Republican Primary March 8, 1988.

Candidate for Governor in 1970, most recently in the last general election a candidate for the House of Delegates-15th District, Webb stated, "Maryland needs cultural integrity in the United States Senate. We need a Senator who remembers Maryland's heritage of freedom."

For over the last 15 years, Webb has been president of Americans for God, Inc. Webb believes the cultural concepts of Thomas Jefferson, as expressed in the Declaration of Independence, are the "cornerstone of American culture and freedom in the Free State." Webb stated, "We need Senators and Supreme Court Justices who believe, along with Jefferson, in the self-evident truth that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

A graduate of Harvard College, with a master's degree from Cornell in cultural anthropology and Far Eastern Studies, Webb is campaigning for economic development in Maryland in three areas: 1) mobilizing hi-tech industrial resources in Montgomery County; 2) reducing agricultural and urban pollution to save Chesapeake Bay industries; and 3) expanding trade through the Port of Baltimore.

The Hill Tavern, Oakland, when the two men reportedly drove away Cheryl Ford's vehicle. Toston was the defending attorney in each case.

Lisa J. Paugh, Friendsville, was found guilty of disorderly conduct in a public place after she was reportedly involved in an incident August 17, in Friendsville.

As a result of the same incident, Richard W. Hoover, 29, also of Friendsville, was found guilty of the same charge. Each were charged with one other count of disorderly conduct but they were not prosecuted on those counts. Cpl. R.J. Graham, Maryland State Police, was the complainant in both cases.

Sonny R. Bowman, 22, Baltimore, was found guilty of disturbance of the peace following an August 28 incident in Mtn. Lake Park when he disturbed the neighborhood. Deanna K. Evely, also of Mtn. Lake Park, filed the charge. Toston served as counsel for the defense.

A charge of battery filed against Larry D. Wilt, 29, Grantsville, was placed on the Stet Docket. The charge was filed by Janet M. Wilt, also of Grantsville, following an August 2 incident.

A charge of maintaining a fire hazard, filed against Karen Spiker, Oakland, was also placed on the Stet Docket. The charge was filed by Guy L. Carola, fire investigator for Garrett County, involving a building known as "Braethorn" in Mtn. Lake Park. Judge Turney ordered the building be demolished by April 30, 1988. Thomas R. Janes was the defending attorney.

David Riggleman, 28, Friendsville was not prosecuted on charges of felony theft and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle because of insufficient evidence.

The charges were filed by Tfc. Dale K. Williams, Maryland State Police, following an incident August 28 when Riggleman allegedly stole a 1972 Chrysler Newport from Willard E. Frazee, Friendsville. According to Frazee, Riggleman took his vehicle and failed to return it.

A charge of assault filed against Patti J. Giotfelty, 18, Deer Park, was not prosecuted because of insufficient evidence. Gary G. Giotfelty, also of Deer Park, filed the charge as the result of a September 2 incident.

Rams Successfully Defend Snowball Classic Title By Defeating Huskies

The Southern High Rams successfully defended their Snowball Classic title Tuesday night by topping their arch-rivals, the Northern Huskies, in the championship game, 62-52.

The Rams earned a spot in the finals by rolling over Union on Monday night, 71-56, while the Huskies gained their berth by upsetting Waynesburg in the first game Monday night, 40-37.

Waynesburg captured the consolation prize by mashing Union in the first game Tuesday, 95-68.

First-year Northern Coach Dave Bender had his Huskies slow the pace against Waynesburg, which seemed to frustrate the Raiders. The Huskies jumped out to a 10-5 lead in the first quarter, held a 15-10 lead at halftime, and went into the final stanza with a 27-24 advantage. The Raiders never held an edge in scoring.

Aaron Zumpano paced Northern's scoring with 13 points, while John Harmke added nine. The only Raider reaching double figures was Curt Brown with 10 points.

Both teams finished with 13 goals apiece, but the Huskies sunk 13 of 19 free throw opportunities while the Raiders connected on just nine of 18.

In the Southern-Union contest, Bobby Bernard led four Rams in double figures, netting 16 points on six buckets and four of six free throws. Scott Finch and Richard Evick each finished with 12 points, while Zack Gibson contributed 10.

The Rams dominated the entire game, taking a 14-8 lead by the end of the first quarter, stretching it to 32-17 by halftime and 57-29 by the conclusion of the third period.

Union's Charlie Bow led all scorers with 22 points, having recorded nine points on three-point baskets. Steve Kitzmiller finished with 14 for Union.

Southern Coach Oren Yoder called the strong rebounding efforts one of the major keys to the victory and also pointed out the strong performance of J.R. Bosley. The senior point guard netted only three points, but controlled the offensive flow and was credited with six assists.

The Raiders looked like an entirely different team Tuesday night against Union, as they greatly increased their shooting percentage and nearly tripled their point production of the previous night.

The Bears were never really in the game, trailing 30-16 after the first quarter, 53-31 at halftime, and 74-48 going into the final stanza.

Kerry Marisa, who had just five points Monday night, led five Raiders in double figures with 23 points. Kurt Brown and Phil Cook each finished with 17 points. Ron Bailey, who had three three-pointers, netted 15, and Tim Cook chipped in with 11 points.

Bow again paced Union's scoring effort with a game-high 26 points as he netted a pair of three-point shots, while Steve Kitzmiller finished with 20 points.

It was the fourth win in six starts for Waynesburg, while Union fell to 1-3.

Although the Rams led the entire way against the Huskies in the championship game, Northern was in the game until the final moments, as they cut the Rams' lead, which was as much as 20 points, to just six points twice in the fourth quarter.

Southern moved out to a 16-9 lead in the first quarter, was on

OVER THE TOP FOR TWO goes Northern Husky John Harmke, No. 42, against the Southern Rams in the championship game of the annual Snowball Classic at Southern. Harmke was named the Most Outstanding Player of the tournament, finishing with a total of 30 points in two games. However, the Rams won the title for the second straight year by defeating the Huskies, 62-52. Others in the above photo are Kevin Selby, No. 34, for Northern, and Southern Rams Mike Ruff and Jeff King, No. 21. Below, J.R. Bosley fires a jumper for the Rams. The senior point guard led Southern in the final game with 16 points. At right is senior Bobby Bernard, No. 43, who was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, as he scored a total of 28 points and spearheaded the Ram defense. Northern players in the lower photo are No. 14, Dave Yoder; No. 40, John Sherbin; No. 34, Kevin Selby; and No. 30, Aaron Zumpano. Ruff, Bosley, and Zumpano were named to the All-Tournament team, along with Waynesburg's Curt Brown and Kerry Marisa.

top 29-18 at halftime, and led 48-37 after three quarters. While the Rams' shooting from the floor went cold in the fourth quarter, they managed to connect on 10 of 12 free throws in that period to preserve the win. The Southern offense utilized a wide, five-corner formation throughout much of the fourth quarter to eat up as much time as possible; however, the Husky defense was able to steal the ball and score on several occasions, which cut the Rams' lead. Bosley led the Rams in scoring with 16 points, half of which were on foul shots. He netted four of four foul shots in the fourth quarter and also hit three of four free throws in the third period that were a result of a double technical foul called on the Northern bench. He also had eight assists.

Gibson, Bernard and 6-6 senior Mike Ruff also reached double figures for the Rams with 13, 12 and 11 points, respectively. Ruff, who played his best game so far this season, pulled down 13 rebounds and blocked six shots. Bernard also had eight rebounds.

Northern's John Harmke led all scorers with 21 points on eight buckets and five of six from the line, while Zumpano, the Huskies' leading scorer so far this season, finished with 13 points.

The win was the fourth in seven starts for the Rams and the defeat was the fourth in seven for the Huskies, who came into the game riding a three-game winning streak.

Bernard, who recorded a total of 28 points and played outstanding defense for the Rams, was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, while Harmke, who finished with 30 points, was awarded the Most Outstanding Player trophy.

Named to the All-Tournament Team were Bosley and Ruff of Southern, Zumpano of Northern, Brown and Marissa of Waynesburg.

The Rams will be back in action this Saturday night when they host Petersburg and they will play at Frankfort on Tuesday. Northern will host Meyersdale next Wednesday.

Power Plant Ash Among Products In New Lightweight Cellular Concrete

MORGANTOWN, W. VA. — West Virginia would be an ideal site for the manufacture of a construction material new to the United States, according to a study conducted by West Virginia University for the Governor's Office of Employment Security.

Autoclaved cellular concrete is a lightweight building material manufactured and used in every major country in the world except Canada and the U.S.

"Autoclaved cellular concrete is used in most new construction in some European countries — in Sweden, for example, it is used in four out of five new buildings. Yet it has never been produced in this country. We believe its time has come, and for a number of reasons West Virginia is a prime location for production of this material," said Paul DeVore, WVU professor of technology education, who led the study.

Dr. DeVore said West

Virginia is located close to several major markets and has abundant supplies of most of the needed materials — sand, limestone, water, and fly ash, a by-product of coal-fired electric power plants.

Because 80 to 90 percent of the volume of autoclaved cellular concrete is air, it weighs only about one-fourth as much as standard structural concrete yet it has compressive strength suitable for multistory buildings. Lower weight means lower construction and transportation costs and reduced work-related injuries.

The lightweight concrete also has lower thermal conductivity, so it insulates better against heat and cold. It's fire and frost resistant and provides good sound absorption.

It has been reported in West Germany that construction costs using autoclaved cellular concrete are 20 to 30 percent less than for conventional brick, block, or concrete buildings.

"Since it was patented in Sweden in 1924, the lightweight concrete has gained acceptance all over the world. It seems to be successful in all kinds of climates. In Europe it got a major boost after World War II, when so much had to be rebuilt in the wake of the devastation there.

DeVore said three areas in West Virginia appear to be most suitable for lightweight concrete plants because they are near major population centers and have the necessary raw materials: the Mount Storm area of Grant County, the Pleasants/Wood County border area on the Ohio River, and the Charleston area. For purposes of the WVU study, the economic and financial aspects of a plant in the Mount Storm area were studied, based on a marketing area with a radius of 125 to 150 miles of the Mount Storm Power Station.

"One of the benefits of this sort of industry is that it provides a use for the fly ash, an unwanted byproduct of coal-fired power plants. Even if the industry we envision used only one percent of the fly ash produced in West Virginia, that would mean about 580,000 tons of fly ash that wouldn't have to be disposed of in other ways," DeVore said.

Coal and power companies have shown interest in the WVU study.

DeVore said projections of the study were based on a market penetration of one percent for autoclaved cellular concrete, though greater market penetration seemed possible, to judge by its success in other countries.

In the Mount Storm projections it was found that a market penetration of 0.75 percent would support an operation yielding an annual profit of approximately $862,000. The factory would require about 80 employees.

"This is a new material with new application trying to enter one of the most conservative sectors of American technological culture, housing and construction. So marketing will be a challenge and will have to be carefully planned. The attitudes of architects, engineers, contractors, tradespeople, potential homeowners, and business and industry leaders will have to change.

"However, in England and other European countries there are new factories and increasing sales. This persuades us that marketing is by no means an insurmountable problem," DeVore said.

Autoclaved cellular concrete is produced by an elaborate, rigorously controlled process. Various formulas are used, but most employ Portland cement, powdered sand, lime, aluminum powder and water. In the proposed West Virginia plant fly ash is substituted for 75 percent of the sand.

High-speed mixers produce a slurry which is poured into molds. As the concrete sets in the mold, the aluminum powder reacts with calcium oxide and water to produce hydrogen gas. The gas aerates the mixture, producing millions of non-connecting cells that are responsible for the light weight and good insulating qualities of the concrete.

When the mixture has set enough for the sides of the mold to be removed, the "cake," as it is called, is cut into blocks or large reinforced panels. The panels can be used as flooring or as ceiling structural components.

After a preliminary curing phase, the blocks and panels receive final curing for 8 to 16 hours in autoclaves into which steam is injected at high temperature and pressure. The autoclaving process produces high-precision components that speed assembly at the job site.

BACK TALK: A QUIZ

Seventy five million Americans suffer with "bad backs." Whether you're a waitress in a restaurant and on your feet all day, or an executive putting together a multi-national deal from your desk, there's a good possibility that at some point in your life you'll have problems with your back. If so, not only will it be painful, but it could be disabling. The American Chiropractic Association and your family doctor of chiropractic who specializes in health problems of the spine and nervous system, offer this health quiz. Test yourself to determine how much you know about spinal health.

1. Which person is more likely to develop back? a) a ditch digger, b) an accountant, c) a swimmer, d) a person who seldom exercises, e) a weight lifter?
2. Exercise can cause a back problem? Yes or no.
3. Children almost never have back problems. True or false.
4. The mattress and pillow you sleep on, your choice of couch and chairs in your home, even the way you drive a car, all can ultimately affect your back. True or false.
5. A back disorder always shows up as some kind of pain in the back. True or false.
6. You have an occasional headache which eventually goes away. Should you ignore infrequent pain or discomfort? Yes or no.
7. Good posture is only important to your looks. True or false.
8. A health practitioner who specializes in the correction of spinal health problems is called a: a) optometrist, b) podiatrist, c) orthodontist, d) doctor of chiropractic.

ANSWERS

1. b and d. People who are not active and do not keep physically fit are more likely to develop back problems, although anyone is subject to injury in the natural course of work or play.
 2. Yes. Exercise done incorrectly or in excess for your physical conditioning can be bad for you. Be sure you and your children follow a sensible program of activity, preferably under the guidance of a health specialist.
 3. False. Children are as prone to problems of the back and spine as are adults. What makes it even worse, spinal health disorders often interfere with proper development which may reflect themselves in both physical and learning abilities. It's important to have periodic spinal checkups by a doctor of chiropractic. Early detection of a birth defect will allow correction. Since children often play hard in body contact sports, they also need regular care to avoid illness from structural disorders.
 4. True. Improper support promotes back problems.
 5. No, not necessarily. Even though you don't feel pain, you may suffer from a spinal disorder. Moreover, you may experience pain in an area not ordinarily associated with the spine, the ankles, thighs, or calves, even the stomach or head.
 6. No. Never ignore pain of any kind. Your body is sending you a signal which is its way of sending an alarm of an impending health problem.
 7. False. Good posture is important to your health as well as your looks. With correct posture, your organs are not cramped, and thus can function more efficiently. Also, your body's structure is balanced, thereby placing the weight properly on your back and spine.
 8. Doctor of chiropractic is correct. An optometrist is an eye specialist, a podiatrist is a foot specialist, and an orthodontist is a dental structure specialist, all important members of the health team.
- If you are one of the one-in-four who will be suffering from back problems this year, be sure to seek professional care as early as possible to avoid serious illness, pain and possible disability.

In lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy may be directed to the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad.

Military rites will be accorded by Grantsville Post 214 of the American Legion.

Correction Noted

Incorrect information was given in last week's edition of The Republican in the obituary of Eva June Trickett. It was stated that Cindy Dodge, Terra Alta, W.Va., was the sister of the deceased. She is, in fact, the daughter of the deceased. We regret the error.

Wye Oak Seedlings Offered For Sale

Two-year old seedlings grown from the official Maryland state tree, the Wye Oak, are being offered for sale at a cost of $7. The seedlings have been grown at the state Forest, Park and Wildlife Service's Buckingham Forest Tree Nursery near Baltimore-Washington International Airport.

The seedlings come with a special certificate of parentage, but there is no guarantee they will match the grandeur of the Wye Oak, reported to be the nation's biggest white oak, standing about 95 feet tall, with a crown spread of 145 feet and measuring 50 feet around its base.

To order a seedling, persons may send a check for the total order at $7 each, payable to the Department of Natural Resources, to John Ayton, Buckingham Forest Tree Nursery, Harman, Md. 21077. A separate sheet of paper with a typed or printed name and address for delivery, and specific delivery instructions for those with post office box numbers, will facilitate the delivery by United Parcel Service, the Department of Natural Resources said in announcing the seedling sale.

The state tree stands in the Eastern Shore community of Wye Mills. It is believed that the tree was left standing in a clearing made by Indians, giving it plenty of room to grow and spread. Its age is figured at close to 450 years, about two centuries older than the average white oak.

The Wye Oak has weathered storms and resisted bugs, been sprayed and fertilized, and is pruned on alternate Arbor Days, with its next trim set for 1988. The tree's limbs have been shored with thousands of feet of cables, but heat and humidity caused one of them to snap in June 1984, and a 37-ton limb crashed to the ground.

Sculptor Stephen Weitzman carved an 11-foot-tall Wye Oak statue depicting two children planting a tree from a huge hunk of the fallen limb to serve as Maryland's Arbor Day monument. It is on display at Martinak State Park, on Deep Shore Road off Route 404 near Denton, about 16 miles from the tree. Wood from its fallen limbs also has been used to make gavel for Maryland judges, ceremonial plaques and gifts.

In early December, to make sure that there will always be a Wye Oak, a 15-year-old "sapling" grown from one of its acorns by a retired state forestry supervisor, Earl Yingling, was moved from his son-in-law's Carroll County tree farm to the Wye Oak's fenced one-and-a-half-acre state park in Talbot County and replanted.

The sapling, according to Yingling, stands 18 feet high and has a 12-foot spread, supported by a trunk six inches in diameter at its base. Natural Resources officials say it weighed six tons, including the root ball.

Yingling, 70, a state forester for 40 years who supervised care of the Wye Oak for a decade before retiring in 1975, says the historic tree has some serious troubles — chiefly structural problems and decay of its hollow interior. "I got the idea it might be well to have a young tree as a backup for the big tree," he said, observing that if the official state tree went down, "we wouldn't have a Wye Oak in the Wye Oak State Park."

Good Food and how to prepare it!

HONEY WHOLEWHEAT BREAD

Nancy Jones

- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup oil
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup honey
- 2 cups milk

Combine in saucepan and heat to lukewarm, not too hot.

- 2 cups wholewheat flour
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 packages dry yeast

Combine in large mixing bowl.

Add liquid mixture to dry mixture and add 2 eggs. Blend with electric mixer at medium speed for 3 minutes. Combine 1 cup wholewheat flour with 3 cups white flour. Add to dough and mix well. Additional white flour may be needed, go by feel of dough. Knead dough until elastic/smooth 5 to 8 minutes on floured surface. Place in greased bowl and let rise 60 minutes or until double. Punch down and form into 2 loaves, let rise, about 1 hour. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes until done.

ZUCCHINI NUT BREAD

Margaret Wright
Somerset, Pa.

- 2 cups grated zucchini
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons soda
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons cinnamon
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Crisco Oil
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Prepare zucchini, sift flour, soda, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Beat in sugar and oil, then blend in dry mixture and zucchini. Stir in nuts, put mixture into small loaf pan, greased and floured. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes.

ORANGE RYE BREAD

- $2\frac{3}{4}$ cups warm water (lukewarm)
- 2 pkgs. dry yeast
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 4 tsp. salt
- 3 Tbsp. softened margarine
- 3 Tbsp. grated orange peel
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup dark molasses
- $3\frac{3}{4}$ cups unsifted rye flour
- $5\frac{1}{2}$ cups unsifted white flour

Add dry yeast to measured warm water, stir to dissolve. Stir in sugar, salt, margarine and orange peel, molasses and rye flour. Beat until thoroughly blended. Stir in enough white flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic (about 10 or 12 minutes). Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover, let rise in warm place free from draft until double in bulk. Punch dough down, divide in half. Shape into two loaves, grease and let rise until about double in bulk. Bake at 375 degrees about 40 minutes or until done.

Breads & Rolls

ICE BOX ROLLS

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
- $\frac{2}{3}$ cup sugar
- 1 cup hot water
- Stir until shortening is melted
- 1 cup cold water
- 2 tsp. salt (or more)
- 2 cakes (or pkgs.) yeast dissolved in warm water
- 5 cups sifted flour
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 3 or 4 more cups flour

Make as stiff as stiff cake dough — no kneading necessary. Make 24 hours before using. Form into rolls, place in greased oblong baking pan, let rise. Bake in 400 degree oven 10 to 12 minutes or until brown.

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cake yeast (lg. size)
- 2 tsp. salt
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup lukewarm water
- 5 cups flour
- 2 Tbsp. sugar (scant)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup shortening
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk scalded and cooled

Put flour in large mixing bowl. Soften yeast in cooled milk. Add salt, shortening, sugar and water. Add to flour. Knead until smooth. Let rise until double in bulk. Roll, cut with a biscuit cutter, brush with butter and fold over. Let rise. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees).

- 2 cups milk
- 2 cakes yeast
- 6 Tbsp. sugar
- 6 cups flour
- 8 Tbsp. butter
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt

Heat milk and cool to lukewarm, dissolve yeast and sugar in the milk. Add 2 cups flour and beat 5 minutes. Add melted butter and beat 1 minute. Add 3 cups flour and salt and beat. Turn on to board with the remaining flour. Knead for about 2 minutes. Let rise for 30 minutes. Make into rolls, let rise and bake.

POCKETBOOK ROLLS

- 1 pkg. dry yeast
- 1 cup milk
- 1 beaten egg
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup warm water
- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 Tbsp. shortening
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 4 cups flour

Dissolve yeast in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup warm water. Scald milk, add sugar, salt and shortening, let cool. Add yeast and beaten egg, then stir in flour, knead. Let rise until double in bulk. Roll out on a floured board $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick. Cut, press through the center with the back of a knife. Moisten edges with water. Brush middle along the cut edges with melted butter. Roll and press edges together. Put on a cookie sheet, brush with melted butter. Let rise until double in size. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes, or until golden brown. Brush with melted butter as soon as out of oven. Makes 2 dozen.

CINNAMON ROLLS

- 5 cups flour
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup warm milk
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup warm water
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup shortening
- $\frac{1}{3}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cake yeast (lg. size)
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. lemon extract
- 1 tsp. salt

Put flour in mixing bowl. Add other ingredients in order. Don't mix as stiff as bread dough. Let rise, work down. Let rise again, then roll out $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick and spread with good lard or butter, sugar and cinnamon. Roll up, pinch edge to seal. Cut in slices about $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 inches thick. Place on baking pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees). (Substitute brown sugar for delicious caramel cinnamon rolls). Optional: Sprinkle with 1 cup raisins and 1 cup walnuts.

EASY REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

- No kneading!
- 2 cups warm water
- 2 pkgs. dry yeast
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 2 tps. salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup soft shortening
- 1 egg
- $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 7 cups flour

Dissolve yeast in water. Add sugar, salt and about half the flour. Beat thoroughly 2 minutes. Add egg and shortening. Add remaining flour, beat until smooth. Cover with damp cloth, place in refrigerator. Punch down as dough rises in refrigerator. Two hours before baking cut off amount needed and return remaining dough to refrigerator. Roll out, cut in triangles and roll from wide side to point for crescent rolls — or make clover leaf, Parkerhouse, or anything you wish. Cover, let rise until light, $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 hours. Bake in 400 degree oven, 12 to 15 minutes.

Pita: The perfect bread for health-conscious Americans

Bread has always been considered "the staff of life," a food that has its roots in the earliest civilizations. Pita bread, though, more than any other, had its roots in Biblical times, in the unleavened bread frequently cited throughout the Old Testament.

Although pita, as we know it today, is leavened, some versions are made without any leavening and are baked on top of a dome in a concave pan.

According to the Bible, the appeal of unleavened bread was that it could be transported easily, kept very well, and was nutritious. The same is true today of pita bread: low in sodium, fat and calories, this Middle Eastern staple is the perfect bread for our health-conscious society.

A flat, round, bread, pita is baked in a very hot oven for a short time. Although it rises slightly, it also falls slightly when removed from the oven to cool.

Depending upon where it is made, pita may or may not have a pocket. With a pocket, it is the perfect receptacle for any number of fillings. Lamb, hummus, chickpeas, olives, yogurt, cucumbers, tomatoes, dates and bulgar are some traditional stuffings, but any number of fillings can be substituted, including beef, chicken, fish, ham and just about any vegetable.

It is fair to say that this simple Bedouin fare has invaded the American culinary scene. Available in most restaurants, not just those specializing in health food, pita can be enjoyed in a variety of ways including baked, fried or toasted.

It has truly been accepted by mainstream America, and evidence of this can be found in supermarkets across the country where different varieties — including basic pita, honey, whole wheat, sesame, poppy and garlic — can be found.

The recipes below for Herbed Zahter Pita, a basic pita bread seasoned with Zahter (a blend of herbs including marjoram, toasted sesame seeds, thyme and the tart dried seeds of the sumac plant) and Herbed Broiled Chicken and Onion on a Pita are called from Pita: The Greek Workman Publishing, by Virginia I. Habeeb.

I. Habeeb

The recipe for Mideast Bean Pita is reproduced from Nikki & David Goldbeck's American Wholefood Cuisine (Plume).

This new, old food is as versatile as it is tasty, and that is perhaps why it has been around for such a long time.

HERBED ZAHTER PITA

- 2 cups warm water (90° to 110°F)
- 2 envelopes (1/2 ounce each) active dry yeast
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 5 to 5 1/2 cups unbleached all-purpose flour, plus flour for kneading
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup zahter
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup olive oil

1. Pour the water into a large bowl and sprinkle in the yeast. Stir to dissolve.

2. With a wooden spoon, stir the sugar and salt into the yeast mixture; mix thoroughly. Gradually add 5 cups of the flour, stirring constantly until the dough is smooth. Slowly work in the remaining flour up to $\frac{1}{2}$ cup with your hands, kneading until the dough is no longer sticky. Turn the dough out onto a well-floured board. Knead until it is smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes.

3. Shape the dough into an even rectangle and cut it in half lengthwise. Divide the dough into 12 portions. Shape each portion into a smooth ball. Place the balls on a floured surface and cover them with slightly damp towels to keep the surface of the dough supple and moist. Let the balls rise in a warm, draft-free place 30 to 45 minutes.

4. Fifteen minutes before the loaves have finished rising, preheat the oven to 425°F. Lightly grease a baking sheet.

5. Blend the zahter and the olive oil in a small bowl to make a thin paste. Set aside.

6. Working on 2 balls at a time and using your fingertips, gently press 2 balls flat, keeping them well rounded. Flour a work surface and rolling pin. Roll each round from the center to the outer edge to form a 7-inch circle.

7. Place the 2 rounds on the baking sheet. Spread the zahter paste evenly over the top of each round (1 tablespoon per round) pressing down with your fingertips to make the mixture stick.

8. Bake until the loaves are golden-brown and the seeds are toasted, 10 to 12 minutes. The bread should be soft, not crisp. It will bake best if you bake 1 sheet at a time on an oven rack placed in the center or lower third of your oven. However, since this bread does not puff, if you wish to bake 2 sheets at a time, add another rack in the oven close to the first rack. Place 1 sheet on each rack, staggering 1 on the right and 1 on the left, and reverse the sheets from the top to bottom racks halfway through baking for even heat distribution.

9. Transfer to wire racks and let stand until cool enough to handle. Cut into wedges and serve warm or at room temperature.

10. Repeat with the remaining dough, baking one batch before rolling and repairing the next.

HERB-BROILED CHICKEN AND ONION ON A PITA

- 2 chickens (about 2 1/2 to 3 pounds each), cut into quarters
- 1 cup olive oil
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup dry white wine
- 1 large clove garlic, crushed
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon crumbled dried thyme
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 4 medium onions, sliced
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup pine nuts
- 8 Herbed Zahter Pitas

1. Lay the chicken quarters in a large glass or pottery baking dish. Combine $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of the oil, the wine, garlic, thyme, salt, and pepper in a small bowl. Blend well and pour over the chicken. Cover and marinate in the refrigerator, turning the pieces occasionally, for several hours or overnight.

2. Preheat the broiler.

3. Remove the chicken from the marinade, reserving the marinade. Broil, skin-side down, 7 to 8 inches from the heat for about 30 minutes. Turn and brush with the marinade. Broil until tender, 15 to 20 minutes longer.

4. Meanwhile, heat the remaining oil in a large skillet. Add the onions and pine nuts and sauté over medium heat until the onions are light yellow and the pine nuts are golden, about 8 to 10 minutes.

5. Spoon some of the onion and nut mixture on the tops of the pitas. Top each with a broiled chicken quarter.

MIDEAST BEAN PITA

- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup boiling water
- 2 tablespoons cracked wheat
- 2 cups cooked white beans or chickpeas, drained
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons minced scallion
- 1 teaspoon crushed dried mint
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 4 whole wheat pita breads
- 1 cup Yogurt-Tahini Sauce

Pour boiling water over cracked wheat in a bowl and let stand while preparing remaining ingredients. Drain and squeeze dry.

Combine beans, parsley, scallion, mint, lemon juice, and soaked cracked wheat. Warm breads and cut as desired. Open gently and spread with a little Yogurt-Tahini Sauce.

Fill with bean mixture and top with remaining sauce.

Serves 4.

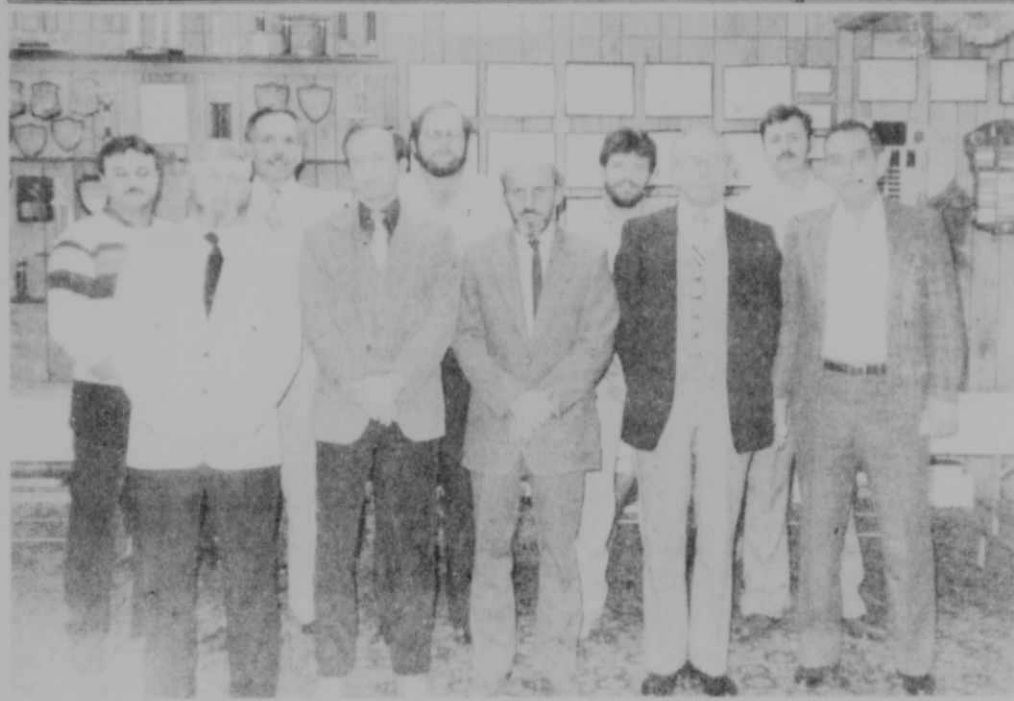

Yogurt-Tahini Sauce

A slight variation on the standard fatel sauce, this one can be used in its place or spooned over plain cooked beans stuffed into pita pockets.

- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup tahini
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup yogurt
- 1 small clove garlic, crushed
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cumin

Beat lemon juice and salt into tahini with a fork until thick. Slowly beat in water until mixture loosens and turns creamy white. Stir in yogurt and seasonings. Sauce will resemble thin mayonnaise in consistency.

Make 1 cup; serves 4.

Traditional Christmas Dinner Held By Deep Creek VFD And Auxiliary

Many local organizations hold annual Christmas dinners and parties; however not many such events have become such a tradition as the annual Christmas party of the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department and its Ladies Auxiliary.

The Ladies Auxiliary group was formed in 1967 and began holding a family-oriented Christmas dinner in December 1968, with the women serving the meal at the Deep Creek Fire Hall.

Santa Claus did not make an appearance at the first dinner, but was there the following year when the dinner was held at Point View Inn. Santa was portrayed by the late Aza Stanton, while Mildred Wucik played Mrs. Claus.

In recent years the dinner has been held at the Bittering Fire Hall, and Ira "Tip" Yaste, who was chief of the Bittering VFD for many years, took over the role of Santa Claus until his death this past year. Assuming the honor this year was veteran Santa, Charlie Grubb.

As with most fire department auxiliaries, the function of the ladies organization is to raise money to assist the fire department with its many expenses. A check is presented each year by the Deep Creek Auxiliary to the firemen at the Christmas dinner.

"The dinner and the money we raise are our gifts to the firemen in appreciation for a job well done each year," said an Auxiliary spokesman. "The dinner is also a great time for our families to get together and its a special time for the children."

Still active in the Auxiliary are six charter members: Isabel Klotz, Eleanor Deal, Vesta Enlow, Alice Smith, Harolene Glatfelter, and Deretta Duckworth.

Special Olympics Offers Chance To Travel To Calgary

Four Marylanders will have a chance to travel to Calgary, Canada, this February, for the 1988 Winter Olympics, where they will enjoy V.I.P. accommodations.

Maryland Special Olympics is offering two all-expense paid trips for two to the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary, including V.I.P. tickets to Olympic events, air fare to and from B.W.I. Airport on a private charter to Calgary, meals, tours and ground transportation. Each package is worth over $6,000.

A $5 tax deductible donation to benefit Maryland Special Olympics will give a person a chance to be part of what will be the largest Winter Olympics ever held. Some 2,500 athletes representing at least 60 countries will test their skill and courage in 127 for-credit and demonstration events.

The Olympic Tour packages were donated to Maryland Special Olympics by Blue Cross/Blue Shield. All proceeds from this project benefit Maryland Special Olympics. Persons interested in purchasing a raffle ticket(s) for the $6,000 package should call Maryland Special Olympics at 529-3105.

OLD ST. NICK has always been a special part of the annual Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department Christmas dinner, which has been held for nearly 20 years. For the past several years, the dinner has been held at the Bittering Fire Hall. Above, Jill Schlossnagle tells Santa how good she'd been all year, at right Nicholas Fogle attempts to describe one of the items on his Christmas wish list, and below, the jolly old fellow gets a hug from Elianne Fife, of Brazil, who is presently living in Grantsville. ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of the annual Deep Creek VFD Christmas dinner is a large donation from the Ladies Auxiliary to the firemen. The Auxiliary conducts various fund-raising activities throughout the year to help the Department cover its expenses. Above, Mary Pat Thomas, president of the Auxiliary, presents a check to Ed Carr, president of the fire department. Carr said the money will be used toward the purchase of a new truck.

Miss Lichty Begins Mennonite Missions Voluntary Service

Danelda Lichty, Gortner, has begun a two-year term of Voluntary Service with Rosedale Mennonite Missions. She began her service on November 2, serving as a child care aide at RMM's Tot Spot Day Care Center in Cincinnati.

Miss Lichty is a 1984 graduate of Southern High School. She had worked as a nurse's aide at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and more recently as a clinical assistant for the Garrett Medical Group, Oakland. She also has worked as a volunteer emergency medical technician for the Southern Rescue Squad for the past few years.

A daughter of Ralph and Mary Ellen Lichty, Gortner, she is a member of the Gortner Mennonite Fellowship, where she has been active in Sunday School and youth activities for several years.

Danelda's new address is 650 Riddle Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45220.

Life and the New Year

January 1: New Year dawning; old year past. All sorts of words bounce around as old gates clang shut and new ones spring open; freshness; newness; suns rising and new moons.

But the big word that surfaces on this day that stands between "endings" and "beginnings" is life.

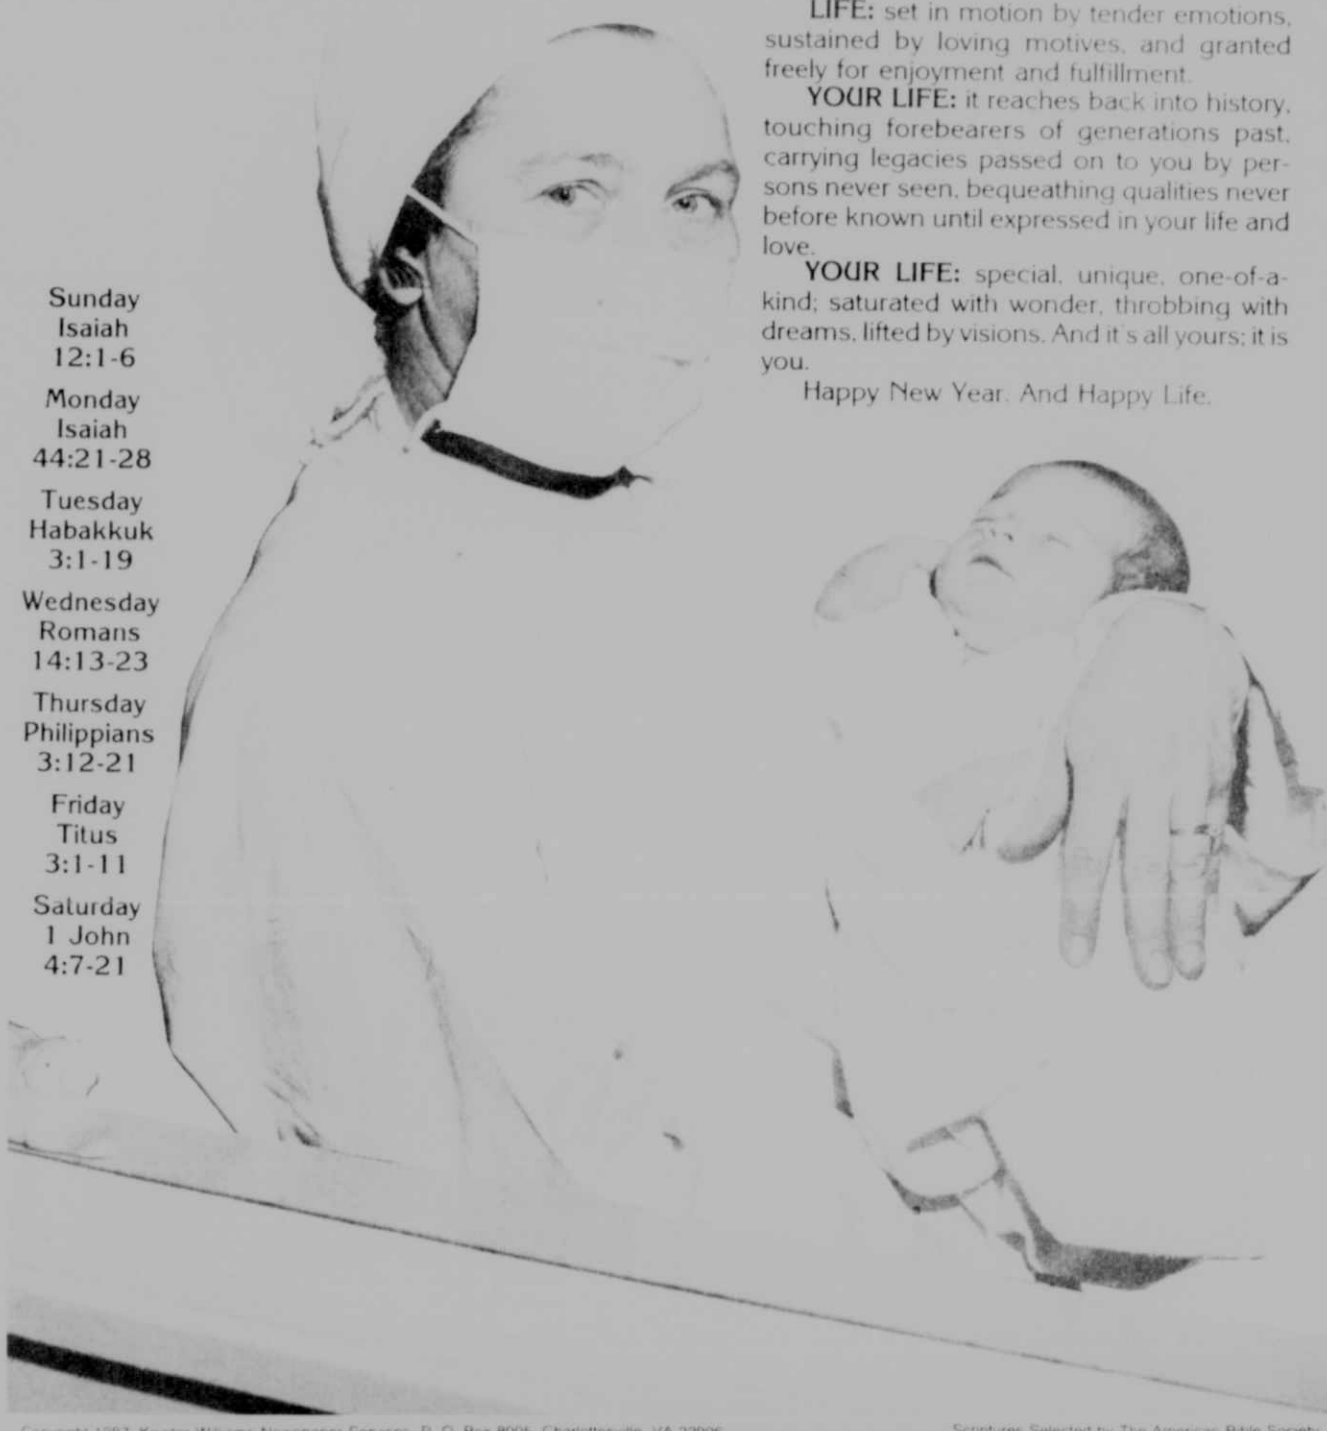

LIFE: a gift provided by God, produced by parents' love, and programmed as a trust to you.

LIFE: set in motion by tender emotions, sustained by loving motives, and granted freely for enjoyment and fulfillment.

YOUR LIFE: it reaches back into history, touching forebearers of generations past, carrying legacies passed on to you by persons never seen, bequeathing qualities never before known until expressed in your life and love.

YOUR LIFE: special, unique, one-of-a-kind; saturated with wonder, throbbing with dreams, lifted by visions. And it's all yours; it is you.

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS

January 3, 1988

Background Scripture: Matthew 5:1-16
Devotional Reading: Psalm 137:1-11

Recently I saw a cartoon in which a man was laboriously climbing a steep mountain. A sign along the way read: "TO THE GLORY." At the very peak of the mountain sat the guru and when the exhausted climber reached the top, he panted: "Tell me, great Master, what is the secret of happiness?" Replies the guru: "O.K., but it will cost you a bundle!"

We all expect that "the secret of happiness" is free of charge. And, in a sense, it is. When Jesus delivered to his disciples his Beatitudes, Matthew doesn't mention anyone taking up a collection or charging admission. Freely, Jesus told those who listened the secret of happiness. But that doesn't mean it doesn't cost us anything.

HOW HAPPY THE MAN

Actually, true happiness costs us just about everything. If we are to find this secret, we must be willing to give up all our long-established ideas and standards for happiness. The Beatitudes are among the most revolutionary statements this world has ever heard. They utterly denied everything that the world held to be really important and embraced those things which people struggled to avoid.

At first, it might seem that the Beatitudes are anything but revolutionary. They appear passive and mild, but when you contrast

Shaffer Named B&L Employee Of The Month

Sharon Shaffer was named the Employee of the Month for November at the Bausch & Lomb facility in Mtn. Lake Park, according to Rich Schick, plant manager, and Peggy Ream, in-process inspection manager.

Ms. Shaffer, who was hired by B&L in 1976 as a matcher, is now head inspector in Department 22393 (9942). She has worked in other capacities, including module operator and inspector.

According to her supervisor, Ms. Shaffer was chosen Employee of the Month because of her "cooperation, dependability and initiative." The supervisor said, "Sharon is a very conscientious inspector who uses her time wisely and productively."

Ms. Shaffer resides in Deer Park.

Defense Project

At Hercules ABL

Gains Approval

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski, D-MD, announced last week that Congress has given final approval to $175 million in funding to upgrade the SRAM missile. The work will be done at the Hercules, Allegheny Ballistics Lab near Cumberland. The funding was included in the omnibus FY 1988 appropriations bill, the Continuing Resolution. The bill was approved by Congress and signed by the President Dec. 22.

"Modernizing the SRAM is a vital part of our nation's defense effort. This measure will provide R & D funding for this modernization, and secure the jobs of 250 workers in Western Maryland," said Sen. Mikulski, who worked as a member of the full Senate Appropriations Committee to get the funding included in the FY 1988 Defense Appropriations Bill, one of 13 appropriations bills incorporated in the Continuing Resolution.

The $175 million in funding will go to continuing the research and development program for replacing SRAM A, an aging, strategic nuclear air-to-surface missile with the SRAM II missile, which is being developed by ABL near Cumberland. This will mean the continuation of 250 jobs.

Straub Advises Consumers On Buying Firewood

"Don't get burned when you buy firewood," says Lou Straub, program manager of the Weights and Measures Section, Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA). Straub wants Maryland consumers to be aware of what to look for when buying that cord of wood to keep warm this winter.

"Maryland law protects the firewood purchaser, and you should know what to expect from a reliable vendor," Straub said. "If you say you want a cord of seasoned Oak, and the vendor agrees to sell it to you, he is legally bound to provide it."

Buyers who require a particular kind of seasoned wood in a certain size log (length and/or diameter), split or unsplit, should specify this to the vendor prior to purchase, requesting that the agreed upon specifications be written on the delivery ticket which is required by Maryland law to accompany each sale.

Tickets must be serially numbered and contain the vendor's name, address, signature of the person determining the quantity of wood delivered, and the license number of the delivery vehicle. "If a deliveryman doesn't offer you a ticket, ask for it," Straub said. "You'll need it should questions arise about the sale once the wood's delivered."

The most widely recognized measurement for firewood is the "cord," which is precisely defined under Maryland law as "the amount of wood which is contained in a space of 128 cubic feet when the wood is stacked and well stowed." "Ranked and well stowed" means when pieces of wood are placed in a line or row, "with individual pieces touching and parallel to each other and stacked in a compact manner." Cubic feet is calculated by multiplying the width of the stack by its height and length.

"Don't be misled by such terms as 'face cord,' 'rack,' 'pile,' or 'truckload,' since they mean nothing, except that it's probably less than a cord," Straub said. In Maryland, loose wood sold for use as fuel can only be advertised, offered for sale, and sold by measure using the term "cord" or fractional parts of a cord.

"Make sure you get what you pay for," says Straub. Those who have any questions or complaints relating to the purchase or sale of firewood, should call MDA's Weights and Measures Section in Annapolis at (301) 841-5790.

Sutcliffe Chosen Campus Station's FM Program Head

University of Maryland campus radio station WMUC's board of directors has selected a new executive staff, with junior radio and communications major Penny Sutcliffe appointed to the only contested post as FM program director.

Ms. Sutcliffe is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Herbert Sutcliffe, Deep Creek Lake. She is also employed as a student intern with the Radio Europe division of the Voice of America in Washington, D.C. She attended Colby/Sawyer College in New London, N.H., before transferring to Maryland. Ms. Sutcliffe, who was chosen program director over three male applicants, said she wants to reorganize the FM station "because students don't know what to expect from it." She said the current format confuses listeners because it lacks a regular daily format that would give it continuity.

Although she favors having disc jockeys play a wide variety of music, Ms. Sutcliffe said she also wants to implement a regular schedule known as block programming, so listeners will know when to tune in for the music that suits them.

Ms. Sutcliffe, who has been the station's AM director since May, is the public relations director of the social sorority Alpha Delta Pi and started at WMUC with her own disc jockey show "A Talk with Penny and Crissy."

SANG RUN

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Friend on Sunday for their Christmas dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nally and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Friend and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nucci, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Friend, and Amanda, Mrs. Wilda Snyder and Milton Savage.

There was a stork shower for Mrs. Barbara Friend Nucci at the McHenry Fire Hall Saturday evening. Many of her school friends and family attended.

Those visiting Mr. and Mrs. Milton DeWitt the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Boylan and Ashley, Charlie Carr, Milton Savage and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hinebaugh, Tony and Amanda.

Tuition Money Available Via New Horizons

The New Horizons Program, a Single Parent-Homemaker-Displaced Homemaker Project, sponsored by Maryland State Department of Vocational-Technical Education and Garrett Community College, still has available for the 1988 funding year, which ends June 30, approximately $6,000 tuition assistance money to be used by eligible program participants in pursuing vocational training in both non-credit and credit areas at GCC. Credit tuition assistance is a continuing part of the program through the remainder of the 1988 funding year and the New Horizons staff is ready to make that money available to clients interested in credit classes in the vocational area.

Arrangements have also been made to assist clients with the purchase of materials to be used in taking classes such as non-reusable file boxes, workbooks, and soft-backed books in non-credit classes and up to $20 per class for college books in credit classes.

A balance of $1,500 remains to assist program participants needing child care and/or transportation assistance while taking training. Income eligibility will be the determining factor in providing this assistance.

To learn more about the New Horizons Program or to determine eligibility for assistance through the program, persons may contact New Horizons between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays, at 334-9184, for more information or to schedule an appointment or visit the New Horizons office at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, 104 E. Center Street, Oakland, in Room 607.

DEER PARK

The Deer Park United Methodist Church held its Christmas program the evening of December 24.

Amy Caldwell read the Scripture reading, The Beginners Class presented "Our Wish", Barbara Browning read a poem "Paid in Full".

The choir sang "Rise Up Shepherds and Follow", "What Child Is This?" and "The Birthday of The King."

Following the reading of several Christmas poems, Amy Friend sang a solo, with Brenda Caldwell playing the flute.

A play "The Lambs Christmas" was then presented.

Rev. Montgomery gave the Christmas message and benediction.

James Warren Beckman, Clifton, Va., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Beckman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Welling and daughter, Anne, Wilmore, Ky., visited Mrs. Alice Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baggett and daughter, Laurie, visited Mrs. Laura Flanagan for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beckman visited Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Woods, Altamont, recently.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS AND WELCOME SKIERS

To Deep Creek Lake And

A Luxury Lakefront Condominium Community

DEEP CREEK DRIVE, McHENRY, MD

Look what we have to offer:

Ski Harbor's Great Location

Ski Harbor is a unique new lakefront condominium community, located on its own peninsula on the shores of beautiful Deep Creek Lake. Country Magazine has identified Deep Creek Lake as one of the ten best recreational property investments. Ski Harbor is your opportunity to invest in one of the area's premier sites.

Ski Harbor, with over 1,300 feet of shoreline, will be your haven for the excellent swimming, boating, fishing, and water skiing on the lake—not to mention the panoramic view!

Ski Harbor was designed with you in mind and will include adequate docking facilities, an indoor swimming pool and tennis facilities.

The Area's Best Facilities— Within Walking Distance

We're speaking of the Wisp, which is so very close to Ski Harbor. Summertime enjoyment at the Wisp includes an 18-hole golf course. And, of course, the Wisp is noted for its downhill skiing in winter. Other nearby facilities include the McHenry Plaza for shopping, an airport just outside McHenry and many dining and recreational facilities in the Deep Creek Lake and McHenry areas.

Quality Design and Affordable Pricing

This is definitely the most exciting aspect of Ski Harbor. No other project provides the combination of location, amenities, quality, convenience, and affordable pricing.

You have your choice of floor plans; anything from two or three level townhouses with three or four bedrooms to garden-type apartments with two bedrooms. And all are of quality, energy-efficient construction—practically maintenance free. Fireplaces, appliances, cable TV and wall-to-wall carpeting all are included.

Ski Harbor is unequalled in terms of value and pleasant living.

*Ski Harbor's
Master Site Plan
Beauty and

ATTENTION: SKI SEASON SPECIAL — Until January 15, 1988, Unit No. 2 of the Ski Harbor Community will be offered for sale with full appliance package (range, refrigerator, disposal, washer/dryer and dishwasher) plus carpet. Compare this unit's value at $116,000 with other lakefront condominium units and we know you'll be pleasantly surprised. This soap-opera actor once launched a No. 1 single

By Toni D'Amato

Every day my neighbors and I gather around the TV to watch "The Bold and the Beautiful" because we're crazy about Ronn Moss, who plays Ridge Forrester. What can you tell us about him? — O.J., San Bernardino, Calif.

Ronn Moss

Moss was raised in Los Angeles and has always been involved with music. While in junior high, he formed a rock 'n' roll band called Pink Rock. Once out of school, he eventually formed another band called Player, which focused on pop-soul music. Player recorded two albums, "Player" and "Larger Zone," and toured with such rock greats as Eric Clapton. In 1978, Player's single "Baby Come Back" soared to No. 1 on the pop-music charts.

When the group disbanded in 1981, Moss began studying acting. He was signed to a two-year contract with ABC, then went to Italy to star in the feature film "Hearts and Armour." He has been with "The Bold and the Beautiful" since it premiered on March 27, 1987.

The actor lives in Hollywood Hills, Calif., and enjoys tennis, skiing, ice skating and bicycle riding.

Is Preston Foster still alive? Can you refresh our memories about the TV series he starred in? — A.G., Denver, Colo.

Foster died on July 14, 1970, at the age of 69. He starred in the adventure series "Waterfront" (1953-56) and "Gunsmoke," a Western that aired in 1961.

We love to listen to our old Nat "King" Cole records. We were wondering if he ever appeared in any motion pictures. — E.D., Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

The artist, who brought us such immortal tunes as "Mona Lisa," is perhaps best known in films for his role as a strolling minstrel in the 1965 classic "Cat Ballou." He also appeared in "Make Believe Ballroom" (1949), "The Blue Gardenia" (1953) and "St. Louis Blues" (1958).

Cinemax is paying tribute to legendary Roy Orbison

By Connie Passalacqua

When Roy Orbison was inducted into the Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame a year ago, Bruce Springsteen spoke the following tribute at the ceremony:

Roy Orbison

"In '75, when I went into the studio to make 'Born to Run,' I wanted to make a record with words like Bob Dylan that sounded like Phil Spector. But most of all I wanted to sing like Roy Orbison. Now everybody knows that no one sings like Roy Orbison."

Springsteen isn't the only musician who's in awe of Orbison's high, sweet voice. The musicians who, along with Springsteen, back up Orbison in this week's "Cinemax Sessions: Roy Orbison and Friends: A Black & White Night" (airing Jan. 3) are also awed Orbison fans. They include Elvis Costello, Jackson Browne, Tom Waits, Bonnie Raitt and Jennifer Warnes.

This "Cinemax Sessions," which was filmed at the Compton Grove in Los Angeles in September, flows seamlessly. Orbison's voice sounds remarkably as it did 30 years ago. On songs like "Crying" and "Only the Lonely," he captures the pathos of a broken love affair better than just about any contemporary singer. For those not well-versed in music history, there's a shock of recognition when Orbison sings the songs he's written but other artists have made into hits, like "Blue Bayou" (Linda Ronstadt in 1977) and "Oh, Pretty Woman" (Van Halen in 1982).

Although the music and star lineup are excellent, the special represents a daring, but failed experiment in production. This is the first "Cinemax Sessions" to be shot on film, and also the first one shot in black and white. Producer Stephanie Bennett and director Tony Mitchell were probably intending to capture the '50s feel of Orbison's music. Unfortunately, the lighting is so off, we just see shadows, the kind you used to fix on your old black and white set. For some reason, Springsteen's face fades in and out.

Springsteen doesn't do TV appearances very often, so it's a frustrating waste for Bruce fans. But Orbison's music is great, despite the muddled visuals.

Flip Wilson guest-stars as the owner of a TV station who hires Sandra (Jackee) to be a weather person on NBC's "227." It airs Saturday, Jan. 2.

John Schneider aims high with his planned CBS series

By Cindy Adams

John Schneider, who starred on the CBS series "Dukes of Hazzard," plans to star in another CBS series next year. "I have my own production company," said Schneider. "We're making a pilot about the Air Force. I'll play a test pilot. Why, specifically, a pilot about a pilot? Aerials are exciting. We're all sick of doing private eyes. And Air Force scenes allow lots of latitude. You can have drama in the sky, not only on the ground." Is he writing it? "Trail's End, my company, hired a writer." Will Schneider keep out of the writer's hair? "I'll try. The title is Shadow Chaser. It's an Indian name." Roger, Kemosabe.

John Schneider

Milton Berle

The Friars honored Milton Berle's new book, "B.S. I Love You." What followed wasn't champagne, but vintage B.S. Henny Youngman. "Milton just had an operation. A charisma bypass." Howard Cosell. "I read 'B.S. I Love You.' It's pure B.S." Joey Adams. "I couldn't put the book down — so I threw it out." Gene Bylows. "I'm here because I have no place else to have dinner." Jackie Mason. "I'm here because you're jealous, vicious people prayed my show would cave in. Only Milton didn't. Milton didn't care." A touching tribute.

Carol Burnett has commissioned Red Skelton to paint her portrait. The man does 36 originals per year at 100 thou apiece. Skelton has just sold a Boy George portrait for a bargain of $81,000. The buyer? Boy George.

Phil Donahue wants Hugh Downs and Wisconsin's Sen. William Proxmire to jaw about hair transplants. Obviously, Strom Thurmond and F. Sinatra aren't enough.

Richard Gere and Debra Winger star as a Naval officer candidate and the local woman who falls in love with him in "An Officer and a Gentleman." The movie airs Sunday, Jan. 3, on NBC.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Actress Kim Zimmer has appeared on several soaps

By Kimberly Redmond

was portrayed by Tommy Lee Jones, from 1971 through 1975.

A couple of weeks ago you wrote that Kim Zimmer had portrayed Nola Dancy on "The Doctors" before she joined "Guiding Light" as Reva Shayne. Didn't Zimmer appear on another soap besides "TD" before she came to "GL"? I say she did, my sister says she didn't. — L.G., Wauwatosa, Wis.

Kim Zimmer

Zimmer appeared on "One Life to Live" on two occasions. She portrayed Bonnie Harmer in 1978 and Echo DeVoy in 1983.

I've been a fan of "One Life to Live" for many years now. Several years ago, I remember that before and after Dorian Lord (Robin Strasser) married Victor Lord she was having an affair with Dr. Mark Tolan. My question is, what is the name of the actor who portrayed Mark Tolan? His face stuck in my mind but his name didn't. — T.A., Perinton, Texas

Tommy Lee Jones

I'm sick and tired of all the grief that my favorite characters go through on "Guiding Light." Not one person on the show is ever happy for very long. Why isn't there any happiness on this soap? It's depressing! — T.C., Galax, Va.

It's true that the "GL" characters have long suffered from an overabundance of grief and strife but now that Pamela Long is back at the helm as head writer, things have been changing somewhat. Long is known for stories with happy endings brought about by "miracles" and such.

(Have a question about soap operas? Write Kimberly Redmond at 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166. Questions cannot be answered personally but those of general interest will be answered in future columns.)

PBS

PBS's "Vaquero: The Forgotten Cowboy" examines the descendants of America's first cowhands — the Mexican-American cowboys, or vaqueros, such as Chanate Gutierrez (above). The show airs Friday, Jan. 8. (Check local listings.)

BEHIND THE SCENES

Howard Hesseman is now at the 'Head of the Class'

By Frank Lovece

Howard Hesseman, who first garnered TV stardom as the sensitive, wacky Johnny Fever on "WKRP in Cincinnati," is less flamboyant than in earlier days, but no less outspoken. As Charlie Moore, world-weary yet worldly teacher of gifted students on ABC's "Head of the Class" (airing Wednesdays), Hesseman plays a social barometer to high-school geniuses whose sense of the world often ends at the theoretical.

Howard Hesseman

"I think that since the show purports to be about education," says the 47-year-old actor, "we have something approaching an obligation to educate as well as entertain. I don't mean personally, but to take some responsibility that these shows tend to be seen as little 22-minute morality plays."

While Hesseman enjoys his current role and appreciates the opportunity it represents, he nonetheless speaks his mind about the shortcomings in his show and in television.

"In TV comedy there's a tendency to play fast and loose," he says. "You take the illusion of moral behavior. On a general basis, TV comedy sacrifices story and character to make the jokes work. On some shows, things of a reprehensible or even illegal nature are pushed under the carpet in order to get a laugh. We did an episode where one of the characters breaks into a computer network to obtain information," he explains. "Somebody says something to the effect of, 'But you can't do that,' and the joke is, 'Sure I can. Look.' The culprit was not reprimanded, which bothers Hesseman. 'In my mind, this seems to be a subtle, but not so subtle, message. It may be subtle, but the message is less than responsible — someone lies or breaks the law under some banner he's waving in order to achieve his ends.'"

Hesseman holds hope for the creation of "Head of the Class." But he also holds no illusions. "People say, 'If you're used to an TV, how do you like this?' I reply, 'I'm an actor. This is what I do. I like to work.'"

HELPING SANTA — The annual Rotary Christmas Project successfully gathered enough food, clothing and toys to supply 72 needy families in the area with some Christmas joy. Rotary members worked for several weeks to sort and put together the items, the majority of which were paid for by Rotary funds aided by donations from area businesses and individuals. All 72 families received clothing and toys; 54 of those also received food. According to project chairman David Bolinger, the "baskets" were tailor-made, based on the size of the family. Some of the toys and clothing were provided through the Rotary's "Angel tree" at Heck's, and several individual Rotary members purchased and donated children's boots or winter coats. The names of needy families were provided by Garrett County Social Services, and in October, those families signed a release saying that they would accept a "basket" and answered questions about the family's needs. Also served by the Rotary Christmas Project were single elderly persons, elderly couples and single parent families. Bolinger said that deliveries were made to every part of the county — Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Gorman, Table Rock — wherever there was a need.

AURORA- EGLON NEWS

To Observe 95th

Former Aurora resident Hazel Hughes is observing her 95th birthday on January 5. Her address is Colonial Gardens Care Center, 563 Colony Park Dr., Tallmadge, Ohio 44278.

Births

Their first child, a daughter, was born December 26 to Henry and Kim Hostetler of Terra Alta. Born in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, she weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces and has been named Kalie Michelle.

Mrs. Hostetler is the former Kimberly Winters, daughter of Neil and Bonnie Winters, Hutton. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Hostetler of Terra Alta. Local great-grandparents are George and Jessie Winters of Eglon and Julia Shaffer of Crellin.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lambert of Aurora announce the birth of their second child and second son on December 24. Born in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, birth weight was seven pounds, 3 ounces. The name chosen is David Matthew and his older brother is Daniel.

Mrs. Lambert, the former Teri Hofstetter, is the granddaughter of John and Lucy Hofstetter, Sebring, Fla., who visited prior to the birth. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Josephine Lambert of Aurora.

Wiles Death

Mabel Ellen Wiles, 77, died December 24 at Hopemont Hospital where she had been a patient for about six weeks.

She was born January 31, 1910, a daughter of the late Raymond and Martha Harsh Hauser of Stemple Ridge.

Surviving is her husband, Charles Luke Wiles, of Buckhannon and two daughters, Sharon (Mrs. Tony) Gillette, Cleveland, and Janet Pratt of Mena, Ark.; four brothers, Wade Hauser, Lester Hauser, and George Hauser of Stemple Ridge and Walter Hauser of Eglon; and two sisters, Loretta Snyder of Eglon and Leah Luzier of Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiles were residents of this area until 30 years ago when they moved to Buckhannon.

The body was taken to Buckhannon where short services were held on Monday morning, December 28, and then brought to the Stemple Ridge Church for 2 p.m. services with the Rev. Frank Shaffer of Buckhannon in charge. Interment was in the Stemple Ridge Cemetery.

A CHILD'S HEARING

Three million children in the United States have some degree of hearing impairment. Because learning to speak centers on the imitation of perceived sound, young children who are hard of hearing have a double handicap. Fortunately, the majority of these children can improve the quality of both their hearing and their speech with hearing aids, speech therapy, and auditory training. Being aware of a child's response to sound from birth can help a parent determine if a child is hard of hearing. From birth to three months of age, a child should be startled by a sharp clap within three to six feet. From three to six months, the child should be turning his eyes or head to search for the source of sound. Failure to do so should prompt a hearing exam.

At ALLEGANY HEARING & SPEECH ASSOCIATES we offer the hearing assist devices so vital to the improvement of sound transmission for the young as well as the young at heart. Let us help you get more out of life by hearing better.

Even if hearing seems to be developing normally, a doctor should check an infant's ears two to three times during the first year.

Farming In Maryland

Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Manure Management Costs Compare To Cost Of Average American Home

A farmer with livestock concentrated in a small area can spend as much for a system to manage manure as the average American family spends on their home.

The volume of animal waste generated by a large farm can equal that of a small town, according to District Conservationist Jim Schlossnagle, of the Soil Conservation Service at Oakland.

But there the similarity ends, he said. In town, the cost of disposing of the waste is divided among those who create it. On the farm, one person, the operator, bears all the cost, unless technical assistance and cost-sharing can be obtained from a public agency.

Today's farmers are facing increasing problems in disposing of animal wastes, and they are finding the solutions costly. Years ago, the farmer's investment was a pitchfork and a manure spreader. Manure was looked on as a farm waste product, and spreading on fields was the easiest way to get rid of it.

The modern intensification of agriculture has in large part changed the farmer's opinion about manure. Most farmers have an increased awareness of the plant food value. The nutrient value of manure can make crops grow better and save some of the costs of commercial fertilizer.

At the same time, an expanding urban population is becoming aware of other effects of animal wastes. Those families who build or buy next to cropland may count the odor of spread manure as a nuisance.

The smell from an unmanaged pile or lagoon of manure can be much worse. Worst of all, some families and communities are learning that poorly stored accumulations of manure or even manure over-applied and carelessly managed on crop fields can pollute surface and well water supplies.

"Part of the problem goes back to our forefathers," said Schlossnagle. "When farming began in this area, the best location for a barn was near a stream. There was no running water in those days, and the farm animals got their drinking water from the stream."

That was not much of a problem when each farmer had a few cows, pigs and chickens, he explained. But now many farms have more than 100 cows, and some have 100,000 or more chickens.

When the farmers turn to SCS engineers, technicians or Cooperative Extension Service county agents for help, they find out the solutions to animal waste problems are not cheap.

Many farmers are turning to a manure management system which combines storage with application. The storage structure can cost anywhere from

Schlossnagle said that on the average, farmers in this area are spending about $6,000 to $20,000 for their storage structures.

The farmers use various methods to get the manure on the land. Most farmers are spreading manure on the surface and disking or plowing it into the soil, he said, while a few are investing in the equipment to inject manure into the soil.

New equipment to apply manure can cost the farmer $20,000 to $30,000 or more. The farmer is faced with a major expense, Schlossnagle said, while most of the benefits will go to others through better water quality.

Lower fertilizer bills are one benefit, Schlossnagle said, but the more expensive systems are so costly that they will not pay for themselves in the farmer's lifetime.

For this reason, cost sharing from the Maryland Department of Agriculture and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is available.

Schlossnagle said that Garrett County farmers have completed approximately 60 animal waste management systems. "This represents a sizable investment," Schlossnagle said. "Thanks to farmers who are doing their jobs, our ground water and streams are cleaner."

Sheep Farmers Should File For Wool Payments

Farmers who have sold any shorn wool or unshorn lambs or mohair in 1987 should turn in their sales receipts to be eligible for incentive payments under the National Wool Act, William F. DeWitt, Garrett County ASCS Committee chairperson, said.

Farmers who have a record of their wool and mohair sales are eligible for incentive payments only if the sales are reported to the ASCS office, and should be turned in by January 31.

DeWitt said the quantity sold does not affect the eligibility. However, sales slips should contain: the month of shearing and date of shearing (if possible), month and date of sale, number of head shorn, pounds of wool (grease basis) or mohair sold, and net proceeds. Sales slips for lambs also must show the live-weight and state that the lambs were unshorn.

He also reminds wool producers that marketing charges must be itemized on the sales documents, other than sales at a farm, ranch, or local shipping point. "If transportation charges are not shown on the sales receipt, producers will be required to furnish this information when they turn in sales receipts and file a payment application."

The ASCS official said transportation charges will be deducted from the sales document even if the producer sells through a wool pool, with or without a manager, or through any other agent. The location for which the net proceeds are computed also must be shown on the sales document.

Shorn wool and mohair payments are based on percentage of each producer's returns from sales. The percentage is the amount required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool and mohair in 1987 up to the support prices of $1.81 a pound for wool and $4.95 per pound for mohair.

U.S. Dairy Product Highlights Reported

The production of dairy products in the United States for the month of October has been reported by the Maryland Department of Agriculture and the National Agricultural Statistics Service, USDA.

Butter production was 90.2 million pounds, eight percent above October last year. Total cheese output excluding cottage cheese during October was 446 million pounds, nine percent above October last year.

Lowfat cottage cheese production was 31.7 million pounds, two percent below October 1986. Canned evaporated and condensed whole milk production at 46.3 million pounds was five percent below October last year.

One and 1/2 cups of ice cream will contribute the same amount of calcium to the diet as one eight-ounce cup of milk. Another tasty way to get your calcium is to use 1/2 cup of ice cream with 1/2 cup milk in a milkshake and you'll have the equivalent of a cup of milk.

Biotechnology Method To Be Tested In Maryland Against Corn Borer

A Hanover-based company, Crop Genetics International, has designed a seed corn expected to produce plants with a natural resistance to the European corn borer, "the largest uncontrolled insect in the largest agricultural crop in America." According to USDA estimates, the corn borer annually costs U.S. farmers $400 million in yield losses and pesticide applications, $1 million in Maryland alone.

Crop Genetics International has contracted with USDA's Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville to jointly conduct an experiment on a one-and-a-half acre plot at the research center, if all regulatory hurdles are cleared, beginning in mid-May. CGI also plans an independent test near Ingleside in Queen Anne's County on the Eastern Shore.

John A. Henry, chief executive officer of CGI, said, "We feel we've got a safe product, and we've gone to great lengths to do it right. We have no complaints about the rigors of the regulatory process." The company has spent $9 million and six years developing and testing its biopesticide, called InCide. Final development costs may total $20 million by 1990.

Since CGI's "inside delivery system" requires only minute amounts of altered bacteria inserted into the seeds, the company predicts its product will cost one-sixth the estimated $30 an acre farmers now spend to control the borer. Henry puts the potential market at more than $50 million annually.

The proposed experiment has drawn praise from several environmental groups for CGI's strict adherence so far to existing guidelines and regulations, although the adequacy of those federal rules is being questioned after some other highly publicized violations of the law.

Last August, Gary Strobel, a plant pathology professor at Montana State University, was reprimanded by the EPA for bypassing the permit procedure and inoculating young elm trees with a genetically altered bacteria that had shown promise against Dutch elm disease. He later revealed he had conducted similar experiments in California, Nebraska, Montana and South Dakota in 1983 and 1984.

Last year, a genetically altered bacteria called Frostban, which was designed to inhibit frost on strawberry plants, was illegally tested in the environment by Advanced Genetic Sciences Inc. of Oakland, Calif., an action that drew a federal fine. A subsequent field test in April — the first authorized outdoor release in the country — was cleared only after an extended court fight with environmentalists and public interest groups.

"The Frostban people went out and did it wrong," Henry said. "I don't want to make the same mistakes."

If it comes about, the CGI test will be the first in Maryland, and one of the first in the United States.

PLANNING CORN MATURITY DATES

Last year's late planted corn suffered severely from the dry conditions. Early planted corn did rather well. This is a good example of what can happen if you use planting dates to control harvest time rather than selecting corn for days to maturity to control harvesting time. It is a better management practice to select the time slot when you want to plant corn, then select several varieties of corn with the maturity days to control harvesting time and planting time.

CORN VARIETY PERFORMANCE RESULTS

I now have available the results of the University of Maryland corn variety performance results. Although the drought affected the yield the results still give you an idea of different variety performance. Also it is interesting to see which varieties did best under drought conditions. Copies are available upon request from my office.

USING MANURE IN YOUR FERTILIZER PLANS

I can now provide you with an excellent manure application plan. First you will need to have your manure analyzed for nutrient content — plus a soil test on the fields where the manure will be applied. For the next two years the manure analysis is provided free of charge if you pay for one soil test. Our latest computer program will coordinate the manure nutrient values with the soil nutrient and the nutrients needed by a particular crop. I can provide you with the following information: 1) manure application rate based on plant nutrient requirements; 2) additional fertilizer nutrients required; 3) estimated economic value of the fertilizer nutrients in the manure. This information also takes into consideration how you handle, store and apply the manure. I now have the manure and soil testing kits and containers at the office.

PLANS ON SOLAR CALF HUTCHES

Many of you may not know that the University of Maryland has hundreds of building plans available free of charge. Plans are available on everything from feeding bunks to building homes. I just received plans on the "Solar Individual and Group Calf Hutches" that are becoming popular.

Proper Dry Cow Management Minimizes Mastitis

By Ron Sturm, D.V.M., Technical Services Veterinarian, The Upjohn Company

Treat cows appropriately before and during their dry periods and they will yield more and higher quality milk with greater efficiency and less disease. Neglect your dry cows and herd production will lag, disease incidence will rise and milk profits will fall.

A properly treated dry cow can produce up to 1,500 pounds more milk in her next lactation. In addition, most dairy processors pay premiums for milk with the low somatic cell counts associated with essentially mastitis-free cows.

Proper dry cow management can help prevent new mastitis infections and potentially eliminate existing infections that have not become clinical cases.

Prepare for Dry Off In Advance

Carefully observe your cow about two months before you expect to dry her off. She should be in optimum condition before the dry period and her weight should remain stable.

Study the cow's overall body condition and review her rations. If she's too thin, increase protein and energy intake levels. If she's overweight, reduce feed intake until she reaches a more optimum condition.

At dry off, change the cow's feed to a ration higher in fiber and lower in energy. This helps prevent her from becoming over-conditioned. A gain of one to one-and-a-half pounds per day, or 100 pounds over a 60-day dry period, is acceptable.

For best results, work closely with your veterinarian and local feed representative to develop properly fortified rations for your dry cows.

Follow Proper Dry Off Procedures

When the cow produces less than 35 pounds of milk per day, stop milking her immediately.

At the last milking, completely milk out each quarter of the udder. Then prepare to treat each quarter with an approved, commercially prepared dry cow udder infusion product, such as Biodry or Albady Plus.

All quarters of all cows should be treated, even if there is no evidence of mastitis. Selective treatment has been shown to result in missing an individual cow or multiple quarters with a new infection or subclinical mastitis not outwardly obvious to the producer.

Studies by The Upjohn Company indicate that 90 percent of mastitis infections are susceptible to novobiocin, the antibiotic contained in the dry cow product Biodry. Milk from cows treated with Biodry does not need to be discarded if the product is administered at least 30 days before calving.

The antibiotic combination of novobiocin and penicillin in Albady Plus is also an effective dry cow treatment, but milk produced in the first 72 hours following calving must be discarded.

Before infusing any dry cow antibiotic product, properly prepare the udder by thoroughly washing the teats, especially the teat ends, with a warm solution of antiseptic and clean water. Be sure to wash only with a single-service towel. Completely dry the teats with a single-service towel.

Treat each teat and each quarter separately.

First scrub the teat end with the alcohol pad provided with the dry cow product. Remove the cap from the syringe and carefully insert the tip of the syringe into the teat end. Gently expel the entire contents of a syringe into each quarter.

After each quarter has been treated, massage it for about 30 seconds. This can help distribute the product more evenly throughout the quarter.

Finally, dip all teats in a commercially prepared, approved teat dip solution.

Manage Cows After Dry Off

Following treatment, remove the dry cow from the milking string to a clean, dry pasture or lot large enough to encourage exercise.

The first few days of the dry period are critical. The udder can become more susceptible to entry of mastitis-causing organisms because each teat is no longer cleaned and dipped daily.

At dry off, treat all quarters of the udder with an approved dry cow antibiotic product.

Closely monitor the condition of the udder for a week or two after dry cow treatment. Watch closely for unusual swelling or irritation. If you observe abnormal udder conditions, consult your veterinarian as soon as possible.

Proper nutrition, total treatment of all four quarters with an effective dry cow antibiotic product and proper management techniques should keep your cow healthy during the dry period. The result: she should freshen with less disease and an enhanced ability to produce additional pounds of higher quality milk for a more profitable lactation.

THE FIRST THIRTY DAYS!

If you've ever considered offering your home for sale privately, by yourself, have you also considered the length of time you are willing to continue that method of sale?

Obviously, if your home sells in the first thirty days you won't need to answer that question. In fact, the first thirty days will be the easy part. You'll get plenty of calls from prospective buyers, you'll keep the house sparkling during that time, and you'll probably feel quite enthusiastic, anticipating the rapid sale of your home. But how long are you willing to maintain this high level of activity?

It is extremely important that you locate a buyer during this critical time of high activity. Why? Because shortly after thirty days has elapsed, all that activity is likely to wane. Then what? Is that when you call upon your favorite real estate agent?

Consider making the most of that critical first thirty days your home is on the market. By trying it yourself, then passing it on to a real estate company, your house is no longer "fresh" inventory on the shelf. By selecting a real estate company up front, the sale of your home may be hastened dramatically. During that first thirty-day frenzy of activity, your agent can use valuable negotiating skills to turn prospects into buyers while they're still interested in your home. It's a case of either calling now or being prepared to wait longer later on.

If you'd like to purchase a home, but feel out-of-touch with what's happening in real estate, give us a call today at 387-5303, or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Pvt. Michelle A. Edgar, daughter of John O. and Elizabeth Edgar, Star Rt. No. 1, Oakland, recently completed U.S. Army basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., and advanced individual training at San Antonio, Tex. During basic training, the trainees received instructions in first aid, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy and justice, Army history and traditions.

Pvt. Edgar was awarded badges for grenade and rifle sharp-shooting.

After her graduation from basic training, she went to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, for Advanced Individual Training (AIT) in the medical laboratory field.

During this schooling, the students studied chemistry, micro biology, hematology and blood banking. Pvt. Edgar was graduated from this course on Dec. 18, with an average of 91%. She will report for duty at William Beaumont Army Medical Center, El Paso, Tex., on Jan. 3, 1988.

Pvt. Edgar is a 1987 graduate of Southern High School.

Byron Bill Boosts Opportunities For Women In Military Service

Chairman Beverly B. Byron (D-Md.) of the House Armed Services Subcommittee on Personnel has introduced a bill to expand the job opportunities for women in the military.

Byron acknowledged that the bill "opens a potential political hornet's nest" because it would put women into positions where some would almost certainly be killed in the event of war.

"I'm certain the American public supports the idea of expanding job opportunities for women in uniform," Byron said, "but will that support evaporate if a reconnaissance plane with a female pilot is shot down? A point that is often forgotten, however, is that our policy on women — going back to World War II — has never been to 'protect' women from the threat of combat. That's a myth."

Byron pointed out that just two months ago the female copilot of a WC-135 weather reconnaissance plane was temporarily blinded by a laser beam aimed at her eyes from a Soviet vessel.

The Byron bill mandates a two-year test program, "giving us the opportunity to air all the potential pitfalls and to develop a firm consensus — among the public and in Congress — on the role of military women."

The bill directs each service to open up specific and often controversial job areas to women.

•Women in the Army would be assigned to combat support units, including the units that serve just behind the front lines and that are subject to fire in any war; (some combat support units are now open to women; this would open all such units).

•Women in the Navy would be assigned to the crews of EP-3 aircraft, which are unarmed reconnaissance planes, and to combat support vessels, such as underway replenishment ships, which carry supplies to warships on deployment and are armed for self-defense.

•Women in the Air Force would be assigned to crews of all categories of non-combat aircraft — training, transportation, and reconnaissance, including the SR-71 Blackbird spy plane.

•Women in the Marine Corps would be assigned to the Marine Security Guard Battalion, which provides guards for 140 American diplomatic missions abroad. The guards have been subject to terrorist attack in a half dozen countries in recent years, including Lebanon, El Salvador, Iran, Portugal and Pakistan.

None of the assignments involve combat positions, but many of them would take women into locations that subject them to fire in wartime — or even peacetime, in the case of the Marine security guards.

Byron said, "I think it's essential that we open more job opportunities for women in uniform. And I think it's essential that we confront the potential for women to be killed or captured in the line of duty."

She said, "Most Americans seem to believe we have a tradition of protecting women from dangerous military assignments. That is false. The tradition was simply to confine women to traditional jobs — primarily secretary and nurse. But as anyone who has ever watched even one episode of M.A.S.H. knows, nurses served very close to the front and were subject to enemy fire."

"With this bill, I hope we will simultaneously address the two key issues — first, expanding job opportunities for women in uniform, and second, resolving the political pitfalls of expanding those job opportunities," Byron said.

The legislation grew out of hearings held by Byron's Subcommittee on Military Personnel and Compensation into sexual harassment, job discrimination, and the utilization of women by the services.

"It is essential," Byron said, "that women in uniform be given the same opportunities for promotion and career advancement as their male counterparts. Otherwise, we will be undermining our own efforts to recruit young women with career potential and to retain the very women we most want to keep in uniform."

She said, "At the outset of our hearings, I had serious concerns about how much further the military should move in utilizing women. I still have concerns — but after listening to testimony from many specialists, I believe we need to take a closer look. After all, if you don't experiment, how can you be certain what the real pitfalls of a policy are — or if the presumed pitfalls are purely imaginative."

"One of the surprising things we learned in our hearings is that a number of our NATO allies have gone further in using women than the United States. For example, in Belgium, Norway and the Netherlands, virtually all military jobs are open to women. It is ironic that one Dutch woman recently trained as a combat pilot in an American program even though American women are barred from such training."

Byron noted that the pool of recruitable youth is declining as the baby boom generation is replaced by the birth dearth generation. "While the decline in the pool hasn't yet posed any problems for recruiting, it is one more reason for expanding the utilization of women in the military," Byron said.

Currently, women comprise 12 percent of the Air Force, 10 percent of the Army and eight percent of the Navy and Marine Corps. "We need to make sure they are treated equally," Byron said.

Butler Residence Chosen Winner In Decorating Contest

The residence of Duane Butler, Colonial Drive, was chosen this year's first prize winner in the sixth annual residential outdoor Christmas lighting contest, sponsored by the Accident Mayor and Town Council. The judging occurred on December 21.

In second place was the home of David Kehoe, Main Street Ext. The home of Steve Fratz on U.S. 219 North took third place.

The prize for the commercial category was awarded to the Naumann Medical Building on Cemetery Road.

Other homes receiving honorable mention were those of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn, Main Street; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Georg, Accident-Bittinger Road. Honorable mention in the commercial category was awarded to the Accident Floral Shop on Main Street.

Decorated wooden plaques were placed on the lawns of the winners. In the residential category, the first-place winners received $25; second place, $15; and third place, $10. Winner in the commercial category received $20.

Serving as judges this year were William Carlson, Grace Glass and Jamie Goehring. Alice Smith provided assistance to the town in coordinating the contest.

MARYLAND STATE DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT

HAZARDOUS AND SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION

Public Hearing on an Application for a State Discharge Permit

ISSUE DATE: December 31, 1987

The Hazardous and Solid Waste Management Administration (HSWMA) has made a tentative determination on an application for a State Discharge Permit listed below and has scheduled a public hearing as indicated. Persons who wish to present information about this tentative determination may speak at the hearing and/or submit a written statement to HSWMA no later than five (5) days following the hearing. All requests will be considered.

Any person who feels adversely affected by the following tentative determination may wish to contest the determination may request that contested issues be adjudicated. Each request must be in writing to the address given below, must contain the name, address, telephone number of the requesting person, the specific rights, duties or privileges of the individual which are adversely affected by the tentative decision, the name of the other party whom the requester represents, the issues presented for adjudication, and must be received by HSWMA within fifteen (15) days immediately following the public hearing. The Secretary for the Department of the Environment will decide whether a request presents valid issues for adjudication, notify all parties of his decision, and may schedule a pre-hearing conference.

Significantly altered determinations will initiate further opportunity for adjudication.

All information concerning permit applications and tentative determinations is on file at the Department of the Environment (201 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201) and may be inspected Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Facilities for obtaining copies at a reasonable cost will be available.

Written requests for information or adjudication may be addressed to Mr. Ronald Nelson, Director, Hazardous and Solid Waste Management Administration for Industrial Discharge Permits. Telephone requests should be made to Ms. Gail Castleman at (301) 225-5649.

The Department will provide an interpreter for the deaf or hearing impaired persons provided that a timely request is made.

A public hearing on the following tentative decision will be held:

Friday, February 5, 1988

Garrett County Courthouse
Room 202
313 East Alder Street
Oakland, Maryland 21550
Garrett County

Discharge Permit Renewal Application No. 88 DP-1385 (NPDES No. MD0054704). The Town of Grantsville, Maryland, is applying for a permit to discharge effluent from a water treatment plant on Golf Course Road. The discharge consists of 34,000 gallons per week of filter backwash which flows intermittently to Bradley Run (Basin code 05.02.02.02, Stream Class III).

Tentative Decision: Reissue Permit. Monitoring of this outfall for total suspended solids and total aluminum shall be required without limitations. This monitoring is adequate to protect the quality of Bradley Run.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on January 7, 1988 at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Grand Jury Room (Third Floor, Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the following docketed cases:

- 1) Docket VR 180, an application made by Mr. William Braun for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the side yard setback requirement for residences. Specifically, Mr. Braun is requesting a Variance to allow construction of an addition to his residence which would extend to within 13 ft. of his side line instead of the required 8 ft. The property is located on U.S. Rt. 219 in Thayerville (Zoned TC).
- 2) Docket VR 181, an application made by Mr. Harold Greedy for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the restriction that a non-conforming use may not be enlarged or extended after six years of the date the use of land or structure became non-conforming. Specifically, Mr. Greedy is requesting the Variance to allow the construction of another storage building on his property located on U.S. 219 on Hoop Pole Hill (Zoned LR).
- 3) Docket SE 173, an application made by Mr. Jacob Langworthy for a Special Exception permit to allow the replacement of a mobile home with a new and larger mobile home on his property located off Lake Shore Drive in the Sloan Terrace Subdivision (Zoned LR).
